DeGaulle's Policies Face Showdown

ALGIERS (AP) — Crowds shouting "De Gaulle to the stake" swirled through Algiers Saturday night protesting the firing of paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu by President Charles de Gaulle.

There were wild shouts of "Massu, Massu" for the colorful general who was summarily removed from his command of the Algiers area because of his opposition to De Gaulle's self - determination policy for Algeria.

Riot police in steel helmets—obviously under orders not to provoke violence in this tense North African capital—quietly but firmly split the crowd at intersections, shunting demonstrators down side streets.

There was no report of violence, but the mood of the crowd grew increasingly angry. The center of the city was an ear-splitting bedlam. Automobile drivers honked their horns in the five-beat slogan "Algeria Francaise" (Algeria is French.)

The mood in Algiers was for a showdown between French settlers who want Algeria to remain part of France and De Gaulle, who insists that eventually Algeria must be allowed to decide its own destiny.

The demonstration for Massu, a hero of Algeria's one million Frenchmen, began when a noisy crowd of students paraded down the crowded Rue Michelet.

Adults swung into the march un-

SO. AFRICAN MINERS TRAPPED: Rescue workers clear away debris in the main ventilating house at the mine at Coalbrook, South Africa after two rockslides sealed off 440 miners and trapped them 600 feet below ground. (NEA Radiotelephoto)

Hopes For 440 Fade; Rescue Workers Called Out Of Mine

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP) — Rescue workers Saturday night were pulled out of a coal mine where 440 men have been trapped for two days by a giant rock fall.

There were reports that another rock slide had occurred deep in the mine.

Hopes for reaching the entombed men dwindled further with the announcement that rescue teams were being withdrawn. No sound has been heard from them since they were cut off.

Mine officials said the rescue crews were pulled out because conditions underground had deteriorated. Workers in the smashed tunnels earlier reported that new rock slides, gas pockets and rising water levels were threatening rescue operations.

A statement by the chairman and board of directors of the Clydesdale colliery said the rescue teams will "remain at the mine property pending results of further underground inspection."

A high-speed drill was being rushed here to sink an air and food shaft to the entombed miners.

Some air already was getting through to the 434 African and six white miners, raising hope for survival at least for any who escaped the crush of rocks 600 feet down in the Clydesdale north colliery.

Hopes rose Saturday morning with the rescue of 30 pit ponies trapped between the first rockfall that entombed the miners and a second rockfall Friday.

The ponies were in an area where deadly coal gas was believed to be concentrated. Rescuers believe that if the ponies could live in that section then there was hope for the men. Another 45 horses are caught in the same section where the miners were trapped.

Rescuers believe the miners could survive on horse meat and seeping water if necessary.

Family Of Eight Found Dead From Carbon-Monoxide

MARION, Ind. (AP)—A family of eight was found dead in their home here Saturday from carbon monoxide gas forced into the house by a stopped-up flue.

The tragedy was discovered by a bread man, when he went to the Franklin Copp home to make his usual Saturday morning collection.

Dead are Copp, 38; his wife, Colleen, 30, and their children, James, 12; Jackie, 10; Jerry, 8; Mary, 5; Herbetta, 4, and Trella, 3.

Dr. Henry Alderfer, Grant County coroner, ruled death was caused by asphyxiation. He said firemen found a flue from a gas heater clogged with carbon, indicating it had not been cleaned for years.

Norman McFarren, a bread delivery driver, said he opened the door when nobody answered his knock and saw one of the children sprawled in front of the gas heater in the living room. He called police who found the other bodies.

The father was on a couch in the living room, and the mother and five other children were found in bedrooms.

TEACH ILLINOIS CHILDREN GUN SAFETY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — About 2,200 Illinois children have received instruction in gun safety, Illinois Conservation Director Glen Palmer said Saturday in commenting on seven hunting deaths during 1959.

"The man behind the gun makes the mistake," Palmer said, "and the only way we can prevent the mistake is through education."

In 11 months, 300 persons have been trained as hunter-safety instructors and passed their training on to the children.

Palmer said six of the seven 1959 victims were under 16 years of age.

Florida Shivers As Cold Covers Most Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frost or freezing weather prevailed in Florida for the third straight day Saturday, except for the southeastern portion and the Keys, while most of the nation also shivered from the Rockies eastward.

Midday readings Saturday dipped below zero in the eastern Dakotas, while the teens or lower were recorded as far south as Missouri and Kansas.

The freezing line extended from central Texas eastward into Georgia and northeastward into southern Maine. Temperatures in the 20s and 30s were common in the Rocky Mountain states, while the 40s and 50s were reported near the West Coast.

The crop-killing chill in Florida heavily damaged vegetables, but the citrus was not harmed. Early morning frosts cleared the beaches as low readings were mostly in the 30s.

Democrats Hit GOP At Dinner Igniting 1960 Campaign Fuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — A phalanx of Democratic presidential possibilities blasted away at the Eisenhower administration, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the GOP in general Saturday night, officially igniting the 1960 campaign fuse.

Harry S. Truman pitched in, too. The former president accused the present administration of "indecision and neglect" of a number of "crucial problems and issues" — space and defense among them.

That was pretty mild for Truman, and for some of the other orators — seven top Democrats who are available in one degree or another for the presidential nomination: Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Stuart Symington of Missouri and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, plus a trio of governors—Edmund G. Brown of California, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

The occasion was a $100-a-plate dinner which drew some 2,500 of the party faithful from all over the country to kick off the campaign and kick around the Republicans.

Nixon was a prime target, since he stands out as the man the Democrats almost certainly will be running against in November.

The Democrats accordingly accused him of such things as quackery, stalling, unswerving loyalty to reactionary principles.

The party hopefuls were bearing down, too, on the usual theme that the Democrats can and will win in November. But none of them, from what Humphrey called the unabashed to the announced candidates, chose to lay down in prepared remarks a personal platform as much as to slug away at the GOP, Nixon and to a lesser extent President Eisenhower personally.

Kennedy said the administration set "a collision course toward war" and has pursed tired policies through "eight years of inaction and reaction." Peace and prosperity actually is a myth, he said, in an administration which has substituted "pageants for policy in world affairs."

Humphrey chipped in that "the American people do not like slickness, or slickers." Nixon, he said, can't duck responsibility for an erosion of national power and prestige in the last seven years, a slowdown in national growth, stagnation in national morality, and character.

Humphrey and Kennedy were the two out-in-the-open candidates for the Democratic nomination on hand at the dinner. By the spin of a wheel, the Minnesota senator was first speaker.

In a backhanded slap at Eisenhower, Symington told his listeners that for the first time in eight years the Democrats will have a chance to run against an honest-to-goodness Republican.

Report Mrs. Frank Is Recovering After Surgery

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Mrs. Julian A. Frank, whose husband died in mysterious circumstances in an airliner crash Jan. 6, was reported in satisfactory condition here Saturday following surgery for a miscarriage.

Mrs. Frank, pretty 32-year-old former model, suffered a miscarriage on a New York-to-Florida train Friday. She was taken from the train and hospitalized.

A doctor at Baker Memorial Hospital, a small private infirmary here, said the surgery "was normal procedure following a miscarriage." He said "she tolerated the operation well and her condition is satisfactory." He did not say how long she would be hospitalized.

Prior to the operation, William S. Hope, an attorney for the hospital, said Mrs. Frank was "an extremely ill young woman. Mrs. Frank is very distraught over the loss of her baby. She feels she is being oppressed."

Her late husband is suspected of carrying a suicide bomb on a National Air Lines plane that crashed near Bolivia, N. C., killing all 34 aboard. Mrs. Frank has said she has faith in her husband's innocence.

Frank was revealed to have had nearly a million dollars in life insurance. Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) said reports by Civil Aeronautics Board investigators had led him to believe the suicide-bomb story.

In Washington Oscar Bakke, chief of the CAB safety section said that if an explosion occurred on the plane it was "not very large."

Bakke said this did not rule out the possibility that the crash was caused by a suicide bomb but added, "there are a good many more facts to be coordinated before any decision can be reached."

Envoy Returns Concerned About Cuban Relations

Bonsal, summoned home for consultations in the wake of new anti-American outbursts by Prime Minister Fidel Castro, said he has had "no intimation at all" of any Cuban desire for conciliation of differences.

"It is hard to tell what his—Castro's — objectives might be in his stepped-up attacks on us," Bonsal remarked.

He said he had no idea of how long he will be in Washington but that he hopes to go back to Cuba.

Bonsal said in response to questions by newsmen that there still is a warm feeling for Americans in Havana.

Asked what Castro's objectives might be in attacking the United States, Bonsal said he would rather let Castro speak for himself on the objectives. Asked what the United States might do, he said he had come to Washington for consultations and presumably to evolve a plan.

In response to other questions Bonsal said he had no theories about why he was not jeered at the airport on leaving Havana Saturday morning, as was Spanish Ambassador Juan Pablo Lojendio on Friday. Lojendio was expelled by the Cuban government after an altercation with Castro in a Havana television studio.

Bonsal said the two cases are quite different.

Finch Murder Trial Enters 4th Week Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The lurid Finch murder trial enters its fourth week Monday on this legal wrangle:

Should Dr. R. Bernard Finch's preliminary hearing transcript be admitted to evidence?

The defense says no, claiming that Finch's young mistress and co-defendant was trapped into testifying at the hearing—without prosecution warning that she could incriminate herself.

The prosecution says red-haired Carole Tregoff, 23, was arrested immediately after the hearing because of discrepancies in her testimony.

The 42-year-old surgeon and his pretty paramour are accused of murdering his wife, Barbara Jean, 36, to prevent her from winning a large divorce settlement.

The statuesque brunette socialite had sued the wealthy doctor for divorce last May, charging he tried to strangle her.

Finch and Miss Tregoff drove on July 18 to Los Angeles from what the prosecution describes as love nest in Las Vegas, Nev.

They hid at the Finch estate in suburban West Covina. When Mrs. Finch returned shortly before midnight, Finch beat and then shot her. Mrs. Finch's battered body—a bullet hole in the back—was found sprawled on the dew-covered lawn a few yards from the home of Finch's parents, who live next door.

Cross-examination by the defense has suggested its contention to save the socialist surgeon and his girl friend from jail or the gas chamber will be:

Finch and Miss Tregoff did drive to the fatal rendezvous—but they wanted merely to settle divorce matters, not kill the doctor's estranged wife.

Mrs. Finch pulled a gun. There was a struggle. During the melee, Finch accidentally shot his wife in the back.

SAY SPACE IS VISION OF MULTI-COLORED BRIGHTNESS

LONDON (AP)—Outer space is a dazzling vision of multi-colored brightness, not a black void, a Moscow radio science commentator reports. He says this was learned from the Soviet Sputniks and adds:

"It is very bright and colored like a rainbow because interplanetary gas shines with a multi-colored light, while thousands of millions of stars shine through it, forming almost solid looking pinky gold or dazzling white shapes."

Two Scientists Descend 37,800 Feet In Pacific

Deeper Than Any Man Has Gone Before

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Navy scientists descended in a bathyscaph Saturday into the deepest hole in the ocean, more than seven miles down in the chill and dark bottom of the Pacific off the island of Guam.

The Navy said that Jacques Piccard, of the famous Swiss scientific family, and Navy Lt. Don Walsh had given their first report of what it was like to sit for half an hour 37,800 feet down in the Marianas Trench, deeper than any man has gone before.

The Navy relayed to newsmen here the following description, based on an early report from the two men after the bathyscaph Trieste had surfaced 210 miles southwest of Guam shortly after noon.

"It was very cold at the bottom. Both were wet when they came out of the Trieste and their teeth were chattering. Navy experts said they did not take this to mean the craft leaked.

"They related that they had spent approximately one-half hour on the bottom and could see living and moving objects at 37,800 feet. The bottom was very soft and when they landed they stirred up silt and what they termed 'dust.' The lights were turned on as soon as the bottom was calm but it was a few minutes before they could see anything.

"They started down at 4:22 p.m.

Stratton Demands Daley Clean Up Chicago's Mess - 'Or Else'

CHICAGO (AP) — A vexed Gov. William G. Stratton shouted a demand Saturday that Mayor Richard J. Daley "clean up the sordid mess in the city — the police burglary scandal."

The governor pounded his desk at a specially-called news conference and declared, "Daley is going to cooperate — or else." The chief executive declined to explain what he meant by "or else." But, he added:

"I have full authority to protect the life and property of the people of this state and I intend to use it if he (Daley) continues to defy us."

At another news conference held one half hour after the governor's —and called by the democratic mayor — Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor resigned from his $22,500-a-year post to return to the rank of captain.

The election year scandal in the Police Department has brought the suspension of 15 police officers accused of bribery, burglary, robbery and other offenses.

Stratton, the state's Republican leader, said the Chicago police scandal was the "culmination of many scandals. People are sick and tired of Daley's defiance of the people, the officials and his outbursts against the governor of this state."

Stratton said Daley slandered him Friday when the mayor indicated that Stratton was concealing the truth about the Orville Hodge scandal. The governor added:

"I am outraged and I am astounded and I felt I could not leave the city without taking notice of Mayor Daley's statement of Friday night. Let me say first: That Hodge was an elected official of the state; secondly. That he is serving a 15-year prison sentence, and every penny stolen has been recovered by the state."

Mayor Daley referred to the governor's threat to enter the police scandal probe, if Daley fails to pursue it, as "cheap politics."

"Nobody from Morris, Ill., (Stratton's home town) is coming into Chicago to tell the people now to run the city of Chicago," Daley stated. "The people of Chicago have given him an answer when he came into Chicago before."

At Stratton's news conference, the governor suggested that Daley resign as chairman of the Democratic Party in Cook County.

"A thief is a thief whether he is a Democrat or a Republican," Stratton declared. "It's high time that Daley forgot politics and devoted a little time to cleaning up the sordid mess in this city."

"I don't want Daley laughing at the state's attorney or slandering the governor," Stratton continued. "I want this thing cleaned up. It is long overdue. I'm not going to tolerate the mayor's attitude and the people won't tolerate it."

O'Connor Quits Under Fire As Police Commissioner

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's biggest police scandal Saturday brought resignation of the police commissioner as Illinois' top Republican and Democratic officials thundered angrily at each other.

Resignation of 58-year-old Timothy J. O'Connor from his $22,500-a-year post to return to captain's rank was announced at a news conference by Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The election-year crisis has brought suspension of 17 police officers accused of burglary, bribery, robbery or pilfering.

The scandal boiled up shortly after selection of state and Cook County candidates for the Democratic April 12 primaries by Daley's organization.

A grand jury investigation of the police charges is being guided by Daley's political arch enemy, Republican State's Atty. Benjamin S. Adamowski. It has been accompanied by a drumfire of public statements by Daley, Adamowski and other officials.

Daley announced that O'Connor, who drops in salary grade from $22,500 to $8,832 a year as a captain after 10 years as top police official, will be succeeded on an acting basis by Kyran Phelan, deputy police commissioner.

The new police commissioner, Daley said, will be headed by a citizens' committee headed by Dean O. W. Wilson of the criminology division, University of California.

Adamowski said Saturday he has named Harold Smith, a Chicago lawyer, as the first of several assistants to help with prosecutions arising from a grand jury investigation of the Chicago police department.

The panel which has heard accusations of criminal activities against at least 15 Chicago policemen has not yet returned any in-

BRITAIN UNVEILS NEW JET AIRLINER

LONDON (AP) — Britain has taken the wraps off a new jet airliner that spokesmen say is capable of landing itself.

The swept-wing De Havilland 121 is slated to fly for the first time late next year.

The announcement said it will be equipped with an automatic pilot device that will control the angle of descent right down to the ground, execute the automatic levelling and touch down.

Zayas, Editor Who Fled To U. S. From Cuba Tells Of Communist Beliefs Of Castro

Editor's Note—Last Wednesday editor Jorge Zayas fled from Cuba, fearing arrest because of the outspoken, often anti-Castro, stand he had taken in his newspaper Avance. In the following article, first of several he is writing for the Miami Herald, Zayas tells of his feelings about Cuba today.

By JORGE ZAYAS

Copyright 1960 by the Miami Herald Publishing Co.; distributed by The Associated Press

MIAMI (AP) — I helped Fidel Castro get into power because I thought he was good for Cuba. I was wrong.

Now I must speak out in hopes of helping my country rid itself of him. It's not that I am a martyr but because:

As a Catholic, I am opposed to communism.

As an editor, I cannot conceive of true democracy without freedom of the press.

As a descendant of Cuban patriots—my grand uncle Alfredo Zayas was president of Cuba from 1922 to 1926 and another grand uncle, Gen. Juan Bruno Zayas, died on the battlefield fighting for Cuban independence—I can not disgrace their memory.

But let me tell my story from the beginning . . . of my hopes which rose so high when the Batista dictatorship was overthrown and those same hopes which I now see shattered by the Communist beliefs of Castro.

When the Castro forces began to make a real fight against Batista, my newspaper worked closely with the 26th of July Movement. We were the only newspaper which cooperated by refusing to publish in the protest strike called against the Batista government.

Later my newspaper was the only one of the Havana dailies to send correspondents to the Castro rebel camps in the hills. It didn't do us any good, however, because about that time Batista clamped down censorship.

When the Castro forces were victorious on Jan. 1, 1959, I was elated. It was, I believed, a glorious day for Cuba. On that occasion, I formally took over as editor of our newspaper from my mother.

I had not wanted to be editor previously because I felt I could never do justice to the position with Batista stifling my voice.

When it became more and more apparent that Castro was carrying my country toward a communistic dictatorship, I began to protest editorially. Last November, at a journalistic seminar in New York, I was very critical.

Castro didn't like it. When I returned, I was detained for more than an hour at the Havana Airport while his agents cross-examined me.

It quickly became obvious that he was trying to scare me.

I knew then my days were numbered and I had better start planning for a quick getaway.

Turska Asks To Discuss Spears Case With FBI

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — William A. Turska, Phoenix naturopath, voluntarily asked to talk to the FBI Saturday about the Robert Vernon Spears case, it was learned.

An authoritative source said FBI agents were unable to locate Turska at his New River home, about 40 miles north of Phoenix, Saturday morning.

About five hours later, Turska telephoned the FBI office and asked to talk to federal investigators, the source said. Turska arrived at the office shortly thereafter and was still closeted with investigators Saturday night.

Spears, a portly Dallas naturopath once believed killed in the Nov. 16 crash of an airliner into the Gulf of Mexico, was arrested in Phoenix Wednesday. He had been living with Turska since Nov. 20.

Both Spears and Turska have been questioned extensively since Spears' arrest on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen car. He is held under $35,000 bond.

It was not known whether Spears was questioned Saturday. The FBI office was locked and agents contacted by telephone declined comment.

The FBI is investigating the possibility that Spears planted a bomb on the plane that plunged into the Gulf. He insured himself for $100,000 a few months before the tragedy in which 42 persons were killed.

In Dallas, Mrs. Spears has said her husband denied to her he placed a bomb on the plane, but said he told her that an old buddy and fellow ex-convict, William Allen Taylor of Tampa, Fla., had taken Spears' place on the plane.

Fahnestock Named As Heart Chairman

The Morgan County Heart committee has named Don Fahnestock as Jacksonville Community Heart Chairman of the 1960 Heart Fund drive. Mr. Fahnestock is associated with the Williamson Funeral Home.

DON FAHNESTOCK

Ralph Heiss, president of the local Heart Committee, made this appointment as a further step in organizing the annual Heart Fund campaign which will be carried on here, as well as throughout the nation, during the month of February.

In accepting this appointment Mr. Fahnestock said, "only through continuation and expansion of research can heart disease be prevented and controlled Research is the association's primary objective. With the support of your Heart Fund, medical science has made dramatic progress in saving and prolonging the lives of thousands of heart victims.

"Research has provided the knowledge needed to prevent rheumatic fever, to control much of the high blood pressure, to repair damaged heart valves and to correct congenital defects through heart surgery, to develop heart-lung machines, and to perfect drugs which retard blood clotting and reduce recurrence of heart attack. These are just a few of the major advances achieved with your support.

"The Heart Fund gifts support programs to bring the latest research findings to your doctor through medical journals, scientific meetings and other channels," he continued. "Your Heart Association brings you and your family medically - approved information needed to safeguard all hearts."

Mr. Fahnestock is a member of the Jacksonville Rotary Club, serving that organization as treasurer and on the board of directors. He was sent as a representative of the Jacksonville Rotary Club, to the International Rotary Convention, held in New York City, during the past summer.

Rubinoff And His Violin Booked For Jerseyville Feb. 15

JERSEYVILLE—The Jerseyville Lion's Club is sponsoring a concert by the internationally famed artist, Dave Rubinoff, and his noted Stradivarius violin, to be given Feb. 15 at the Jersey Community High School gymnasium.

In making the announcement of this musical highlight for the community, Claude Davis, president of the Lions Club stated that the artist is being brought to Jerseyville for the benefit of the youngsters. Rubinoff believes that "The richest child is poor without musical knowledge" so he plays free concerts for the school children in the morning.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets for the evening concert which begins at 8:15 p.m. go to the support of the Lions' Playground in Jerseyville. Tickets are being sold by members of the Lions' Club and at the Kirby Drug Store.

Greene County Cancer Society Helps In Study

WHITE HALL— Mrs. Joseph McPherson, County Research Chairman, has announced that volunteer workers for the Greene County Chapter of the American Cancer Society have completed their initial phase of the work in nationwide Cancer Prevention Study Project.

The quota for Greene County was 90 families, and 177 families are now enrolled which is a gratifying response. Research workers are Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Lee Hartline, Rev. Ruth Nicklin, Mrs. Hal Nevius and Mrs. Glenn Waddell, White Hall; Mrs. W. H. Wolfe, Mrs. James Orr, Mrs. Mary Hannaford and Mrs. Mabel Beck, Roodhouse.

Mrs. Finice Doyle, Mrs. Richard Wilhite, Mrs. F. J. Longmeyer, Greenfield; Mrs. Alva Meek, Mrs. Charles Meek, Mrs. P. J. Achenbach and Mrs. William Pinkerton, Carrollton.

Each person enrolled to participate in the study filled out a detailed questionairre. An annual report will be made on each family for a six year period. Many theories about cancer and the causes of cancer will be tested from the information gained. Some of these include occupational hazards in relation to cancer, whether or not a tendency to cancer is more prevalent in some families, what relationships exist between cancer and other diseases and many other phases. Nationwide, the study will involve a half million families with more than one million persons included in the data.

It is one of the largest medical statistical studies ever undertaken and would have cost as much as forty million dollars to accomplish without the services of the many volunteer workers.

Hospital Auxiliary

A special meeting of the White Hall Hospital Auxiliary executive Board was held Tuesday afternoon at the hospital, to discuss final plans for the ham and bean dinner to be held at the American Legion Home on Feb. 13. There will be a coffee break at 9 o'clock with dinner serving beginning at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Bill Goben and Mrs. Kenyon Cotter will be in charge of the coffee break; Mrs. Albert Bateman, kitchen; Mrs. Donald Evans, dining room; Mrs. Rollin Day, pies; Mrs. Darrell McCullon, tickets; Mrs. Ethel Ross, quilt project.

The quilt is to be on display soon in the window of the Collins Furniture Company.

Mrs. W. T. Stickley, hospital administrator, announced the hospital has received many gifts recently, including a coat and hat rack for the hospital lobby, made by Cliff Cox; George Myers gave a television set which is now in use by the patients; W. L. Dawdy donated an ice cube machine which makes 110 pounds of ice cubs daily, in memory of Mrs. Sue Dawdy. Various people have donated ten bushels of apples and other fruits, all of which are greatly appreciated.

X-ray Unit

Announcement has been made of the offer to all school personnel, by the Greene County Tuberculosis Association, for a free chest X-ray to comply with the state law of having an annual examination.

The mobile X-ray unit will be at the Carrollton High School in the agriculture workshop on Jan. 26, from 1 to 5 p.m, for anyone over thirty years of age. Anyone having an examination in the county in November when the unit was here, is required to take another one at this time, in accordance with the law. Due to the policy of the Public Health Dept. no one under thirty years of age will be given the X-ray, but as a service to these people, a tuberculin skin testing program will be held in the office of Mrs. Thelma Wilkinson, County Supt. of Schools, from 2 to 5 p.m. on Jan. 22.

March Of Dimes

Grover Sparks is serving as chairman of the local March of Dimes drive which, due to getting a late start, will carry over into the first week in February. A Mothers March and several other events are being planned to raise funds for this worthy cause. W.R. McMahan will serve as treasurer of the drive and anyone wishing to donate money may contact either of these two men. Coin cards have also been distributed through the local stores.

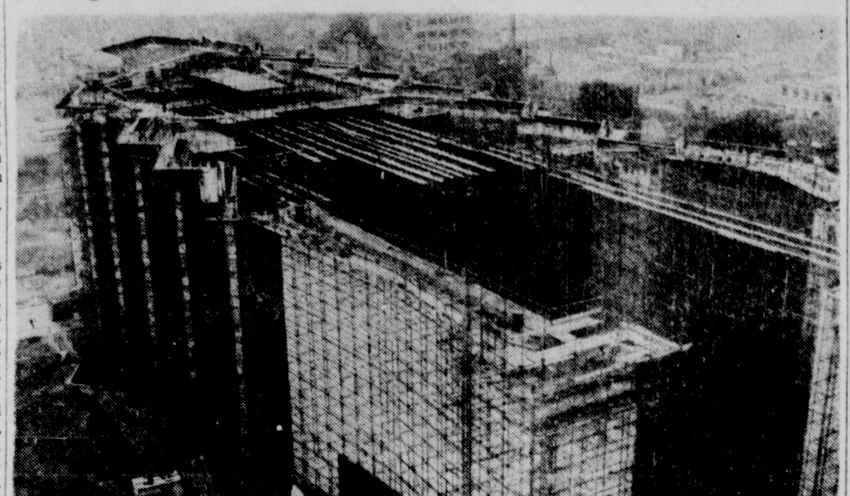

Ice Skating

Ice skating has been enjoyed, since the weather has turned extremely cold, on the rink in the Stickley park. The park shelter house is open during the days when skating is possible, and skates are available at the park. When the lights are turned on at the shelter house skating is possible on the rink.

Coventry Rebuilds Its Cathedral

Rising Out of World War's Ashes, It Belongs to the World

COVENTRY CATHEDRAL, four-fifths completed, will be consecrated in 1962.

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

COVENTRY, England — (NEA) — "Coventry Cathedral is the most impressive sight we've seen in Europe," the man from Florida, shivering in his light-weight suit, exclaimed.

His wife, whose fur coat gave her better protection against the English winter, nodded in agreement. "It's a real religious experience," she said.

They were standing in the smoke-blackened ruins of St. Michael's, the 14th Century church which was destroyed in a 1940 Nazi bombing raid, but they were not looking at ruins.

They were looking at the new $3,500,000 cathedral which is rapidly rising on the ashes of the old.

Many Americans feel the same way about the new cathedral. A couple from Dallas, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Kahn, are planning their third visit to Coventry this year. They have "adopted" the cathedral as their own, following its progress with keen interest.

From Germany, Japan and even Russia come a stream of visitors to admire the new church.

"In this materialistic age, Coventry Cathedral is much more than a place of worship," remarked goateed Prof. Basil Spence, designer of the new structure. He added:

"It has become a symbol of the Resurrection, of man's faith in the future, and as such it belongs to the world."

A group of Canadian organists gave recitals to raise $30,000 for the cathedral's new pipe organ. Stalingrad has donated a richly-jewelled ikon of the Madonna and Child to adorn the Lady Chapel. An Episcopalian church in Pittsburgh has contributed $350 to the building fund.

Most impressive has been the response from West Germany. Carved in huge letters on the bomb-scarred East wall of gutted St. Michael's are the words "Father Forgive."

They invoke forgiveness for the Nazi raid of Nov. 14, 1940, which destroyed not only the old cathedral but the entire center of Coventry, killing 915 people.

In the nearly 20 years since, Chancellor Adenauer and Dr Theodor Heuss, former president of the Federal German Republic, have visited Coventry to pay their respects to this plucky city. They have left checks totalling $30,000 to pay for the stained glass windows of the Chapel of Unity.

Seen from a distance the new cathedral, which is now four-fifths completed, looks like an empty airship hangar or a huge drydock from which the water has been pumped, its walls rising sheer like concrete cliffs.

The interior will be dominated by an altar, behind which will hang the world's biggest tapestry, depicting "Christ in Glory," measuring 80 feet high by 40 feet wide.

The tapestry, designed by Graham Sutherland, is being woven at Aubusson, France, by the firm of Pinton Freres.

Ten great stained glass windows, each 74 feet high, are angled so as to throw their light directly on the altar. Arranged in pairs on either side of the nave, they will show a progression in color from the green of youth through the rich blues and purples of the ages of wisdom to the golden light of the Resurrection shining down on the altar.

"It is only when one approaches the altar and turns that the whole range of color can be seen for the first time," architect Spence explains.

No money has been spared to provide Coventry Cathedral with the finest of 20th Century art treasures. One wall will be adorned by a 25-foot bronze figure of St. Michael trampling the Devil. This work was commissioned from the late Sir Jacob Epstein, and was the last religious sculpture he undertook.

The baptismal font will consist of a boulder from the Garden of Gethsemane scooped out to hold a gold bowl.

Four-fifths of the cost of the new cathedral is being paid for by the British government as war damage compensation. The remaining $700,000 is being raised by public subscription. The foundation stone was laid in March, 1956, and the finished building is scheduled to be consecrated in May, 1962.

Prof. Spence, who won an open competition for the cathedral's design says:

"The new cathedral will be in harmony with the buildings around it—the civic center, the factories, the cinema—just as the medieval cathedrals were in harmony with the castle, the manor house, the market place and the barn. The people of the future will feel that the new church is relevant to their daily life."

The Bald Truth

Biologists Get In Men's Hair

As They Look for Key to Fading and Falling Locks

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — (NEA)—Armed with an unlimited budget, a nifty new laboratory and the facilities of Rutgers University, the science of biology is finally getting around to a basic question of modern life: how can men stop getting bald and gray.

According to Dr. Joseph F. Migliarese, head of the new Biological Research Laboratories, this is a universal, but unexplored problem.

According to industry leaders, cosmeticians and barbers, it is a crucial problem both for individuals and the whole economy.

And according to a spokesman at the soap and cosmetics firm (Eds: FYI Colgate-Palmolive Co.) which has set up the laboratory:

"If the problem is solved, we can make a mint of money."

To back up their investment and labors, biologists cite the booming business of eternal youth in the U.S. today—massagers, exercisers, relaxers, toupees, astringents, sun lamps, etc.

Hair coloring alone took $2,000,000 out of men's pockets last year. And according to the conservative Barber's Journal: "The figure will be much higher this year, and still higher next."

Listen, for example, to George Evanthes whose 40 years of experience has been in trying to retard what his letterhead calls baldness in principal cities.

"We are going into the beauty shop business—for men as well as women. There is no other way, and there is hardly a moment to spare.

"The business has been changing for some time and now is largely cosmetic."

Now, according to experienced hair observers at the Barbers' Journal, there are two popular colors in the men's market. Vigorous dark (brown or black) for the older man who wants to look younger because it helps him get and keep a job. And mature gray for the younger man who has the know-how but not the age to gain advancement in the company.

But the present condition in hairdom has caught barbering in a strange dilemma.

On the one hand, 20 cents worth of materials and skill can make the barber $5 for the hair dye job, another dollar for the hair cut to go with it, and a fat tip when it's done.

On the other hand, most states require licensed, graduate beauticians for this kind of work. But it's not appealing work and requires very little skill in styling.

"So," Evanthes says, "the only way out is a combined beauty shop for men and women, with two entrances, a thick wall between, and a connecting door."

But, says biologist Migliarese, normal baldness and graying is a matter of biochemistry, dermatology, histopathology, enzymology, physiology, pharmacology and bionucleonics.

"We will unquestionably use 'tagged' (radioactive) atoms in this project to trace the formation of the compounds that are found in the hair shaft. . . ."

If it works, the answer will probably be a pill called Mr. Pierre (for women) or Five Chairs No Waiting (for men).

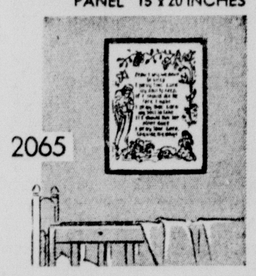

It should be emphasized, everybody concerned warns me, that this research is aimed only at cosmetic problems and not at the secret of eternal youth.

Lions Club To Sponsor Concert At White Hall

WHITE HALL—The Lions Club held their regular meeting at the First Christian Church on Wednesday night with supper served by members of the Christian Women's Fellowship.

President W. J. Ritchey presided and announced the February and March meetings will be held at the American Legion Home.

Clark Howard of Peoria was the guest of Ben Nunes. Mr. Nunes introduced the musical part of the program which was presented by members of the Calvary Baptist Church. John Raffety, tenor, introduced Barbara Sue Harp, soprano. Pauline McCurley, alto, Willard Brogdon, base, and JoAnn Ward, accompanist. They presented a program which included "Touch of His Hand," "Where No One Stands Alone," "I Saw A Man" and "O, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee."

Past International Director Richard C. Bell introduced Lion Dick Knowles and his leader dog, Jane, with Mr. Knowles giving an inspirational talk on the work of the Lions throughout the world.

The White Hall Lions Club has announced the appearance here on Jan. 29 at the junior high school gym of Dave Rubinoff, in a concert of popular music. He will perform as violin soloist the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, the Warsaw Concerto and Rhapsody in Blue. Rubinoff is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Warsaw, Poland. He knew George Gershwin and heard him perform the Rhapsody in Blue for the first time in 1924. Gershwin wrote the great jazz classic in a few weeks but Rubinoff spent months in perfecting the arrangement to his satisfaction.

City Council

The regular meeting of the City Council was held in the Council chamber on Tuesday night with Mayor J. W. Baldwin presiding. Mrs. Nova Lyons, clerk, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. A general discussion ensued concerning the purchase of the land occupied by the city reservoir from Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ross. A franchise with the General Telephone Company was also discussed.

The Council passed a motion to extend a contract to the Pascal Paddock Company providing for the preliminary engineering work for the White Hall swimming pool, the contract then being turned over to Mayor Baldwin who will have five days to veto or sign the contract. The proposed pool, if it becomes a reality, will be located in the Lions Park on West Carlinville street.

Women's Class

The Loyal Women's Class of the First Christian Church met with Mrs. Ben Nunes on Wednesday afternoon. A general discussion was held with each member taking part. Rev. Nicklin gave the prayer of grace for the luncheon. It marked the birthday anniversary of one of their members, Mrs. Eva Culbertson. She is bedfast at her home on West Bridgeport.

Organize Explorers

An Explorer Post of Boy Scouts is being organized in the community and all boys ages 14 to 17 who are interested in becoming members are asked to attend a meeting Monday night, Jan. 25, at the American Legion Home at 7:30 o'clock. The program will include showing of a movie concerning Explorer scouting and a talk by a guest speaker from Jacksonville.

Former membership in the Boy Scouts is not necessary in order to become an Explorer; any boy in White Hall between the above ages is eligible. The Jaycees Club is sponsoring the Explorer program.

The next meeting of the local lodge will be Feb. 4, at which time a school of instruction will be held following a carry-in supper. The school will be conducted by Mrs. Jonetta Maupin of Jerseyville, the district president.

Mrs. Gladys Voiles, the retiring noble grand, was presented a jewel by Mrs. Dorothy Brock and she was also presented a gift by her officers and she in turn presented gifts to the officers.

Refreshments were served from a table in which pink and white appointments had been carried out. Mrs. Thelma Bell poured during the serving time.

Speaks to Senior Class

Mrs. Thelma Wilkinson, Greene county superintendent of schools, spoke to the senior class of the Roodhouse high school Friday morning, her topic being "Scholarships."

Honored on 7th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Mehl entertained at a matinee theater party Saturday afternoon followed by the serving of refreshments at the Colonial room of Day's Cafe honoring their daughter, Mary Frances, who was celebrating her 7th birthday anniversary.

Dr. Holcombe To Take Sabbatical From MacMurray

With one of the first two sabbaticals ever granted at MacMurray College, Dr. Ray E. Holcombe plans to study an increasingly interesting area of the theater—religious drama.

Professor of Speech and Theater Arts, and Chairman of the department, Dr. Holcombe joins Dr. Walter B. Hendrickson, Professor of History, in taking the one-semester sabbaticals, effective Feb. 1. Dr. Hendrickson will conduct research into midwest science academies under a $2,500 grant by the National Science Foundation.

DR. RAY E. HOLCOMBE

Dr. Holcombe, who has been with MacMurray since 1943, leaves with Mrs. Holcombe Jan. 27 for New York City, where he will enroll in Union Theological Seminary. He will take three graduate courses in religious drama there, plus independent study and work with the resident playwright at Union.

"One of the principal areas I am interested in exploring," Dr. Holcombe commented, "are the new techniques and production methods peculiar to religious drama. This whole field is becoming so significant that over 62 colleges this year have added religious drama courses."

He added that MacMurray plans to incorporate religious drama courses into its curriculum beginning next year, with Holcombe's New York experience expected to be helpful in establishing these courses.

Dr. Holcombe is a member of the religious drama project committee of the American Educational Theater Association, currently working on establishment of a religious drama society in the U.S.

The MacMurray professor hopes later to establish a directory of Religious Drama Centers, listing their personnel and the types of work they do.

He is a University of Wisconsin graduate with an A.B. and a doctorate. He earned his A.M. at University of Iowa

Virgil Alcorn's Battery Sponsors Orphans' Home

BAUMHOLDER, Germany (AHTNC)—Army PFC Virgil D. Alcorn, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil T. Alcorn, Chandlerville, Ill., is a member of the 8th Infantry Division Artillery's Headquarters Battery which is sponsoring a children's orphanage near Stuttgart, Germany.

Personnel of the battery have been sponsoring the orphanage since September 1956 even after moving about 240 miles away to their present location in Baumholder. In addition to contributing money, food and toys for the children, the battery arranged to have the orphanage completely re-painted and has converted the heating system from coal to oil.

Alcorn, a radar specialist in the battery, entered the Army in February 1959 and completed basic combat training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He arrived overseas last July.

A 1954 graduate of Chandlerville Community high school, Alcorn was employed by Central Illinois Public Service Co., Beardstown, before entering the Army.

Mrs. Allen Cole has returned home after assisting in the care of her granddaughter, Laurie Beth, born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vial in Blackstone.

NO DEFENSE

VINELAND, N. J. (AP) — A disorderly conduct charge lodged against Jose Antonio Montes, 26, was dismissed after his wife told the judge she wished to drop it.

"I love him," said the woman in asking the judge to dismiss her complaint that Montes had hit her over the head with a bottle of detergent.

FALSE ALARM

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fourth grade teacher Mary Wright got sly smirks from her pupils after mysterious fumes caused the evacuation of 1,500 children. The fumes came from an overheated pan in which she was boiling water to clean art equipment.

Weddings Parties and Clubs

Patricia Ann Maloney

WINCHESTER—The engagement of Miss Patricia Ann Maloney of Webster Groves, Missouri to Lieutenant Stephen Allyn Redshaw was announced last Sunday, January seventeenth, at a Tea held at the home of Miss Maloney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Maloney, 148 South Elm avenue in Webster Groves.

Lieutenant Redshaw is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Redshaw of Winchester. He graduated last June from School of Commerce and Finance, St. Louis University where he was a member of the varsity basketball team and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He is currently serving in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Turner A.F. Base, Albany, Georgia

The bride-to-be received her degree last June from St. Louis University where she was a member of Kappa Beta Gamma sorority and a varsity cheerleader. During the summer of 1958 she toured Europe with her sister Ellen, who is now Sister Mary Brideen of the Loretto Order.

A September wedding is planned.

Joyce Elaine Coffman

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Coffman, 122 Diamond Court, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce Elaine, to Charles A. (Tony) Crews, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Crews of Chapin.

Joyce graduated from Jacksonville High School with the class of 1959. Tony graduated from Chapin High School the same year and is now stationed with the United States Navy at Memphis, Tennessee, attending Naval Air Technical Training Center.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Try Out Sample International Fair Menu

SCANDINAVIAN DESSERT

Members of the committee in charge of the dinner to be served March 5 at the International Fair, to be held at Jonathan Turner Junior High School, tried out a sample menu at the home of Mrs. James Orman, 1907 Mound Road, this past week.

Shown are Mrs. Howard Wahl, left; Mrs. Don Blesse, center, and Mrs. Orman, right. Mrs. Wahl and Mrs. Blesse are enjoying the dessert course, Fruit Soup with fancy Scandinavian cookies and coffee, pictured at opposite left. All are ISD faculty members.

The menu this year, following the theme of the 1960 Fair, Snow Countries, will open with smorgasbord, then the main course and dessert.

Other members of Mrs. Orman's committee are: Mrs. Arthur Samoore, Miss Agnes Carr, Miss Arlene Weber, Miss Margaret Mallach of Taylorville, Miss Hazel Bothwell and Mrs. Henry Aldrich.

To Serve 300

Although there will be a larger dining area this year than at former Fairs, only 300 will be accommodated for the dinner. Servings will be at 5 and 7 p.m.

Tickets will go on sale Saturday, Feb. 20, at the Dunlap Hotel Lobby.

Our Saviour's Aid Backbone For Hospital

Sister M. Magdala told the board of directors of Our Saviour's Hospital Aid Society at their meeting on Thursday, Jan. 21, at the hospital that Our Saviour's could not manage without the help received from the society.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Joseph E. Doyle. Mrs. Paul Norris gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Doyle made the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. William Casler.

A sincere vote of thanks was extended by the board on behalf of the Aid and the hospital to Winchester Unit members who helped make the Silver and Gift Tea in December such an outstanding success. Cash gifts and sales of articles totaled $348.87, in addition to many lovely gifts that are now on sale at the Gift Shop at the hospital.

Plans were discussed concerning the annual spring meeting that will be held in March. Recently a handmade quilt was donated to the Aid and donations were received. The quilt was awarded to Mrs. James Buckley.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Cloyd Schumm, Mrs. William Hodgson, Miss Olive Burnett, Miss Nell Ring.

PIE ON ICE

BALTIMORE (AP)—Very accommodating, the Enoch Pratt Library personnel.

They usually hold items lost in the library for 60 days for claiming. That will even apply, if necessary, to a lemon meringue pie that is stowed away in the staff ice box.

Miss Plummer Of Pittsfield Plans Wedding

PITTSFIELD— Mr. and Mrs. John L. Plummer announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Catherine, to Robert L. Heavner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heavner of Pearl.

The date for the wedding has been set for Sunday, Jan. 31.

Robert graduated from East Pike High School with the class of 1956 and is a senior at University of Illinois.

Cost of a movie spectacular today is about six million dollars. Cost of producing a similar film classic in the 1920s was $245,000.

City Planning With Flowers Topic For Morgan Garden Club

The assembly room of the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center was well filled on Saturday, January 16th, for the beginning of the 1960 Club Year

Members and guests were greeted by the president, Mrs. Royal T. Hopper. Mrs. Len Magill led the group in the pledge to the flag. Minutes of December meeting read by Mrs. George Taylor. Mrs. Joy Goin gave the treasurer's report.

Guests present were Mrs. Lawrence Harrison, of Virginia; Mrs. Robert Headen, Sr., and Mrs. Clark Green of this city.

Mrs. E.C. Slaughter, of this city; Mrs. Harvey Vortman and Mrs. Raymond Morris of Bluffs were introduced as new members.

Sweetheart Day

The president announced the February meeting will be Sweetheart Day and members were to bring husbands or sons, as it will be known as "The Man's Day." This club has the distinction of having only one male members, Mr. Johnston of Virginia, Ill.

Miss Charlotte Sieber, music chairman, introduced Barbara Jones, senior voice student from MacMurray College, who sang "Into A Ship, Dreaming," by Crist; "Adele's Laughing Song," Strauss, and for encore "Yours is My Heart Alone," by Lekar. Her accompanist was William Aylesworth, also student at MacMurray.

City Planning With Flowers

Mrs. Eugene Dodsworth, chairman for the day, presented Mrs. Alvalee McCarthy substituting for Mrs. Courtney Wright, who was ill. Mrs. McCarthy presented an interesting program on City Planning with Flowers, giving the early history of city gardens, and then presented pictures showing the beauty of flower gardens everywhere.

The horticulture committee was responsible for Harry Hofmann Jr., of Hofmann Florists, giving practical suggestions on "After Christmas Care of Poinsettias," in the absence of Mr. Hofmann. Miss Fern Haigh read the prepared paper.

Class Has Display

One of the most practical and interesting features of the regular Club Program is the presentation of various floral arrangements made and presented by members of the Flower Arranging Class. The group consists of Mrs. C. W. Adams, Mrs. Vesta Taylor, Mrs. Henry Frisch, Mrs. Ira Storey, Mrs. Mildred Seeman and Mrs. Royal T. Hopper, and Mrs. Frank Crawley who described their arrangements.

Mrs. Lena Kerns, social chairman, with Mrs. E. W. Logue co-chairman presented assistant hostesses, Mrs. Robert Hartman, Mrs. Robert Hembrough, Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson, Mrs. L. C. Hess, Mrs. George Hibbs.

Miss Emma Hunter, Mrs. Lottie Hutches, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Claude Jewsbury, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson, Mrs. Ralph G. Jones, Mrs. Harold Joy, Mrs. Merl Kerns.

The meeting adjourned with the club prayer, led by Mrs. Effie Lee Williamson.

Modern Dance Course Offered For Adults

Modern dance classes for adults will be offered by the board of education as part of the adult education program. Classes will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. Thursday evenings at Washington school gym. A small fee will be made to cover expenses.

The first in a series of ten classes will be Thursday night, Jan. 28. Anyone wishing further information may phone CH 5-5384.

The course will include exercises, dance techniques and simple composition. It will not be necessary to have had previous experience in order to participate.

Teaching the class will be Louise Bruyn, conductor of a similar series several years ago. Mrs. Bruyn, wife of Dr. Severyn Bruyn, professor of sociology at Illinois College, has been teaching modern dance for adults and children in Jacksonville for a number of years. She received her B.S. degree from University of Illinois in 1952 and taught fourth grade at Lafayette school in this city.

MISS AMERICA GARDEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The annual Easter Garden on the Boardwalk here will be called the Miss America Garden this year to mark the 25th anniversary of the founding of Mu Alpha Sigma, the sorority for contestants in the beauty and talent sweepstakes.

The garden will feature azaleas in honor of the past two Miss Americas, both of whom hail from Mississippi, where the annual azalea festivals are held.

Grace Methodist Circle Meets At Heaton Home

The Esther Circle of the Grace Methodist church held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Heaton with Mrs. Bess Laughary and Mrs. Mary Flagg as assistant hostesses.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Frank Marston and roll call was answered with a Bible verse. Seventeen members and one guest were present.

Mrs. Lester Reed made several announcements and conducted the business meeting. Mrs. B. S. Halter gave the devotions using the theme, "Keeping One's Thoughts on God." Mrs. Gaston Foote gave the program on Africa with her subject being "Your Light Has Come."

Following the meeting the hostesses served tea with Mrs. Floyd Schramm pouring.

Robert Thayer Of Greenfield Is Betrothed

GREENFIELD — Announcement was made recently at Edwardsville of the engagement of Miss Karen Clayton of that city to Robert Thayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thayer of Greenfield. Miss Clayton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myhael Clayton.

The bride-to-be will graduate in June from Edwardsville High School. Mr. Thayer, 1958 graduate of Greenfield High School, is employed at Emmerson Electric.

Wedding plans are not definite.

Reading Circle Charter Members

Pictured are charter members of the Jacksonville Teachers' Reading Circle who attended the groups 25th anniversary dinner held Jan. 18 at Central Christian church. Friendly, Courteous List Continues Speedy Growth

More than 25,000 votes for a growing list of more than 725 nominees have been tabulated in the current campaign to find Jacksonville's "Friendliest, Most Courteous" man and woman employee.

The deluge of ballots cast by Journal Courier readers is vivid proof that interest continues to mount throughout the Jacksonville area.

Several ballots have been received from distant cities throughout the United States. One ballot was received from Wahiawa, Hawaii, and several from California, St. Louis and Chicago. Jacksonville residents on vacation can still vote for their favorite man and woman employee "back home." Most folks on vacation make sure the Journal or Courier arrives daily at their destination to "keep up" on events back home.

Voting continues until February 6—just two weeks off. All votes received or postmarked before midnight, Saturday, February 6, will be counted.

The friendliest, most courteous folk will be honored later in March with a public presentation of framed certificates and a $50 U. S. Savings Bond each. This will be part of the "Saluting the Employees" edition of the Journal Courier to help more people know more people in Jacksonville and to make this the friendliest place in Illinois.

Use the official courtesy award ballot that appears daily in the Journal and Courier. This is the only ballot that will be accepted. Be sure to vote for employees only—NOT for managers or owners.

Ballots may be brought or mailed to the Journal Courier office or deposited in special ballot boxes in the lobby of Elliott State Bank or Farmers State Bank.

Every person who is nominated receives a special "Courtesy Club" card in recognition of their being nominated as a "friendly, courteous" person.

Radiosonde Falls On Dunham Farm Near Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD—A radiosonde, an instrument sent up with a U. S weather balloon from Columbia, Mo., on Jan. 12, was found by Virgil Dunham and his son Leo in their corn field this week.

The radiosonde is used to determine forecasts by measuring temperature, pressure and moisture of the air at various altitudes. Dunham said the instrument is quite costly.

He thought the orange balloon which took it up probably burst at about 17 miles in the air, letting the instrument drop. It was not damaged because a cone-shaped parachute was attached.

Dunham followed instructions that were with the radiosonde and sent it to the Joliet weather station.

WHITMAN LETTERS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Missouri Historical Society has acquired 17 letters poet Walt Whitman wrote to members of his family.

Also acquired were various other letters and documents of the Whitman family, photographs and other mementos.

In one of the letters, Whitman describes St. Louis and comments favorably on its "fine, comfortable, well-built brick or stone houses."

Whitman said the air "is always tainted with coal smoke and pungent gas."

Form Music Booster Club At New Berlin

NEW BERLIN—Parents of band and choir students of the school unit met on Monday evening at the high school and organized the Music Booster Club. Formerly, the unit had only the Band Parents Club, but the group has voted to include choir activities also.

Election of officers was held with Mrs. John Ridder, president; Eugene Kirby, vice president; Mrs. G. W. Meyer, treasurer.

The group laid plans to raise funds to purchase uniforms for the choir, at a cost of approximately $1,200.

Plans were completed to hold a chilli supper Tuesday evening, Feb. 2, in the community room of the high school, with serving to begin at 4:30. In addition to chilli, sandwiches, pie, milk, orange drink and coffee will be served. All proceeds will benefit the choir uniform fund.

This will immediately precede the Waverly-New Berlin basketball game which will be played in the New Berlin gym with the first game at 6:45.

Everyone is invited to have supper with the Music Boosters Club and attend the game.

Hold Fair Workshops

The New Berlin Woman's Club held workshops Monday afternoon and Wednesday evening in the fair building.

Monday, the group prepared mail to former advertisers in the premium book of the Sangamon Co. Fair Association. Wednesday evening, the women compiled a list of new contacts who will be called upon by members of the Woman's Club on behalf of the Sangamon County Fair and Agriculture Association.

The fair will be held this year beginning July 27 and running through July 30. Young people who are eligible to enter projects in the fair must be under 21 years of age, residing within Sangamon county or within any unit school district outside Sangamon county which has its major attendance center in Sangamon county.

In addition to these areas, the community unit districts of Waverly, Franklin, Ashland, Athens Talula and Virden are included Four thousand copies of the fair catalog are distributed.

Business places and persons residing in these areas will be contacted personally, by members of the New Berlin Woman's Club, to invite them to participate in this project for the young people of the area. All proceeds from advertisements in the catalog are used to pay premiums to the junior exhibitors.

The Woman's Club hopes to complete the project by the end of February.

Sharp Group Has January Meeting At Christian Home

The Sharp group of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the Central Christian church held its January meeting at the Illinois Christian Home with 15 members and 20 guests present.

Mrs. Katherine Ray, chairman conducted the business meeting. Mrs. George Dick, devotional leader, led in prayer and asked Mrs. Lois Hickey to lead the group in singing hymns with Mrs. Peggy Littler at the piano.

Mrs. Donneda McDaniel showed a film, "A Boy in Africa." Mrs. Frank Moxon gave the first lesson on Africa, which is to be the subject for the next several months.

The meeting concluded with the C.W.F. benediction said in unison.

The February meeting will be with Mrs. Lois Hickey on Edgehill Road.

Percy Bright And Wife To Observe 55th Anniversary

JERSEYVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Bright of Jerseyville will mark their 55th wedding anniversary Monday but no formal observance of the event is planned.

Mrs. Bright was formerly Miss Myrtle Beckman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Phelps Beckman of Kane and Mr. Bright's parents were the late Henry and Mary Robb Bright of Jerseyville.

They were married by the late Rev. Dee, pastor of the Methodist church at their home at 803 West Exchange street, which they had purchased. Their attendants were Lillie Rowden Hodges of Alton and Charlie Hund of Peoria.

At the time of their marriage Mr. Bright was engaged in his trade as a baker. Later they moved to Roodhouse where he was employed by the railroad. Mr. and Mrs. Bright returned to Jerseyville in 1931 to make their home and the former engaged in business here until his retirement a few years ago. The couple now reside at 614 Cleveland street in Jerseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bright are the parents of five daughters, two of whom died at an early age. Their daughters living are Mrs. Zigman Thomas (Clorene) of Mexico, Mo., Mrs. Crogan Cockrell (Mary) who is residing in Heidelberg, Germany while her husband, S-Sgt. Cockrell is on a three year tour of duty, and Mrs. Francis Worthey (Elsie) of Jerseyville. They also have four granddaughters and eight great grandchildren.

Local Student From China Is Class Speaker

Miss Margaret Ma was guest speaker for Loyal Philatheas of First Presbyterian church when the class met at the home of Mrs. Waldon Brown, 215 E. Greenwood, on Wednesday, Jan. 20.

Miss Ma, a student at Illinois College, lives in Hong Kong. In a very delightful manner she told of her home city, its problems, people, customs, costumes and government. Miss Ma spoke of the ever present voice urging a return to Communist China but since half of the near three million population has chosen Hong Kong as a home, they remain even if it is hard to find a means of livelihood.

Color slides of "The New Territories," as this open port is called, were shown by the class president, Mrs. F. F. McCarthy, with comments by both Miss Ma and Mrs. McCarthy.

Mrs. Ilga Wolgamott gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports. Devotions were closed by a prayer written by a man whose name was the same as the guest speaker's, but not a relative.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. The February hostess will be Mrs. Tom Gollier.

QUITE A PUZZLE

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—The loot apparently was just too puzzling for thieves who broke into a trailer parked in a trucking depot here. Police found the contents of the eight cartons the thieves took, scattered around a field at the west end of the city.

The cartons contained jigsaw puzzles.

Pilot Members Face Full 1960 Schedule

The Pilot Club of Jacksonville recently held its January business meeting at the Dunlap Hotel, opening another year of activities designed to contribute through service to the welfare of others. Louise Bancroft, first vice president, presided in the absence of President Elisabeth Henderson who was ill.

After the dinner, Miss Bancroft presented J. A. Mann, superintendent of School District 117, and Mrs. C. L. Kanatzar, member of the Board, who stated the reasons for holding the special referendum on February 20. They explained with factual information the need for the educational tax rate increase, stressing the importance of the voting public's support of this measure in maintaining the quality of the present educational program.

Communications read by Catherine Rowe, corresponding secretary, included a letter from Miss Hazel Bothwell, publicity chairmen for the third International Fair, in which a request was made to the Pilots that they save March 5 for attending the event which is sponsored by the Council for Exceptional Children to secure scholarships for handicapped children. A note of appreciation from PI Headquarters was read in regard to another year's contribution by the club to the Ruby Newhall Scholarship Fund.

Entertained At Brands'

As Margaret Riley, recording secretary, read the minutes of the December meeting held in the home of June and Co-Pilot Robert Brand, members were reminded of the delightful evening spent together, of the delicious turkey "plus" dinner prepared by the Club Service Committee with Ferol Thorn as chairman, Nelle Stout and Mary Walters as assisting members. Elisabeth Henderson and Dorothy Lukeman also helped with arrangements and Mary Walters made attractive Christmas centerpieces for the tables.

Locals Commended

Mention was made in the minutes also of the letter which had been received from Miss Lillian Hood of Springfield, Illinois, Governor of District 12, in which she commended the local club committee chairmen for their promptness and accuracy in completing all activity reports before her official visit and their fine follow-through action with plans of work submitted earlier in the club year. Ferol Thorn had prepared and presented the December radio program.

Many Activities

At the close of the old year, Pilot members had contributed many hours—individually and as groups — toward furthering the service program by participating in the Tree of Lights collection, decorating and manning the float entered by Pilots in the Christmas pageant, making corsages for 80 ladies on two wards at the State Hospital, where monthly visits were made during the year, contributing food for the basket given to an adopted needy family, and serving in the Passavant gift shop. These activities were in charge of the Community Service Committee of which Vesta Taylor is chairman.

The treasurer's report for January showed a continued success in the selling of Busi-Ladi dish towels and Hillcraft jewelry. In addition to those money-raising pursuits, four rummage sale dates have been reserved in future months.

Josephine Milligan, chairman of the Club Action Committee, prepared the January radio script, which was presented over WLDS by Mary Walters. This committee has planned the second January meeting.

Questers Entertained At Haneline Home

The January meeting of the Land o' Lincoln Questers was held at the home of Crit Haneline in Jacksonville.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Orin V. Duncan of Winchester. After a brief business session, the program of the afternoon, Shoes of Antiquity, was heard.

As a prologue, Mrs. Duncan read a brief historical sketch of the development of shoes, which was followed by showing colored pictures of shoes from various nations, in the David P. Wohl collection. Mrs. Wohl has invested a great deal of time, money and effort in assembling this rare collection, which is unexcelled in the United States.

Early footwear began as sandals for protection, animal skins, even those of rats being used. Later came moccasins, to which men learned to sew a hard sole for protection. These were the forerunners of true shoes. Earliest shoes were alike for both feet, there being no right or left. At the time of the Crusades the English brought back the Turkish turned up toe, from which they fashioned outlandish footgear with toes over a foot long.

The Oriental peoples wore a platform clog of varying height to keep the feet above dirt and mud, and these were secured by a thong or peg worn between the big and second toe. Some of these were made of wood, and elaborately decorated with inlay.

Also shown was a pair of tiny Chinese shoes four inches long, for the bound feet of a young woman. Only one daughter of a family was chosen for this honor. This barbarous custom is no longer sanctioned.

The people of the European lowlands carved out the familiar wooden sabots. When angered the peasants trampled down the grain of their landlords. From this destruction we get the word sabotage.

The elaborate boot, and high button and laced shoes for men and women were high fashion in this century. Later the present day oxford became year round footwear.

At the close of the meeting, Susan Haneline, daughter of the host, assisted by Virginia Rowland, served refreshments to the group.

The next meeting will be in Winchester, with R. R. Rueb as host.

Returns Must Be Filed On Hired Household Help

Housewives who hire household help by the day or week have until Feb. 1 to file the quarterly social security tax returns on wages paid to their employees during the last three months of 1959, announced H. J. Vasconcellos, district manager of the Springfield social security office. Ordinarily, these quarterly returns would be due on Jan. 31, but that date falls on a Sunday this year.

A return must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue for any household worker to whom an employer has paid cash wages of $50 or more during the three months of October, November, and December. Wages of as little as $5 a week paid to a worker each week during this 3-month period will have amounted to more than $50, Vasconcelles pointed out.

He indicated that many household employees are still not being reported for social security by their employers, although their cash wages from each employer may amount to over $50 in a three-month period. This is especially true of "day workers" who work for several employers during the week. Each employer who pays such a worker $50 cash wages during the calendar quarter is required by law to file a return showing the name and social security number of the worker, the amount of her wages, and the social security taxes due.

Tax forms for reporting wages paid household employees must be obtained from the director of Infernal Revenue. The social security tax on wages paid in 1959 is 5 percent, 2 percent to be deducted from the employee's wages, and a matching 2½ percent to be contributed by the employer. The combined tax goes up to 6 percent beginning with the first wages paid in 1960.

Jacksonville High School News

By Pat Bradley and Ann Fay

During the past few weeks, students have been preparing for the district speech contest to be held February 20. Only certain students that were chosen after tryouts will compete. Many solo acts are being prepared, while a one act play, "The Dancers," is also being readied.

—JHS—

Most Jacksonville High School students have finished taking their final examinations. Only students who were absent from school during certain testing days have them yet to take.

—JHS—

During the basketball game Friday night, Jacksonville was defeated in the varsity game 63-46. Many people in the crowd said that the boys seemed to play with much more ease. Preceding the varsity game, the junior varsity game was won by the Jacks with a nice lead.

—JHS—

Following the game Friday, there was a dance held at the "Y." This was a "Y Council" sponsored dance at which "Y" cards would admit students.

Monday, January 25, begins a new semester for the Jacksonville school system. High school students will receive on Monday their grade cards from the completed units' work.

Present Charter For Scouts At Arenzville

ARENZVILLE—The Boy Scout charter was presented to Arenzville American Legion Post 604 by Morris Gotschall, Boy Scout training executive of Jacksonville, at the regular Legion meeting on Monday night. The Boy Scout Council was installed. Charles Schnitker is Scoutmaster; Rev. G. A. Bischoff is assistant Scoutmaster; and members are Robert Clark, Alvin Paul, Don Wessler, George Morrison, Roland Beard and Harold Nobis. Gerald Beard, commander of the local Legion Post, will represent the Legion on the Council. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the Legion presented Charles Schnitker with a Scoutmaster's uniform.

Preceding the business meeting on Monday night, the Legion entertained Mr. Gotschall and John Beard of Jacksonville, the Scout Council and their families, Legion and Auxiliary members and their families, at a fish supper, with 108 present.

The Legion is sponsoring dances every Saturday night at the Legion and Community hall, and all proceeds from the dance on Saturday, Jan. 30, will be donated to the New March of Dimes.

Program At Church

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church met recently at the church, with 24 members present. Mrs. Ernest Parkerson led the worship service, and Mrs. Walter Peck was in charge of the program, "The Role of the Christian African Woman." Roll call was answered with "An Experience of Jesus on the Mount of Olives."

Mrs. Ralph Clark presided at the business meeting. The Missionary Minute was given by Mrs. Charles Ater. The members are participating in "Blanket Day," and seven new blankets were donated by the local W.S.C.S. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Florce Noble and Mrs. August Hansmeier. Mrs. Ralph Steele became a member of the society.

Supt. Rice Speaks

The January meeting of the P.T.A. was held Wednesday night at the Home Ec room, with Mrs. August Hansmeier presiding. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag, followed by group singing of "Swing Low Sweet Chariot." Mrs. John Schroeder read the secretary's report, and Mrs. Robert Beard gave the treasurer's report. Clyde Ginder reported on the recent board of education meeting.

It was voted to contribute $2.50 to the Golden Jubilee Scholarship Program. Announcement was made of a Dutch-Maid party to be held in April. The attendance award was won by Mrs. Hobrock's third grade room.

The speaker of the evening was Wilfrid Rice of Jacksonville, Morgan County Superintendent of Schools, who gave a very interesting talk on "Opportunities for Careers," followed by a question and answer period.

Refreshments were served by third grade mothers, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Charles Ham, Mrs. Charles Ater and Mrs. Robert Burrus.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home

WATCH YOUR STEPS

Comfort is many things to many people. To some it may be curling up in a big downy-soft chair to watch television. To others it may be relaxing on the sofa before a crackling hearth fire with a good book—or for easy conversation. One thing is certain, you'll have more time to enjoy your special brand of comfort if your home is planned to be easily kept, with step-saving equipment and furnishings carefully arranged to minimize the time and effort required for household chores.

One of the areas where a lot of extra steps are frequently taken is the dining room. A simple remedy for this is to have ample cupboard space to keep china, silver and glassware close at hand to save steps and time when setting the table.

An open hutch has been provided for this purpose in the dining room sketched above. A mobile server on the opposite wall (not shown) makes it possible to bring entire meals piping hot from kitchen to table in one easy trip.

We are constantly on the lookout for fine furnishings that will add beauty and comfort to your home for years, and that will give you lasting satisfaction and unqualified value. We are proud of every piece we offer you. So come in and shop assured.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—With advances on four of the five trading days this week, the butcher hog market added 25 to 50 cents a hundredweight to all weights and grades.

Offerings over 230 lbs posted the extreme gains, however, and the top price held at $14.00 each day except Tuesday. The peak of $14.10 on that day was the highest in three months.

The week's supply of 48,500 head here was down 3,000 from the previous week and included only meager offerings of No. 1 grade under 230 lbs.

The smaller receipts here and at other Midwest markets was credited with the good central demand and firmer prices.

The cattle supply was 12 per cent larger than the previous week and the largest in five weeks. For the 12 major markets the Wednesday run was the largest for any day in more than three years.

Slaughter steers trade was uneven throughout the week with weight of offerings becoming almost as much a price factor as grade. Slaughter steers comprised about 75 per cent of the supply and were steady to as much as $1.00 lower with the extreme setback on weights over 1,350 lbs.

Heifers topped at $27.75, the highest since September.

Slaughter lambs were 25 to 50 cents higher for the week although the sheep supply of more than 15,000 head was the largest in a year. Good and choice wooled slaughter lambs topped at $21.00, the highest since October.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fell sharply this week for the third straight week.

Turnover declined to 14,219,090 shares from 17,680,696 last week and was the lowest for a five-day trading week since the week ended Oct. 24 when 13,886,806 shares changed hands.

The drop in trading indicated to some Wall Street observers that the price decline was more a question of bids drying up than an increase in selling pressure.

The Wall Street mood was described as one of nervousness and uncertainty. Tight money remained a matter of grave concern despite continued reports of a booming economy.

This was underlined by the rise in the British bank rate to 5 per cent from 4 per cent. The decline in stock prices, some Wall Streeters observed, may have lessened the pressure for a rise in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve Board, possibly until after the U.S. Treasury has completed its mid-February financing.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 13.68 to 645.85. The decline carried the index through a "support" level which technicians said was supposed to exist between 640 and 650.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $3.20 to $223.40, a bit less than last week's loss of $5.60.

Of the 1,426 issues traded, 859 fell and 421 rose. New highs for 1959-60 totaled 29 and new lows 85.

The five most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Fairbanks Whitney, up 1/8 at 11 1/8 on 272,000 shares; Brunswick-Balke, up 1 7/8 at 54 3/8; General Motors, off 1/4 at 50 5/8; Standard Oil (New Jersey), off 1/2 at 47 5/8; and Ford, off 4 5/8 at 84 1/8.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds advanced this week.

Volume declined to $27,316,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $27,722,000 the previous week and $34,717,000 a year ago.

Market experts felt the rise was more a technical adjustment from recent record lows than a reflection of bullish sentiment. They pointed to continuing economic storm signals for fixed-income securities.

Cub Scout Den Visits Water Plant

The Cub Scouts of Den 4, Troop 109, recently enjoyed a tour of the city water plant. They watched the filters being washed and fluoride being dispensed, among other interesting operations.

til there were about 3,000 in the parade. The police began moving in when they saw adults joining the students. None of the leaders of the rightwing extremists was seen among the marchers, however.

Before the crowds gathered, Delegate-General Paul Delouvrier met with a group of mayors of the Algiers area who previously had called on the people to rise up, if necessary, against De Gaulle's policies. Some quarters said Delouvrier warned the mayors that De Gaulle's government was determined to settle the basic issue of who will run the territory. De Gaulle has made clear he will.

De Gaulle, who had a 45-minute conference with Massu Saturday in Paris, seemed to be viewing the situation with his usual massive calm.

After the tough paratroop general came out of the meeting there was speculation he had been told his next assignment would be far from Algeria: West Africa or Madagascar. Massu himself would not comment.

SCIENTISTS DESCEND 37,800 FEET IN SEA

on Jan. 22 East longitude date and reached bottom at 9:10 p.m. the same date, staying 30 minutes on the bottom and surfacing at 12:57 a.m. on Jan. 23. This means that they took four hours and 48 minutes to descend, stayed on the bottom 30 minutes approximately, and took three hours and 17 minutes to ascend and surface.

"They reported that they lost voice contact (apparently with the surface ships) about halfway down but that it was re-established upon hitting bottom and maintained until about halfway up.

"The only food they ate was chocolate bars, one every hour, to keep up their enegery.

The Navy located the position as 210 miles southwest of Apra Harbor, Guam.

Navy experts here said the men probably got wet while boarding the bathyscaph, or perhaps from condensation within the gondola as it descended into the cold water. In leaving the bathyscaph, the men had to climb up through a shaft which was still dripping from the water that had filled it during the dive.

The Navy said one purpose of the series of deep ocean probes is to gather scientific knowledge of the transmission of man-made sounds. While the Navy did not spell it out, this information is important in the operation of sonar devices to detect enemy submarines.

The team broke a record set only a few days ago, when the Trieste went down to 24,000 feet in the same Marianas Trench, west of Guam.

Piccard and Walsh thus have been farther below sea level than the highest mountain of the earth, Mt. Everest, in the Himalayas, is slightly over 29,000 feet above sea level.

Records of the Navy Hydrographic Office show the Marianas Trench to be the deepest hole so far discovered in long years of exploration from surface ships.

In Saturday's dive, the Trieste resisted a force of more than eight tons a square inch, the weight of a column of seven miles of water above it.

GROCERIES TAKEN FROM PORCH

Joe Shinpaugh of 317 North West street reported the loss of a sack of groceries early Saturday afternoon. Shinpaugh told police officers he had the groceries delivered to his home and set on the porch. They were taken from the porch. Police officers were unable to locate the items after receiving the call at 1:20 p.m.

Zayas, Editor Tells Of Castro's Communist Policy

Castro was particularly bitter in charging that I was entering into a conspiracy with the U.S. State Department. On this charge, I answered him through the columns of the Miami Herald. Certainly, I had visited the State Department while in Washington. With me were 14 other Latin American newspapermen. We went there not to conspire but to observe its operations. Most wrote articles about our visit.

A few days after my detention at the airport, Castro police pounded on my door at about 1:30 a.m. I was reading in bed.

They were polite and apologetic. They said they had "a stupid report" that an arms cache was hidden in my home. Their search was casual.

It was just another way of trying to terrify me.

About Dec. 20, Castro and I had another clash.

During a labor union rally at a large Havana theater, David Salvador, general secretary of the Cuban Federation of Labor and a longtime Communist, urged that my newspaper be confiscated and its editors shot.

Later, Castro spoke. He supported Salvador instead of cautioning him. Castro called Avance a counterrevolutionary newspaper.

The next day a law was passed decreeing that all properties of counterrevolutionaries would be confiscated.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Howard Haynes of Anderson, Ind., and Mrs. Thomas Williamson of Staunton are here helping to be with their father, J. O. Rolston of Franklin, who has been a patient in the Passavant hospital since last Thursday.

Greenup Edwards of Franklin hasn't been well this week and Mrs. Edwards has been staying with him at Passavant hospital.

Ottis Leak of Franklin entered Passavant hospital Tuesday suffering from flu.

Mrs. Nina Lewis of Franklin who has been in Passavant for several days hasn't been so well this week.

Dr. W. S. Taylor, who has been a medical patient in the Memorial hospital, Springfield, for several days, has returned to his home in Ashland.

Lee Way of Ashland underwent surgery on one of his eyes at the Passavant hospital this week.

Mrs. Helen Herron, who has been an observation patient in the Schmidt Memorial hospital in Beardstown for several days, has returned to her home in Ashland. She will return to the same hospital next Monday, and will undergo surgery on Wednesday morning.

DEMOS SLAP GOP AT DINNER IGNITING 1960 CAMPAIGN FUSE

Gov. Brown teed off on his fellow Californian, too, as the "silent Nixon" who he said apparently intends to "stall the great debate of 1960 by saying exactly nothing about anything."

The quackery crack at Nixon came from Meyner. He said that was what it was when the vice president was advising America that results are what count rather than the way the administration obtains them.

Like Kennedy, Williams said the GOP is tired. The Republicans, he said, "are afraid to be the first in anything" and the party just intends to "plod along in its old, weary, tired way."

To these four senators and three governors with political lightning rods, aloft, Truman said, could be added several other Democrats "who are eminently qualified and desirable as potential nominees." He said they aren't being prominently mentioned or even considered.

Truman left their identities dangling and then went to considerable pains to say that he himself is not yet formally committed to anyone although he does have "certain inclinations to some of the candidates."

Ahead of inclinations, Truman said, he places the needs of the country and the world.

Western Bows To Southern, 96-84

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Southern Illinois handed Western Illinois its first IIAC defeat Saturday night, 96-84, and moved into a first place tie with Northern Illinois.

SIU and Northern, 83-66 victor at Eastern Michigan, now have 5-1 conference records, Western 4-1.

Charlie Vaughn led SIU with 30 points and Don Hepler added 24. Western was led by Al Avant's 24.

SIU led 44 - 36 at halftime. Vaughn broke a school record by taking 32 shots from the field. He hit 12. Western's 77 rebounds tied the conference record.

GIRL, 6, DROWNS

HARVEY, Ill. (AP)—Six-year-old Susan Carlton broke through the thin ice on Calumet River and drowned Saturday.

Susan was playing on the ice with her sister, Marie, about 25 feet from shore when she fell in. Firemen recovered the child's body.

'Free Room And Board' Lured W. J. Bryan To Jacksonville

"William Jennings Bryan would have gone to William Jewell College, a Baptist school in Liberty, Missouri, if a Jacksonville relative had not offered him free room and board if he would attend Whipple Academy and Illinois College," Alfred Hodgson, editor and publisher of the Waverly Journal, told members of the Morgan County Historical Society and guests at the winter meeting of the organization Friday evening at a dinner meeting at the Dunlap Hotel.

The speaker treated the impression which Jacksonville and its citizens made upon Bryan and the resulting influence on his life as a public figure in an interesting and lively manner which in itself was a fitting tribute to the great orator who could hold an audience spellbound for hours.

Moves To Dr. Jones' Home

"In the fall of 1875," he said, "Bryan moved into the home of Dr. Hiram Jones at 505 West College Avenue and entered the prep school on the Illinois College campus. It was in that home that he was inspired by such literary giants as Ralph Waldo Emerson and made such friends as the Yates family, patients of Dr. Jones, and John Sheehan, an employee at the Jones home.

"Richard Yates, the son of the war governor of Illinois and later himself governor, and Bryan were co-chairmen for the annual elocution contest at Whipple Academy during their first year and were Sigma Pi's entrants, but neither was awarded a prize.

"Silas Bryan required his son to send home an accounting of funds each time he asked for more money. Once, when asked for money for a new pair of dress pants to replace the pair that was so short he was ashamed to wear them to church socials, Silas Bryan wrote, 'You can get the new pants when you come home for Christmas. You may as well learn now that people will judge you by the length of your head and not by the length of your breeches.'

Wins Books For Oratory

"During his freshman year at Illinois College, the annual elocution contest was held at Strawn's Opera House on the south side of the square. Bryan placed second and was allowed to choose two books as his prize. He chose a copy of Shakespeare's Works and an Oxford Bible with concordance.

"His junior year at Illinois College was an eventful one, for it was during that year that Bryan met Mary Elizabeth Baird from Perry, a student at the Jacksonville Female Academy which was located on the property now occupied by the Jacksonville High School gymnasium and just across the street from the Jones residence. That year, too, he was first prize winner in the oratorical contest and his reward, a volume of Bryant's poetry, was the first gift he presented to Miss Baird.

"Many stories have been told of the disciplinary measures taken at the Female Academy because of Miss Baird's 'too frequent' association with the Illinois College junior. In her memoirs, Mrs. Bryan recalls that as soon as she had completed her examinations and before Commencement, the principal personally took her to the Wabash station and saw that she boarded the train for home. What he didn't know was that young William Jennings Bryan was in the baggage car. When the train pulled out, he joined Miss Baird, and the two made plans for him to come to Perry in the near future to ask Mr. Baird for the hand of his daughter.

Breaks News With Scripture

"On that occasion, as on many others, he opened the conversation with a quotation from the Bible. 'I have been reading Proverbs,' he said, 'and I find that Solomon says, Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing and obtaineth favor of the Lord.'

"Mr. Baird's answer was, 'Yes, I believe Solomon did say that, but Paul suggests that he that giveth her in marriage doeth better.' Bryan won his point by saying, 'Solomon would be the best authority, though, because Paul was never married and Solomon had a number of wives.'

"In November he represented Illinois College at the meeting of the Interstate Oratorical Association in Galesburg at which he placed second. The award was $50 with which he bought the engagement ring for Mary.

"Elected vice-president of the association at this meeting, Bryan acted as campus host the following spring when, for the first time, the meet was held in Jacksonville. Jane Addams of later Hull House fame, was one of the contestants. Bryan worked hard in school that year and graduated from Illinois College, valedictorian of his class.

Practiced On West State

"After two years at law school in Chicago, Bryan returned to Jacksonville, and on July 4, 1883, he hung up his sign, 'W. J. Bryan, Lawyer' in the building on West State Street occupied by the well-known law firm of Brown, Kirby and Russell. In his memoirs, Bryan spoke highly of these attorneys with whom he was associated. Of William Brown he wrote, 'I think he had more influence upon my style of speaking than any person I have known. My admiration for the man grew until he became so heroic a figure I would have offered him a place in my cabinet had I been elected president.'

"Receipts for the first month of practice were $2.50 and for the first six months were $67. Most of the early revenue was earned collecting bad debts for John Sheehan's saloon on East State Street, a job he did so well that Sheehan began to send him clients. Through Sheehan, he handled what he described as his first big case, which earned for him a fee of $200. Always an abstainer, Bryan carried on all transactions with Mr. Sheehan in the street in front of the saloon.

"No, Thank You," Said Bryan

"During the time he lived here, he was called upon to speak to a party gathering at Buckhorn School on behalf of Winfield Hancock, who was opposing Garfield for president. The program chairman, Timothy Flynn, was astonished when Mr. Bryan refused a nip from a hip flask before speaking and said, 'Well do the best you can anyway!'

"Asked how he should introduce the speaker, Mr. Bryan told Mr. Flynn, 'Just say, Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. W. J. Bryan from Jacksonville, Attorney at Law, will now address you.'

"After practicing this introduction several times, Flynn faced the audience and, completely losing his composure, blurted out, 'Mr. O'Brien will not speak.'

Recalls Introduction

"More than twenty years later, while addressing the Irish Society in London, Bryan recalled this introduction and said he considered it one of the best he'd ever received because it promised the audience nothing.

"A great many of Sheehan's friends called the young attorney O'Brien, and one day when he attempted to correct the error, his solid Irish client replied, 'It's all the same—King Brian Boru's descendants tacked on the O. The Bryans are the same stock but just common people.'

"Edward Tanner, who had been Bryan's Latin teacher and was at the time president of Illinois College, officiated at his wedding in Perry on October 1, 1884."

Mr. Hodgson digressed a moment to point out that Tanner, too, was a native of Waverly, the first child born in that city.

"Soon after their marriage," he continued, "the Bryans moved into their new two-story house on West College Avenue at Webster. Records of the First Presbyterian Church show that Bryan transferred his membership to that church on February 24, 1877. Mary Baird Bryan's name was added to the church rolls on February 26, 1885, and in November of 1886, they record the baptism of Ruth Baird Bryan.

13 Keys Which Could Unlock Mystery Of Lost Airplane, Death Of 42 Persons

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

This is the Case of the 13 Keys.

Behind the doors they can unlock may lie the mystery of a lost airplane and the death of 42 persons.

The case begins on or about last Nov. 12. Somewhere in that period, a man checks in at a hotel in Tampa, Fla. He is big-bodied, wears spectacles and has grey hair. His manner is dignified. He speaks softly. The whole picture seems to fit the name he writes in the hotel register, "Dr. Robert Vernon Spears, Dallas, Tex."

For once, he uses his true name. The aliases are in his criminal record which goes back nearly 30 years.

First key—What brings Spears to Tampa? Is it to buy an airplane ticket for a flight from Miami to Dallas, stopping at Tampa? Or is it to see an old acquaintance?

On the night of Nov. 14, Spears sits in his hotel room, drinking and talking with Al, whose full name is William Allen Taylor.

This is the old acquaintance. Al and the doctor—the title is probably inaccurate since Spears is a naturopath, not an M.D.—have known each other for some 30 years. Perhaps longer. The files of the police in Miami, Fla., show that the two men worked a confidence racket in the 1930s.

Taylor has a criminal record, too.

His, however, is not as long as Spears'. The doctor served time in Missouri for forgery; Ohio for larceny; Ontario, Canada for vagrancy and false pretenses; Maryland for forgery, and Oklahoma for armed robbery. In Dallas he paid a fine of $1,000 for performing an abortion. Police caught him in a motel with a young secretary on whom he had performed the operation.

Taylor's record seems to dovetail with Spears' in convictions in Florida, Ohio and Maryland. Since 1940, however, there are no new entries in Taylor's file. He is working in Tampa as a salesman for an automobile appliance firm.

The two men sit in the hotel room, drinking and talking.

Second key—What were they discussing? Was it a scheme in which Taylor would use Spears' airplane ticket? For what purpose?

On the following day, Nov. 15, Taylor telephones his ex-wife, Alice Steele Taylor. They have been divorced some three years after 18 years of marriage. Despite the divorce they are friendly.

Now he tells Mrs. Taylor he is going to Atlanta, Ga., for one day on business.

On the night of the flight, however, he tells a woman cashier in a Tampa restaurant he is going to Dallas, not Atlanta.

Dallas is the destination of National Airlines' flight 967. Mrs. Spears' attorney later will produce a photographic copy of the manifest for that flight listing Spears as a passenger.

But Frances Spears will say in a television interview: "He (her husband) told me Al was on the plane, but he didn't say whether he saw him get on."

Ninth key—The F.B.I. says Taylor gave Spears "permission" to drive the car as far as Dallas only. But why only Dallas?

Authorities do not answer this question. The F.B.I. says the question "goes to the heart of the evidence."

Meanwhile, "a few days after the crash," Mrs. Taylor notifies Tampa police that her ex-husband is missing.

She has now received the $37,500 insurance policy. It lists Taylor's destination as "Tampa to Atlanta." Referring to Spears, she says, "I had a premonition about that man."

Tenth key—What was the basis for this premonition?

The weeks pass.

Spears is listed among the 36 lost in the plane crash. No word comes from him to his wife.

Early in January, a man told the police in Tampa he was positive he saw Taylor in a Christmas Eve crowd in downtown Nashville. The officers do not identify this informant. Later, the informant says he may have been mistaken.

Eleventh key—Was that man "Al" Taylor? Is it possible that he was not aboard Flight 967? No one has positively placed Taylor on the plane.

Meanwhile, Spears has arrived in Phoenix, Ariz. He drives Taylor's car there. He contacts William A. Turska, who also is a naturopath and calls himself "Doctor." The date is Nov. 20, four days after the crash.

He abandons Taylor's car, having removed the registration and license plates.

Turska's house is in New River, Ariz., 40 miles north of Phoenix. Spears stays close to the house. He helps Turska build a patio and a bath.

"At night, we talked," Turska says. "You might call it shop talk. We discussed hypnotism and semantics."

He says Spears did not appear to be under any strain. And he says he knew nothing about Spears' possible connection with the crash "until I heard it on television early this week. We don't get newspapers out here. We are away from all things."

However, Mrs. Spears says she met her husband in Dallas 12 days ago after a note was delivered by Turska.

Turska also says dynamite was discovered in a small building near his. He adds that he understood dynamite fuses were found in Spears' luggage after the F.B.I. arrested him.

The F.B.I. would neither confirm or deny this report.

Twelfth key—If the explosives were found in Spears' belongings, what was their purpose?

Last Tuesday, in Arizona, Turska checked Spears into a motel under the name of George Rhodes. There, acting on a tip, the F.B.I. arrested him.

In Los Angeles, Spears is charged with performing abortions. A co-defendant, Dr. Donald Loomis, tells authorities Spears told him he (Spears) knew Julian Frank. Frank is the Westport, Conn., attorney who died in the crash of a plane near Bolivia, N. C., Jan. 6, after taking out nearly $1,000,000 in insurance.

Thirteenth key—Is there any connection between that tragedy and the end of flight 967?

O'CONNOR RESIGNS AS CHICAGO POLICE COMMISSIONER

dictments.

Adamowski also told reporters that, to do away with "so-called political implications" he has asked Illinois Atty. Gen. Grenville Beardsley and John C. Melaniphy, Chicago corporation counsel, to confer on cooperation in the probe Monday in his office.

On the resignation under fire today of Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor, Adamowski commented, "I think him a fine, decent policeman, and it saddens me to think he has to be sacrified, whatever the reasons might be."

Smith, a former president of the Chicago Bar Assn. and the Chicago Crime Commission, is a member of the firm of Winston, Strawn, Smith and Patterson.

He defended Montgomery Ward & Co. in 1944 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered government seizure of the company. In 1952, Smith, serving as a special prosecutor, obtained conviction and a life prison sentence for Michael Moretti, a policeman who shot two youths to death.

Moretti killed Arthur Gamino, 15, and Edward Salvi, 21, and wounded Leonard Monaco, 21, after Moretti was beaten up in a tavern brawl Aug. 23, 1951.

Smith said he had told Adamowski he is willing to help with the police investigation "but only if it is conducted on a non-political basis."

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS

CHICAGO (AP) — Estimated livestock receipts for Monday are 13,000 hogs, 24,000 cattle and 4,000 sheep.

Wife Of Touhy's Bodyguard Dies From Injuries

CHICAGO (AP)— Injuries mysteriously suffered caused the death Saturday of Mrs. Genevieve Miller, the wife of former police sergeant Walter J. Miller who was shot and wounded in the Roger Touhy ambush-assassination Dec. 16.

Miller, a bodyguard for Touhy, the convicted kidnaper of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, and gangster of the 1930s, had told police he believed his wife had been beaten by the same men who killed Touhy.

Mrs. Miller, 54, was found by her son, Walter, lying unconscious on the floor of the kitchen of her locked West Side apartment on the night of Jan. 10. Her skull had been fractured and she had suffered multiple bruises.

She remained in a coma until her death. A Loretto hospital spokesman, where Mrs. Miller had been a patient, said it was possible she suffered the injuries in a fall after a stroke.

Miller, who was hiding out on Jan. 10 because of fears he would be waylaid again by Touhy's killhad asked the younger Miller to investigate after he was unable to reach his wife by telephone. The apartment was carefully locked, police were told later, and the front door had been bolted and chained.

FAN BREEZES

BY STAN SPOTTS

Journal Courier Sports Editor

Coach Jack Renfro was carefree and happy for the first time last week when he called in the results Friday night of the 38th Winchester Tournament. The tone of his voice indicated a great deal of pressure had been eased and when I asked him about it, he replied, "Yes, I'm very much relieved and very happy at this time. The boys gave a good account of themselves and I'm real pleased with them."

— o —

Jack was referring to Winchester's 56-49 victory over second-seeded Triopia in the championship. It marked the second straight year that a Renfro five had won the Winchester meet after claiming top laurels in the Illinois Valley Conference Tournament. In addition to being a fine coach, Jack is also a fine example of a gentleman when sitting on the bench and this quality shows up in his players. Nice drive Wildcats! Your record of 16 wins and two setbacks indicates you are well on your way toward another fine season.

— o —

While the tournament pressure has been eased for the Wildcats' mentor, several others will feel the tourney grind this week. The annual PMSC Conference tournament at ISD shapes up as a honey as the top four teams are very equal in basketball abilities. The big 'four', Routt, Triopia, ISD and Bluffs, all have sterling records and present the strongest upper bracket ever offered in the January play-off. Virginia, the fifth-seeded team, could also do some damage as the Redbirds have been 'on and off' all season.

— o —

Coach Bob Winstead's Rockets are ranked first by the coaches and have the best mark going into the meet, 15 wins and three losses. Routt captured first in this affair last year and it has seven lettermen back to bolster its chances for a repeat performance. After Routt, Triopia, ISD, Bluffs, Virginia, Perry, Meredosia and Chandlerville are rated in that order. Routt opens the four day tournament against Chandlerville and ISD faces Perry in the nightcap Tuesday night. The two winners will meet in the semi-finals Thursday night. Wednesday finds Triopia going against Meredosia and Bluffs meeting Virginia in the nightcap. These two winners play in the final contest of the semifinals Thursday.

The starting times each evening are 7:00 and 8:30 p.m. The admission for the first three nights will be adults 60 cents and students 30 cents. Adults pay 75 cents and students 30 cents for the consolation and championship matches Friday night. WLDS Sports On Parade will broadcast each game. Other information — plenty of parking available and doors to the gymnasium open at 6:15 p.m. Betcha there's an upset in this one too.

Over Ashland way will be another tournament in progress starting Tuesday. Eight teams ranked in this order, Ashland, Petersburg, Tallula, Waverly, St. Mary's, Middletown, Greenview and St. James, will be competing in the 32nd Ashland Invitational Tournament. Petersburg is the defending champion. Starting times for the four-night playoff are 6:30 and 8:00 p.m. The basketball menu carries the complete tourney schedule.

Jacksonville High made fewer mistakes Friday night than it has all season although losing its 11th straight at the hands of Eisenhower of Decatur, 63-46. The Crimsons were in the game until the final quarter but they began to miscue and the Panthers romped away. This could be or mean the Jacks are going to snap out of it and the Crimsons and their followers couldn't be happier. Maybe the extra-long hours of work are starting to pay off and although the Crimsons aren't (by any means) contenders for the state championship, they could prove to be spoilers in their regional tournament the first week of March. Anyway, Friday night was the first time this season that I've heard the JHS cheering section chanting — Go J'ville — Beat Eisenhower — that late during a game. Usually the chanting has ended midway through second quarter of the other previous games. Perhaps, there is a lull before the storm. And then again, it could clear up without raining.

Spartans Grab Early Lead To Beat Iowa

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State jumped to an early lead in a red-hot first half and coasted to a 90-80 victory over Iowa in a Big Ten basketball game here Saturday.

Big gun in the MSU attack was Lance Olson, whose 35 points topped his previous scoring high of 33 points in the season opener against Bowling Green.

The surprising Spartans, now with a 3-2 conference record, had lost their last two outings, including a 92-79 defeat by Iowa. Iowa, which has been pressing Ohio State for the lead, now has a 4-2 league record.

Iowa was cold on the strange court and went more than four minutes before making its first field goal as MSU sprinted ahead to a 14-2 lead. The Spartans had a comfortable 49-28 margin at the half.

Other Spartan scorers in the double figures were Horace Walker with 20 points and Dave Fahs with 19. For Iowa Mike Dull had 20 points and Don Nelson 19.

NFL Owners Not Getting Very Much Accomplished

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There was no new commissioner, no decision on expansion and no end in sight Saturday to the marathon National Football League meeting.

The only hope for a sudden break in the stalemate over a commissioner appeared a compromise in which a veteran club owner or official would handle the job for one year. Philadelphia's Joe Donoghue and Detroit's Edwin Anderson were mentioned as possibilities.

Another alternative discussed was adjournment for a cooling off period of a month or so.

Apparently San Francisco, Los Angeles, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago Cardinals, Green Bay, Detroit and New York will not desert their No. 1 candidate, Marshall Leahy of San Francisco. Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh and Baltimore are just as determined that Leahy won't get the job and carry the league office home to San Francisco with him.

The minority doesn't insist on any one candidate.

George Halas, Chicago Bears' owner, has passed on all 14 ballots in order not to offend either side and thereby lose votes for expansion. Halas wants to admit Minneapolis-St. Paul and Dallas in 1960 and perhaps St. Louis and Miami, Fla., the following year.

Saturday the owners approved suggestions that a team waiving a player with a no-cut contract permit the claiming team to give him a two-week tryout before taking over the contract, and any player waived out of the league could be reclaimed by the waiving club after a four week lapse.

Defeated were efforts to change the date of the annual player draft meeting now held either the last week of November or first week of December.

The owners expect to meet Sunday and possibly Monday, depending on progress.

OILERS NAME ASSISTANT

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers of the new American Football League Saturday signed Walt Schlinkman as an assistant to head coach Lou Rymkus.

He was offense assistant for the Chicago Cardinals of the National League last season.

Schlinkman, 35, former Texas Tech star, is the second assistant from the Cardinals picked by Rymkus, himself a former Los Angeles Rams assistant. Walter Lemm was hired away from the Cardinals a week ago.

Lloyd Lake, located inside the Daytona Beach, Fla., Speedway, has been stocked with 65,000 bream and 7,500 black bass.

Morgan County First Round Tourney Results

WAVERLY — The annual Morgan County grade school tournament opened here Saturday with afternoon and evening sessions. The Alexander lightweights defeated Waverly, 28-13, and Waverly's heavyweights toppled Alexander, 28-17. Austin and McClain of the Waverly heavies captured scoring honors for the afternoon round with 12 points each.

Saturday night, Murrayville's lightweights trimmed Franklin, 22-11, but the Franklin heavyweights trounced Murrayville in the night-cap, 34-4. Hocking's 12 tallies for Franklin was tops for the evening session.

Ohio State Defeats Boilermakers, 85-71

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes turned in their fourth straight Big Ten victory Saturday night, beating Purdue 85-71 in spite of a 32-point performance by sophomore Terry Dischinger of the losers.

Jerry Lucas, Ohio State's own sophomore flash, got 27 points, outshot Dischinger from the field 11 baskets to 10, and hauled down 13 rebounds to Dischinger's 10.

Purdue lost three starters — Manzie Winters with a knee re-injury and big sophomores Jerry Berkshire and Darrell McQuitty for unnecessary roughness. McQuitty actually was thumbed off the court on his fifth foul but officials didn't wait for the count.

Ohio State already had a 13-8 lead when Winters was hurt. The Buckeyes were on top 47-37 in the second half when McQuitty was ousted and 63-44 when Berkshire was sent to the showers.

The Buckeyes hit 32 of 67 shots from the field for .478 and outrebounded Purdue 51-44. The Boilermakers made 25 of 66 field goal attempts for .379 in their third defeat of five Big Ten starts.

Wildcats Bury Gophers On Charity Toss, 62-61

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Ralph Wells' clutch free throw with nine seconds to play carried Northwestern to a 62-61 victory over Minnesota Saturday night in a Big Ten basketball struggle.

Minnesota, leading through most of the game, was held to five points in the last six minutes while Willie (The Bird) Jones kept Northwestern in contention with points and brilliant floor play.

Minnesota, after holding a 37-36 halftime lead, was in front 61-56 with 3:50 to play. Jones narrowed the gap with a basket and then stole the ball and passed off perfectly to Floyd Campbell.

Campbell scored and drew a foul to convert a three-point play and tie the score 61-61 with two minutes remaining.

Minnesota controlled the ball for more than a minute but an attempted pass went astray and the Wildcats took over. Northwestern stalled and with less than 15 seconds left, Wells drove for the basket but was fouled by Ron Johnson. Wells scored the first of two free throws to ice the contest.

Jones led all scorers with 27 points, getting 15 of Northwestern's 26 in the second half. Johnson had 22 for Minnesota.

The loss dropped Minnesota into a third place tie with Illinois, Michigan State and Northwestern. All are 3-2 in the Big Ten.

Two Teen-Agers Headline Ski Jumping Trials

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP) — Drilling through gusty head winds and snow flurries, a pair of teen-agers Saturday headlined the first two rounds of the U.S. olympic ski jumping trials with their distance and form.

Gene Kotlarek, 19, sophomore at the University of Minnesota's Duluth branch, and Bob (Butch) Wedin, 19, of Iron Mountain, Mich., each soared 234 feet at Suicide Hill for the farthest leaps in the first day of qualifying for eight places on the U.S. team.

Each contestant Saturday had six leaps and will have three more in Sunday's windup.

The best six leaps based on form and distance, will be used in determining places on the team which goes to Squaw Valley next month.

Others who looked good on distance were Ansten Samuelstuen of Boulder, Colo., with 233, and John St. Andre, Ishpeming native who now is in the U.S. Army stationed in Alaska, with 232.

Pekin 'B' Team Beats IBSSS

Coach Sy Haliczer's I.B.S.S.S. grapplers turned in their best performance of the season but lacked the power to gain a victory. The reserve squad from Pekin took the laurels 30-21 in a match held at the east side gym.

The Warriors won four matches, tied one and got one forfeit out of the 12 weight classes. Capt. Gene Barton of the local squad turned in a sterling performance in pinning his Pekin adversary midway in the second period.

Cincinnati Edges Duquesne, 61-58

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Oscar Robertson, the nation's leading college basketball scorer, was held to 13 points as top-ranked Cincinnati narrowly defeated fired up Duquesne 61-58. Only once before, against Houston last season, has Big O been held to as few as 13 points.

Cincinnati, which had a 13-1 record going into the game, was never behind but led only 33-28 at halftime.

With only 39 seconds remaining, the Dukes had slicked the Bearcats' lead to 58-56. But Carl Bouldin made good on a foul shot to send Cincinnati ahead 59-56.

Seconds later Larry Willey was fouled by the Dukes' George Brown and he made two points to make it 61-56.

With one second remaining, Duquesne's George Brown was fouled by Robertson and made good on both shots as the clock ran out.

It was Brown who did the great guarding job on Robertson.

MESSY JUNK YARD

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It would seem to be an occupational hazard but a St. Louis junk dealer was fined $250 for having a messy junkyard.

Adam Laub pleaded innocent in City Court, saying he couldn't get the price he wanted for the junk and had no place else to put it.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Coach Spin Salario of Marshall (Chicago) liked the Bloom (Chicago Heights) tourney by telling Bloom mentor Phil Hey "We've never been treated more courteously. It was a well-organized tournament. We'd like to come back next year." High praise from a coach who has journeyed throughout the state with a high school basketball team which is a top attraction everywhere. Salario was asked how the present team compares to the State champs of 1958, first time a Chicago team won the State cage title. "The difference is experience," Salario said. "The 1958 team had four seniors who had played regularly the year before. This team doesn't have that experience. We're starting three juniors." The present Commandos have more height than in 1958.

Elmer Hunter had great success last year at Columbia high school but his Clinton team this season has a starting lineup of five juniors and the Maroons will be favored in the Bloomington regional tourney. Clinton owns a win over highly regarded Eisenhower of Decatur 70-68 and lost by a single point to Waukegan, winner of the Pontiac Holiday tourney. Springfield high has been invited to play in the Pontiac meet next December while Griffin of Springfield will play at the Centralia tourney.

Rich Maack at Paris and Herman Edwards at Robinson high are turning in fine coaching jobs in the Eastern Illinois league this season. Both served the central Illinois area last year and Cumberland is seeking its ninth successive Eastern Illinois cage title under Coach Bill Waltrip. Merlin Baker, former coach at Dupo high, is serving as head coach at Charleston high while Effingham's new mentor is Jim Moore, former coach at Mt. Pulaski.

This is a crucial week end for the members of the Mid State Eight conference with eight conference games on tap for Friday and Saturday. Friday finds the following—Peoria Central at Peoria Richwoods; Pekin at Peoria Spalding; Peoria Woodruff at Peoria Manual; East Peoria at Peoria Limestone. Saturday—Peoria Central at Pekin; Peoria Richwoods at Peoria Manual; Limestone at Spalding and East Peoria at Woodruff. The race is so close in the fine conference among Peoria area high schools that by Sunday morning five clubs might be clinging perilously to the top rung of the ladder. Pekin and Richwoods are leading the race with 5-1 records followed by defending Central, Manual, and Spalding.

Bradley U. faced Notre Dame at Chicago stadium Friday night and 2,000 fans were expected to support the Braves. Bradley is 12-1 for the season and in first place in the strong Missouri Valley loop being ranked second by the AP nationally. Chet Walker, 6-6 soph standout from Benton Harbor, Mich., is the top Bradley scorer and he played his best game of the season against Cincinnati last Saturday night. He is one of the nation's most accurate shooters.

Coach Walt Moore of Attucks (Carbondale) high took his team to Mt. Vernon for a game Saturday night. Moore was a member of the great Mt. Vernon teams of 1949 and 1950 that carried home the State basketball championships. Coach Moore served as assistant basketball mentor at Macomb high school last season after graduating from Western Ill. University at Macomb. Coach Joe D. Russell of Eisenhower (Decatur) is high on his all-state candidate, Jerry Nixon, 6 foot ace. Coach Ray Page at Springfield high and Bill Purden at Thornton of Harvey along with Joe Venturi of St. Teresa (Decatur) agree with Coach Russell on Nixon's basketball ability.

Elgin high has the tallest player in the State in 7 foot George Clark who is beginning to reach his potential as one of the best big men in Big 8 competition in recent years. Junior Skip Thoren, 6-9 of Rockford (East) high has lost the conference scoring lead to Clark as Freeport held him to 10 points last week. Clark moves around exceptionally well for a big man under the basket and he is getting better on defense. Coach Bill Chesbrough's star player is beginning to put in the points as he scored 30 against Rockford West and last week he scored 30 points against East Aurora.

BURTON TO BOSTON

BOSTON (AP) — Ron Burton, Northwestern halfback, today signed a contract with the Boston entry in the American Football League. He was the club's No. 1 draft choice.

Burton, a 188-pound speedster, also was the first draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

"We think Ron will mean to us what Ted Williams means to the Red Sox," said Billy Sullivan, spokesman for the as yet unnamed group which owns the Boston franchise.

Quincy College Deals IC 5th Straight Loss

QUINCY — Quincy College administered Illinois College's fifth straight loss and its eighth of the season in 11 starts with a 93-72 victory here Saturday night. The win was Quincy's ninth.

Illinois College displayed a better brand of ball but Quincy's height was too much for the Morris five to cope with. The Hawks toyed with the Blueboys in the opening minutes of the game with the score tied, 14-all, but then Quincy pulled away to a 29-20 margin and IC was out of the running.

Terry Ransom turned in a good game for the Blueboys, getting 10 points in the first half and collecting 11 more in the second half. Bill Schildman garnered 16 points before fouling out with 10 minutes remaining in the non-conference affair.

Big Ten Will Study Invitation To Resume Bowl Competition

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten will study an invitation to resume Rose Bowl football competition in a special meeting Sunday.

Conference athletic directors and faculty representatives will weigh a letter from Tom Hamilton, executive director of the newly-formed Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, to sign another long term bowl contract.

A 14-year Rose Bowl series between the Big Ten and the defunct Pacific Coast Conference ended with last New Year's Pasadena classic in which Washington trounced Wisconsin 44-8.

Last spring, the Big Ten split 5-5 in a vote to resume Bowl competition, a deadlock which killed possible renewal of a contract. However, by the same divided vote, the conference failed to expunge from its code a clause which would permit a conference school to play in the Rose Bowl on an individual basis.

Bowl proponents within the conference now feel that formal organization of the AAWU, including Stanford, UCLA, Southern California, California and Washington, plus Hamilton's official bid, may swing the tide in favor of a new bowl contract.

A proposal by conference football coaches to permit free subgames is expected to be rejected at tomorrow's meeting. The NCAA recently liberalized the so-called wild card substitution rule after squelching a move for a return to platoon football. Although the NCAA would permit an individual conference to try free substitution, Big Ten leaders presumably will turn down their coaches' request.

Mason City And Balyki Share Top Billing In Lincoln Conference

The Mason City Huskies and the Balyki Thunderbirds are well out in front of the pack in Abe Lincoln Conference play to date. Both teams have unblemished records after four loop encounters. With every other team showing at least two losses, it appears that one of these two Mason County schools will be the 1959-1960 basketball champion.

The Huskies of Coach Martin Chilovith have proven themselves to be one of the real tough teams of the area. They are 4-0 in conference play and have lost but one game in fourteen starts overall. Their only loss was to a hot Havana team on a sub-par night that saw Mason City score but 43 points. The Huskies own impressive wins over Christian Brothers of Quincy, Lanphier of Springfield, and Forman. Mason City also emerged victorious in the Hartem Holiday Tourney.

Balyki has come out ahead in its four conference encounters to tie Mason City for the top spot. The Thunderbirds defeated Chandlerville, Greenview, and Easton in early activity. Their last win in loop play was a close 43-37 victory over Petersburg. Balyki has a good 9-4 mark for total play. Their losses have been to Forman, Havana, Virginia, and Witt, the last loss in a Holiday Tourney at Waverly. In this tourney the Thunderbirds won one before their loss.

Four teams are closely bunched behind the two undefeated loop leaders: Ashland, Petersburg, Easton, and Athens will be playing the role of spoilers after having lost two or three conference games.

Ashland has won 3 against 2 losses so far. The Panther's bumped off Petersburg and Greenview after an early loss to Mason City. Athens invaded Ashland and spoiled their chances for a 3-1 record by topping the host team 55-45. Ashland soundly beat Chandlerville in their last test to now show the 3-2 mark. The Panthers have a 12-6 record for the play, including first place in the Chandlerville Tou[illegible]. Their loss was a slim 3 point setback at the hands of powerful New Berlin.

Ashland's Coach, Dick Ballance, sadly reported the loss of one of his front line starters last week. Paul Guinn, who scored 30 points when Ashland beat Petersburg, dropped from school.

Three Abe Lincoln schools are entered in the Ashland Invitational Tourney. Petersburg and Greenview are involved, as is the host school. The Jays and Panthers are favorites.

Petersburg's Bluejays have gathered momentum following a weak start. Four wins in their last five outings have given the Jays a 7-6 mark and a 3-2 conference standing to tie Ashland behind Mason City and Balyki. The Jays were trounced by Routt and lost their first loop test to Ashland in a ragged tilt just before the holidays. Peters[illegible] won one and lost one in Waverly's Tourney. Since the tournament, the Jay's only loss was a close conference test at Balyki. Petersburg's conference wins have been over Easton, Greenview, and Chandlerville.

Easton has suffered successive defeats at the hands of Petersburg and Havana. Their season's mark is now 8-6. They are 2-3 in the conference. The Hawks defeated Chandlerville and Athens in conference play. Their losses were to Mason City, Balyki, and Petersburg. Easton won two games and dropped one to place third in the Green Valley Holiday Tournament. Easton will be a dark horse against Mason City, Forman, Havana, and Balyki in the Mason County Tournament.

Bill Fee's Athens team has toughened up since lossing three of their first four games. They are 5-5 for the season now and look to be ready to cause trouble over the remainder of the campaign. Athens is 2-3 in the Conference. They were upset by Greenview and lost a 53-51 tilt to Easton before defeating Chandlerville and Ashland. In their last loop encounter, the Warriors bowed by 20 points to the Mason City powerhouse. Two of the Warriors non-conference losses have been to strong Springfield schools.

The Bulldogs of Greenview are finding it tough to win in the rebuilding year. The Greenview squad has come home first but two times in fifteen contests. Their conference action started with a bong as they dropped Athens, but since then they have been defeated by conference foes Balyki, Mason City, Ashland, and Petersburg. In their last loop action, the Bulldogs did not look like a team with such a losing record as they played Petersburg right down to the wire before succumbing.

Streit Enters Doherty Finals Against Cici

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Marlene Stewart Streit Saturday advanced into finals of the Helen Lee Doherty golf championship for the third year and will meet Mrs. Jean Cici, who never has survived the first round of a major amateur tournament.

Mrs. Streit, Fonthill, Ont., ousted Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., 1 up. Mrs. Cici, Long Beach, N.Y., who was eliminated in the Doherty 11 years ago, rallied to beat Alice Dye, Indianapolis, 2 up.

Mrs. Streit and Mrs. Cici will play 18 holes Sunday morning and 18 Sunday afternoon.

SHERRY COMES TO TERMS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World Series hero Larry Sherry signed his 1960 contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday for about $15,000.

This was more than double what the 24-year-old pitcher made last season.

The right-hander, recalled from St. Paul in July, carried a seven-game winning streak into the World Series where he won two games and saved two others in relief.

Venturi Fashions A 209 Total For 3rd Round Lead In Crosby

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Ken Venturi fashioned a four-under-par 68 over the tricky Cypress Point course Saturday for the third round lead at 209 in Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament.

Venturi was using a new putter that he had designed.

The San Francisco native now playing out of Palo Alto, dropped a 25-foot uphill putt on the 11th hole for his fourth birdie of the day. He described it as "the best putt I can remember."

Ken needed it for a one-stroke advantage over San Diego's Gene Littler, who finished with a 71 Saturday at Cypress and a total of 211. Littler made the nine-hole turn 4-under-par but lost 3 strokes on the final nine.

Sunday the golfers all shoot their final 18 holes of the 72-hole event with its $4,000 top prize for the leading pro and $2,000 for the pro on the championship pro-amateur team.

Deadlocked in third place at 212 were Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who had a 70 over the Pebble Beach course, and Don January with a 69 there.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., wound up at 213 with a 68.

Second round leader Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., slipped to a 77 and a 216. Ed Oliver, Denver, shot a 73 at Pebble Beach for 213.

With warm weather and little wind, throngs of 30,000 came out to watch the play over three courses on the Monterey Peninsula.

In the pro-amateur division, two teams tied for first with best-ball totals of 195.

Deadlocked were pro Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., and Don Schwab of Santa Monica, Calif., and George Bayer of Pasadena with Morgan Darofsky of LaFayette, Calif. The first pair had 64 and the second carded 63.

For Sunday's finals over Pebble Beach, the field will be cut to the low 60 pros and 50 leading pro-amateur teams.

National television (ABC) will carry the finals from 2:30 to 4 p.m. (PST).

BREEZY ADVENTURE

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Police arrested three boys, 12, 14 and 16 years old for letting air out of automobile tires and breaking radio aerials.

Pender Looks Ahead To Rematch With Robinson

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender, the new "world" two-state middleweight boxing champion, looked ahead Saturday to a lucrative rematch with Sugar Ray Robinson and a big money fight with Gene Fullmer, the National Boxing Assn. king.

The obscure ex-fireman from suburban Brookline who had quit the ring three times because of hand trouble, upset the 5 to 1 odds against him Friday night by winning a split decision over 39-year-old Sugar Ray to get title recognition in Massachusetts and New York.

"Sure I'll fight Robinson again," he said early Saturday at a neighborhood party in his honor at his home.

Robinson's unofficial manager, George Gainford, said he planned to meet Monday with Madison Square Garden officials, hopeful of setting up an April 1 rematch at the Garden.

Johnny Buckley, manager of the 29-year-old new champ, said he was sitting tight to see what was going to happen."

Ashland Minus One Regular For Annual Tourney

ASHLAND—Ashland's hopes of bearing out its being seeded number one in its 32nd annual invitational tournament were dealt a severe blow when co-captain Paul Guinn dropped out of school last week. Paul, 5 foot 11-inches, a junior, had averaged better than 20 points per game in the Panthers' last four games. He took some of the pressure off co-captain Wendell Stephenson, who built up a 23-point average and then was slowed down by defense aimed at stopping him.

Paul, who also lettered in baseball and track last season, will enter Barber college in Kentucky.

Gary Lynn, who has missed the better part of the last two games with an injured knee, will move into Guinn's berth.

Following is the basketball schedule for their tournament to start Tuesday, Jan. 26: Game 1: 6:30—Ashland vs St. Mary's (Mt. Sterling). Game 2: 7:45—Petersburg vs Middletown.

Wednesday, Jan. 27: Game 3: 6:30—Tallula vs Greenview. Game 4: 7:45—Waverly vs St. James.

Thursday, Jan. 28: Game 5: 6:30—Winner game 1 vs winner game 2. Game 6: 7:45—Winner game 3 vs Winner game 4.

Friday, Jan. 29: 6:30 — Loser game 5 vs the loser of game 6 (third place). Game 8: 7:45—Winner game 5 vs winner game 6 (title).

TRIOPIA TROJANS SECOND

The Triopia Trojans (Chapin-Arenzville-Concord), coached by Glenn Ambler, present a dejected look after placing second in the Winchester Tournament. Triopia's loss was its second in 13 starts. The young lady holding the trophy is Janice O'Donnell of the Winchester cheerleaders.

CHEERLEADERS AND TROPHIES

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Red Auerbach readily admits that the current Boston Celtics is the best team he has ever drilled and the dean of professional coaches has had some pippins in 13 years in the National Basketball Association.

"But we do miss Jim Loscutoff's beef in the corner defensive job," said Auerbach. "Frank Ramsey and Tom Heinsohn are a different type of player."

The six-five, 220-pound Loscutoff, out for the campaign because of a slipped disk operation, was a hatchet man.

But Vince Boryla, like everybody else in basketball, can't see where the Celtics are shy in any department. Not even with Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors taking over as the game's boss man as a freshman.

"The Celtics need Loscutoff about as much as a guy driving an automobile with four new tires needs a spare," said Boryla, new general manager of the New York Knickerbockers. "Let Auerbach lose Bill Russell and he'd be in trouble.

"Limit Auerbach to five players and Ramsey and Heinsohn would be among them even if Losutoff were sound. Whatever the Celtics gave up defensively in the loss of Loscutoff is more than made up for by Ramsey offensively. The only possible advantage Loscutoff could have is strength. Ramsey is much more versatile and a vastly superior scorer."

AFTER THE CELTICS edged the Warriors for the second time in three days, ending a 10-game Philadelphia winning streak, Bill Russell was reminded that Wilt Chamberlain considered him the finest player he ever played against.

"It is a pleasure to play against him," Wilt the Stilt was quoted as saying. Chamberlain had just scored 43 points against the Celtics.

"I'm always delighted to play against a player against whom I can score 43 points," quipped Russell, whose average this season is down to 16.7.

"I'm not the muscle type of player," added Big Bill. "One man no longer can defend against one man in pro basketball. It is now strictly a team defense game. Heinsohn and Gene Conley helped me a lot dropping off their defensive men toward the center and clogging the area to reduce Chamberlain's movability."

"This is Russell's way of tacitly admitting that Chamberlain is too tough for one man to deal with," said Boryla, the former Notre Damer who played with and coached the Knicks. "They have to gang up on him."

Russell can practically take out any other center in the league — Clyde Lovellette, Charley Share, John Kerr, Walt Dukes, Phil Jordon, Larry Foust and Charlie Tyra. But even the six-10, 215-pound San Francisco alumnus, supreme in his field until this year, requires help where Chamberlain is concerned.

"Chamberlain is not only the tallest player in the game at seven-two," said Baryla, "but he also probably is the strongest. He weighs upward of 225 pounds in perfect shape and has the torso of a powerful heavyweight on his long legs. Tis arms and hands are as strong as they are long.

"Bill Russell, Bob Pettit and Elgin Baylor are forces in pro basketball," concluded Vince Boryla. "Wilt Chamberlain, averaging more than 40 points in his last 16 games, is a super force.

Four Unbeaten Prep Fives Keep Perfect Marks Intact Friday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Collinsville, Ottawa, Bridgeport, and Geneva — all ranking, undefeated downstate Illinois high school basketball teams—won again Friday.

But sixth-ranked Proviso East suffered its second defeat of the season from the same team that dished out its first, Waukegan. And eighth-ranked East Rockford lost to Elgin, a Big Eight rival now flexing its muscles.

Collinsville's No. 1 Kahoks nearly dittoed their first encounter of the season with Granite City, repulsing the same team 69-59. It was the 15th Kahok triumph. Galesburg, classed right on the heels of the Kahoks, forged ahead to a 11-1 record by whipping Canton 82-63.

Third-ranked Ottawa ran its string to 17 as Mendota fell 85-60. Ottawa's John Love scored 39 points for a new Ottawa school record.

Once - beaten Pinckneyville achieved its 16th victory while playing in the Salem tourney against Okawville, 70-55 loser. Another once-stopped team, Rock Island, picked up its 13th victory 56-49, in a Dubuque, Iowa, tussle.

Waukegan, the team ranked 12th in downstate consideration, took its home court to beat Proviso East the second time, 55-48.

An unranked Elgin crew marched to a seventh straight win over East Rockford, 57-48, and now has a substantial record after a slow start.

Peoria Richwoods defeated Peoria Central 65-62 to post its 13th win in 14 outings.

Springfield achieved its 13th in 15 by trouncing Lanphier 54-35 in the Springfield city tourney.

Kankakee whipped Thornton of Harvey 55-47. The twice-beaten Kays have won 13.

Among well-regarded teams also in action, Lockport overcame Bloom of Chicago Heights 64-54 but St. Charles lost to Batavia 41-37. Peoria Spalding downed Pekin 63-48.

Shabbona took on a familiar look of power as it grabbed its own tourney title from Serena 79-70.

Herrin pocketed some of the tournament laurels, topping West Frankfurt 40-33. So did Windsor by knocking off host Shelbyville in a 75-61 title go. Watseka pushed ahead in its own meet, erasing Clifton Central from the competitors 60-56. At Benton's tourney, Murphysboro scored 100 to Christopher's 69.

Other winners included Toluca, Moline, Hutsonville, East Leyden, and Shawneetown. De Kalb knocked off Sterling 60-29.

Mothers' March Will Be Held In Winchester

By Dorothy Sauer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3439)

WINCHESTER — The annual "Mothers' March" to solicit money for the March of Dimes Polio drive being conducted this month in Scott County will get underway in Winchester and neighboring towns this week. For the past several years mothers throughout the nation have gone from house to house collecting money for the drive, the proceeds of which this year, will be used not only for polio but birth defects, arthritis and other allied diseases. Over 1500 letters have been mailed in Scott County alone, as well as cards being passed out in the schools of the county. During the Invitational Tournament this past week collections were taken up and a total of $105.53 realized.

In previous years the Mothers' March campaign included only those who left a light burning on the porch but this year a house to house canvass will be made.

Cooperating with this March in Winchester are the members of the Junior Woman's Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Gary Leib assisted by the Club president, Mrs. Robert Mellor. The club members will commence their March in Winchester at 6:30 on Thursday evening, Jan. 28. The members are hoping for 100% cooperation from the citizens of Winchester.

Chairman

The Mothers' March in Bluffs is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul Vannier assisted by the members of the Bluffs Junior Woman's Club of which Mrs. Albert Hornbeek is president. Their drive will also be held on Thursday evening.

In Alsey the Mother's March will be conducted on Wednesday, Jan. 27, and on Thursday, Jan. 28. Mrs. Orval Hoots is chairman of the Alsey Drive assisted by Mrs. W. S. Bowman and daughter, Jeannie, Mrs. Albert Day and daughter, Katie, Mrs. Mancel Wilson and daughter, Jean, and Mrs. Madeline Mikus and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Earl Mikus.

Mrs. Marjorie Power was chairman of the drive in Manchester and was assisted by members of the Manchester PTA. The drive in Manchester was held on Friday afternoon, Jan. 22, with about $35 being collected. Following the Mothers' March those helping were entertained at a coffee at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Powers. Mothers assisting in the March included Mrs. Calvin Chute, Mrs. Ivan Wright, Mrs. James Gordon, Mrs. Roy Rice, Mrs. Lyndel Schafer, Mrs. William Green, Mrs. William Andras, and Mrs. Louis Tribble, PTA President.

Tournament Trophies

The Winchester High School, having the honor and distinction of conducting the oldest Invitational Tournament in the state, just completed, on Friday evening, the 38th Invitational Tournament. This year the tournament was held in the new gymnasium of the school and the Winchester team, coached by Jack Renfro, had the honor of winning their own tournament the first time it was held in the new gym. Competing for first through fourth places on Friday evening were Triopia vs, Winchester and Roodhouse vs. Griggsville.

With Winchester defeating Triopia with a score of 56 to 49, the local school is the proud possessor of the first place trophy with Triopia possessing the second place trophy. In the Roodhouse and Griggsville game, Griggsville won third place trophy by defeating Roodhouse with a score of 73 to 58. Fourth place trophy went to the Roodhouse team. Russell Wilson, principal of the Winchester High School, complimented all of the teams on the excellent jobs done and presented the trophies to the winners.

Mr. Wilson also presented the winning cheer leaders trophy to Griggsville. The cheer leading team of this school is composed of five members including Lindalyn Willard, Greta Birch, Kathryn Musgrave, Michele Waters and July Reese. The trophy for the best sportsmanship was won by the Roodhouse High School.

Each evening a refreshment stand was open to serve the capacity crowds that attended. The stand was run by mothers belonging to the Band Boosters' Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Russel Norman, Mrs. George Lashmett and Mrs. Ray Cherry. Mrs. Herman Flynn was in charge of the booth for checking hats and coats.

Junior Women Meet

A 6:30 dinner at Fletcher's Cafe preceded the January meeting of the Winchester Junior Woman's Club. Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. William Hanback on the subject of "Art." Mrs. Hanback showed slides concerning children's art. She stated that an individual can tell how a child's mind is developing materially and spiritually through her progress in art.

Mrs. Robert Mellor, president, conducted the business meeting. During this session Mrs. Don Andell volunteered her servivces as Chairman of the Style Show being held in the near future. Co-Chairman of this event will be Mrs. James Fogle and assisting the two will be Mrs. Roland Todd. Mrs. Mellor announced that the club members were to be in charge of the Mothers' March for Polio being held this Thursday evening, Jan. 28. Mrs. Gary Leib was appointed Chairman of this and all members were to be at the home of the president at 6:30 p.m. that evening and proceed from there.

The President asked that all members pay up their back reservations for 1959. The free dinner ticket for the evening was won by Mrs. Denton Coonrod. Tickets for the wardrobe being donated by Lukeman's in Jacksonville are on sale and may be purchased from any club member. This wardrobe will be given away in February. Mrs. Mellor, President, appointed Mrs. Ted Pemberton and Mrs. Jerry Alberts to serve as hostesses for the next meeting.

Hostesses for the meeting on Thursday evening were Mrs. William Jefferson and Mrs. Roland Todd. Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Carl Little and Miss Charlotte Brodie, new Physical Ed Teacher in the Winchester Schools.

Dorcas Circle Meets

The Dorcas Circle of the Christian Women's Fellowship Group of the Winchester Christian Church met Thursday evening, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Carl Coultas with Mrs. W. S. Roosa and Mrs. May Morris as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. R. R. Riggs, Chairman of the group, reported no business. Mrs. Riggs presented the lesson entitled "Look at Africa." Mrs. Leonard Plowman gave the devotions.

In conclusion refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening.

To Compete In Tourney

The Freshman-Sophomore basketball team of the Winchester High School will compete this next week in the Freshman-Sophomore Illinois Valley Conference Tournament being held in White Hall commencing on Monday evening. The Winchester team will compete against Pleasant Hill at the 7 p.m. game on Tuesday evening. Semi-finals and finals of the tournament will be held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Ten boys are eligible to dress for this event and those eligible to play, coached by Jerry Alberts, include Dewey Savage, Alan Hudson, Foster Wilson, Kenny McGlauchlen, Steve Sipes, Tom Pile, Alan Cowhick, Russel Gregory, Alan McClure and Bob Watt.

Plan February Meet

Winchester Odd Fellow members Frederic Robinson, Roy Weder, Clarence Cox, and Otto Henry attended an IOOF meeting in Pittsfield on Thursday evening. A Degree Team composed of members from several different lodges instructed a candidate in the mysteries of the Lodge's First Degree.

Following the meeting the District Deputies of the Districts in this region conferred and completed plans for the regional meeting to be held in Winchester on February 20.

Cub Pack To Meet

The Cub Pack meeting for the month of January will be held this Tuesday, January 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Alsey Grade School. The theme of the month is "Cub Pack Scientist". A skit will be given by Den 6 in keeping with the month's theme. The flag ceremony to open the meeting will be led by Den 4 and group singing will be led by Den 2.

School Of Instruction

A School of Instruction for the officers of Winchester Pioneer Lodge No. 70 will be conducted at their regular meeting this Tuesday evening, January 26. Conducting the school will be Chester A. Patton, of Springfield, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

National Youth Week

National Youth Communion Week will be observed by the youths of St. Mark's parish in Winchester from the third grade through High School age this coming week, January 24 through the 30th. For the benefit of the students, Mass will be said each morning through the week, by Father James O'Hara, at 7:45 a.m. and on Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. Following Mass and Holy Communion breakfast will be served by the ladies of the church in the basement.

Arrangements have been made to transport the students to their school after breakfast.

TWO INJURED WEST OF JACKSONVILLE

Two young men from Winchester sustained multiple lacerations shortly before 2 o'clock Saturday morning in a one-car crash two miles west of the city on Routes 36-54.

Jim Wade, 21, Winchester, on leave from the Air Force, driver of the auto above, and a passenger, Emmett O'Donnell, 21, Route 2, Winchester, were taken to Our Saviour's hospital following the crash by a passing motorist. Both were later released.

Wade told State troopers he lost control of the auto. The auto was badly damaged in the crash. The auto was towed to the Arthalony garage.

Wade entered a plea of guilty to a charge of speeding too fast for conditions in the court of Justice Charles K. Warzar and paid a fine of $15 and costs.

Johnn C. Harrower of Indianapolis, Indiana, was issued a ticket charging improper passing at the scene of the accident and paid a fine of $10 and costs. Harrower passed two emergency vehicles with red lights flashing at the scene of the accident.

Two Sentenced In County Court

A sentence of 60 days in the state farm was imposed on Byron Joe Pond of Chapin route two in Morgan county court Friday afternoon, where he pleaded guilty to petty larceny. The court ordered that the defendant also pay costs.

Pond was accused of the theft of diesel oil from W. K. Baise of near Chapin, on March 8, 1959.

Walfred Trumbo of this city, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was sentenced to the county jail for 30 days, the sentence to begin June 1. He was placed under a year's probation and fined $100 and costs.

Court officials said the jail sentence was delayed to permit the defendant to continue schooling.

Trumbo was alleged to have used a knife in an altercation with Marvin Ford on July 4, 1959.

Godfrey Youth Killed As Gun Discharges

GODFREY, Ill. (AP) — A Godfrey youth was fatally wounded Saturday by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while rabbit hunting with his father near Godfrey.

The victim was Richard G. Fisher, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Fisher.

The boy's father told police Richard had shot a rabbit and re-loaded his single-action .410 shotgun before going to pick it up. As the boy leaned over to take the rabbit from a briar clump, the gun hit a twig, causing it to discharge. The shell hit the boy in the left temple.

His father ran about 1,500 feet across the field to a farmhouse and called an ambulance. Both parents were suffering shock at a hospital in Alton. They have three other children.

Bible Book of the Month bookmarks were passed out by Mrs. Henry Hebel and Prayer Calls for the month. The bookmarks were a gift from the afternoon Missionary Society.

Mrs. Delbert DeLong, the Love Gift chairman presented an article on "How Blessed Are You?" Devotions—Psalm 117 was followed by group prayer.

Pictures from the American Baptist Mission Society were shown by Mrs. Glen Suttles. The first group of "Our Mission In Congo" and the second "Christian Education at Moanza." She also told a mission story of one of our Mission trained native pastor and his wife and their work in the Belgian Congo where he serves 25 villages, most of them on foot. This is one of the mission stories in the book "Church Bells In Many Tongues," by Ralph A. Felton.

White Cross quota was discussed and coupons for Huddleston Children's Home collected.

The evening was spent in making tray favors for the two Waverly nursing homes for the aged.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Henry Hebel.

Son Born To Couple In Spain

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Rawlings of rural route two, Franklin, have received word from their only son, Staff Sergeant Ronald S. Rawlings, and wife, Charlene, that they are the proud parents of a son, born Jan. 12.

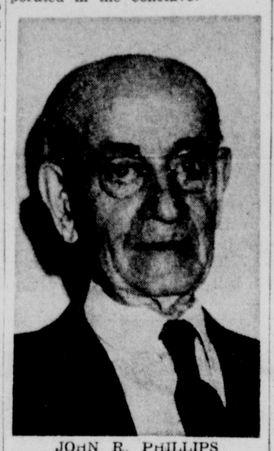

The new arrival weighed seven pounds and four ounces and has been named Mitchell Dean. This is the first child for Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Rawlings who, for the past two years, have made their home in Madrid, Spain, where he is stationed with the United States Air Force.

Mrs. Rawlings is the former Charlene Sparks of Goliad, Tex.

Commandery Jewel For John R. Phillips

City Clerk John R. Phillips, one of Jacksonville's best known citizens, will be honored by Hospitaller Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, at its stated meeting at the Masonic Temple on Monday, Jan. 25.

The stated conclave will be opened at 7:30 p.m. by Eminent Commander H. Edward Smith and his officers, and the special ceremony honoring Sir Knight Phillips, celebrating his 50th year of membership in this high York Rite Masonic body, will be incorporated in the conclave.

JOHN R. PHILLIPS

A special jewel for 50 years of membership in the Commandery will be presented to Sir Knight Phillips by the Right Eminent Past Grand Commander G. Wilbur Bell, who is presently the Grand Treasurer of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Illinois.

Sir Knight Phillips was made a Master Mason in Harmony Lodge No. 3 in the year 1902 and became its secretary in 1911, a post he held for 23 years. He took the degrees of Jacksonville Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, during the year 1903 and also became a member of Jacksonville Council No. 5, Royal and Select Masters, in 1903. He was knighted in Hospitaller Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, 1909, and served that body as recorder for many years. He is also a past secretary of the chapter and is the present recorder of Jacksonville Council.

Sir Knight Phillips is also a member of Zingabad Grotto and Wilber Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. He was actively interested in the organization of the local DeMolay Chapter in 1930, and was the person who suggested the name for the local DeMolay Chapter, Dr. Louis Henry Clampit.

After the stated conclave on Monday evening, an oyster stew will be served. All members of the Commandery are urged to attend and all visiting Sir Knights are most welcome.

Reckless Driving Fines Assessed By Magistrate

Two men were fined in police magistrate's court Saturday on charges of reckless driving. George Kleinschmidt of Arenzville and Rubert Turner, 829 North Clay avenue, each was fined $35.

Other fines included George E. Stremel, 122 Hardin, $5 for running a stop sign, and James E. Johnson, Waverly, $10 for improper muffler on car.

Eleven car owners who had failed to obtain city wheel tax stickers were fined Saturday, and must procure stickers in addition to the fines.

Lewis C. Cannon, 603 North Church, was fined $15. Other wheel tax defendants were fined $10 each, including Dale V. Gibbs, 841 West Morton; Robert C. Mooney, 14 Winthrop; Severyn Bruyn, 1047 Grove; Howard Davidson, 150 Kentucky; C. M. Hanley, 1930 Cedar; E. E. Thompson, 424 South Church; James Cash, 1325 Mound; Elmer Willoughby, 999 East Lafayette; Mary E. Williams, 615 North Clay; Essie Jackson, 514 South West.

Last Rites Held Friday Afternoon For Mrs. Korty

BLUFFS— Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Korty were conducted from the Bates Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with Rev. M. D. Goldsborough officiating. Mrs. Margaret Watson played favorite hymns.

The many floral tributes were arranged by Mrs. Mildred Little, Mrs. Henry Eilers, Mrs. Earl Albers, Mrs. Orville Gathard, Mrs. Freda Parker, and Mrs. Norris Whorton.

The casket bearers were William and Oliver Chambers, Charles Williams, Earl Albers, H.H. Arnold and Herbert Boes.

Eastern Star services were conducted with the following officers participating: Worthy Matron, Mildred Little; Worthy Patron, William Chambers; Chaplain, Josephine Albers; Adah, Geraldine Whorton; Ruth, Annis Grody; Esther, Freda Parker; Martha, Margaret Chambers and Electa, Lola Lemme.

Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Arenzville Man To Participate In Maneuvers

HANAU, Germany (AHTNC) — Army PFC James L. Beard, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beard, Route 2, Arenzville, Ill., is scheduled to participate with other personnel from the 568th Engineer Company in Exercise Winter Shield at the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels training area in southern Germany Feb. 1-7.

Winter Shield, an annual winter maneuver designed to determine the combat readiness of Seventh Army troops, will provide realistic training under simulated combat conditions. The exercise will involve 60,000 troops and will mark the first time in history that major units of the new German Army will participate jointly with U.S. ground forces in a field exercise.

Beard, a truck driver in the company in Hanau, entered the Army in May 1958, completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and arrived overseas last March.

Sentenced To Penitentiary

Cecil Allen, 48, of near Arenzville was sentenced Saturday to from one to three years in the penitentiary on a statutory charge involving a twelve year old girl.

Sentence was imposed by Judge Creel Douglass in Morgan county circuit court, where Allen entered a plea of guilty several weeks ago.

The defendant had asked probation, and several witnesses were heard in the Judge's chamber, including the child.

SKATING AT PARK TODAY!

Four and one-half inches thick, the ice froze slowly without wind or waves. The result is a glass-like surface, just right for skating.

John W. McGee, park superintendent, said the ice added one inch thickness Friday night, making it four and one-half inches.

Large numbers of skaters visited the park yesterday and last night. This is the first time the sport has been permitted at the park this year, as the ice had never formed deep enough in previous cold "snaps."

A roaring wood fire will be built for the comfort of skaters today. Amplified music will be provided for those who like to swing with their antics on the ice.

Store owners and managers are not eligible as contestants in the voting.

AN ADULT MIND and a young heart are the prime requisites of a successful 4-H leader.

This was the assertion of R. O. Lyons, U.I. professor of 4-H work, when he addressed the annual 4-H leaders recognition dinner held Tuesday evening at Grace Methodist church.

"Both qualities are enhanced by participation in this work," Lyons continued. "The 4-H club program is universally recognized as worthwhile and adult leaders win and merit the good will of the community."

More than 110 youths and adults were present for the annual dinner arranged by the Morgan County 4-H Federation to pay their respect and thanks to their adult leaders. The dinner was served by Rebecca Circle, W.S.C.S. Grace was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. Frank Marston.

Gordon Heaton of the Lynnville Hustlers is shown in the second photo expressing the Federation's thanks to the leaders. His interested listener at lower left is John Gordon, co-leader of the Franklin Straight Shooters, who made the response for the adults. Shown at the speaker's table from left, are: Assistant Farm Adviser Bob Hayward; Allan Anderson of the Victory Ag club, toastmaster of the evening; Miss Hazel L. Groves, Morgan-Scott home adviser; Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat, Morgan-Scott Home Bureau president; Roy Nickel, Farm Bureau president, and Mrs. Chester A. Thomason, chairman of the Home Economics Extension Council.

Prudy Ginder of the Handy Helpers 4-H club and Linda Mallicoat of the South Side Merry Maids were the vocalists of the evening. They sang "Sugar Time" and "Repeat After Me."

The cameraman snapped this merry foursome as Mrs. Earl Wright (standing left) presented five-year recognition pins and certificates to Mrs. John McGinnis and Mrs. Merrill Masten, co-leaders of the Handy Helpers home economics club sponsored by the Jersey Prairie Home Bureau unit. Seated at left is Mrs. Veronika Burgess, Morgan-Scott youth adviser.

Mrs. William Becker, leader of the Berea Girls club, also was awarded a pin and certificate for her five years of leadership.

Many Agree 'Bushel' Should Be Abolished

Many men who are against any type of federal aid to agriculture frequently point out that "the three major farm organizations in the country can't agree on anything."

There are sharp differences in the philosophy and platforms of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and Farmers Union. But they agree completely on one subject; all three advocate the sale and purchase of grain by hundredweight. They want to drop the bushel unit.

The A.F.B.F. resolution reads: "We favor adoption of the hundredweight as a uniform standard of measurement for grain."

The National Grange says: "As the standard of measurement in both purchases and sales, we favor the use of the hundredweight or ton measurement instead of the bushel for all grains, feeds and seeds."

Farmers Union delegates resolved: "The proposed shift (to hundredweight) would be expected to lessen the possibility of errors through elimination of the many conversions needed at present. It also would facilitate comparisons between the feeding values at the price of various grains."

The grain trade buys and sells bushels, but no one really measures grain with a bushel basket.

Complicated and Costly

The number of times pounds are converted to bushels and then reconverted to pounds for the various calculations in the normal movement from farm to market almost staggers the imagination. Sometimes a single batch of grain is figured in pounds to bushels and back to pounds as often as 11 different times on its route from the combine to the final processing. All of this is tedious, time-consuming and subject to costly error.

A Bushel is What?

What is a bushel? Theoretically and legally, the bushel is a precise unit of weight but there are exceptions to this. In most states a bushel of buckwheat is 48 pounds, but it is 50 pounds in 10 states, 52 pounds in eight states, 40 pounds in California, 56 pounds in Kentucky and 42 pounds in North Dakota. How is that for confusion?

Ear corn varies from 68 to 72 pounds; shelled corn from 52 to 56, and cottonseed from 28 to 44.

"It is obvious we need unification between the states and the easiest way to get this would be to forget the bushel and trade on the basis of hundredweight," proponents of the change insist.

They believe the bushel unit will be dropped some day, but perhaps not very soon. They point out that 40 years ago the flour industry became interested in a program of hundredweight trading, hoping to rid itself of the traditional barrel unit of 196 pounds.

To quote a flour industry leader, "Our campaign took 25 years of effort and World War II to accomplish the fact."

Minimum-tillage reports from 11 Illinois counties show that farmers cut down on tillage this past season. In 17 other counties, 2 to 6 percent of the farmers used some form of minimum tillage in 1959.

Fire Insurance Group To Meet At Farm Bureau

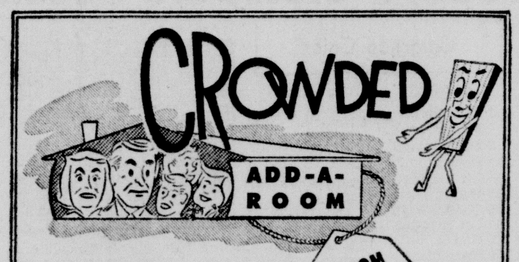

The 84th annual meeting of the Jacksonville Farmers Mutual County Fire Insurance Co. will be held Tuesday afternoon at Farm Bureau hall. President Byron W. Stewart, rural route 1, will convene the assembly at 2 p.m.

Insurance in force Dec. 31 was in excess of $10 million and reserves now exceed $100,000. Fire losses last year were $17,644.96.

Ralph J. Dahman of Franklin is vice president and C. Donald Ransdell, also of Franklin, is the secretary-treasurer.

Three directors will be elected to serve three year terms. Directors whose terms expire are Boyce Moore, rural route 3; Albert McNeely, rural route 5, and Orvel Mutch, Murrayville.

Holdover members are H. P. Joy, Chapin; Roy Schone, Chapin; Robert Shekelton, Waverly, and the three officers.

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

The YOU is the big influence in profits or losses from the sheep business. Don Walker, University of Illinois livestock specialist, says few farm enterprises offer so great a chance for high profits or so great a risk of high losses as the sheep business. The big difference appears to be in management.

In a talk at the annual meeting of the local sheep producers group at Dixon Springs, Walker pointed out that the top one-third of the sheep producers in the 1959 Illinois sheep production project realized a return of $32. for each ewe in their flocks. The low one-third grossed only $22.

The Difference

Here are some characteristics of the top producers: (1) like sheep, (2) lamb and market early, (3) control parasites, (4) have good pastures, (5) feed grain to the ewes shortly before lambing and after lambing until pasturing, and creep-feed the lambs and (6) dock and castrate lambs. Walker emphasized the importance of early lambing and marketing. You can usually figure that a lamb weighing 85 pounds in June is worth as much as a 100-pound lamb in September, a 105-pound lamb in October and a 120-pound lamb in November and December.

Sheep Day Program

On February 16, an all-day sheep day program will be held on the Dixon Springs experiment station starting at 9:30 a.m. The morning program will cover the following topics: future of sheep production, 1959 sheep production project, lamb feeding, control of parasites, sheep pastures, wool pooling, corn-field feeding and lamb carcass grades and their value to the packer. During the afternoon, to 3 p.m., visitors will tour the sheep barns on the station to see the feeding and management of the sheep flock at the lambing season. Lunch will be served by the local Home Bureau.

LEGUME, GRASS SEED PRODUCTION DOWN

ALFALFA. This year's supply of alfalfa seed is smaller than last year's, but about average. Production in 1959 is estimated at 130 million pounds, 15 per cent less than the 1958 crop and 9 per cent less than the 10-year average. Carryover of older seed is estimated at 53 million pounds, 13 per cent less than a year ago but 2.5 per cent more than average. Carryover plus 1959 crop of alfalfa seed totals 183 million pounds, 18 per cent less than a year ago and about the same as the 10-year average.

Last year's domestic disappearance totaled 150 million pounds, and 10 million pounds were exported. Producers of alfalfa seed received a season-average price of about $29 a hundred pounds for their 1959 crop, $2 more than for the previous crop.

RED CLOVER. The supply of red clover is a little more plentiful than it was last year. The 1959 crop is estimated at 80 million pounds, 12 per cent more than one year before but 10 per cent less than average. Carryover of older seed is estimated at 21 million pounds, 9 per cent less than a year ago and 22 per cent less than average. Production plus carryover of red clover seed adds up to 102 million pounds, a little more than the year-before total but some 15 per cent less than average. Average domestic use amounts to around 90 million pounds.

The season-average price received by producers for their 1959 crop of red clover seed is estimated at $26 a hundred pounds, down from $31.70 a year before.

LESPEDEZA. The supply of lespedeza seed is smaller than last year and smaller than average. The 1959 production totaled 128 million pounds, down 13 per cent from the previous year and from the 10-year average. Carryover of older seed is estimated at 15 million pounds, not much different from the year before or from average. This makes a total supply of 143 million pounds, which is close to requirements.

Producers of lespedeza seed received a season-average price of $10 a hundred pounds, up from $8 a year before.

LADINO. The supply of ladino clover is short, only about 7 million pounds. This is 23 per cent less than last year and 53 per cent less than the 10-year average. About two-thirds of it is new seed, whereas in many years less than half has been new. Normal domestic use of ladino clover seed amounts to around 5 million pounds. The average price received by producers for their 1959 crop is estimated at $53 a hundred pounds, up from $49 in 1958.

TIMOTHY. The supply of timothy seed, 1959 production plus carryover, is calculated at 47 million pounds. This is 22 per cent more than a year ago but a little less than the 10-year average. The 1959 crop was large, 44 million pounds, while the carryover was very small—only 3 million pounds. Thus practically all of the seed is new. Average domestic disappearance of timothy seed is usually less than 40 million pounds.

Farmers received an average season price of about $11 for their 1959 timothy seed, $2 less than the year before.

Suggests Price Protection On Soybeans

Farmers who want to hold soybeans were advised last week to take price protection through a government loan or purchase agreement.

According to T. A. Hieronymus, University of Illinois agricultural economist, farmers held 198 million bushels of beans on farms Jan. 1. This number was about as many as a year ago even though the crop was 40 million bushels smaller. Farmers apparently also have large stocks stored in country elevators.

Recent prices have been substantially above the loan, Hieronymus reports. As a result, farmers had placed only 22 million bushels under loan by December compared with 67 million by the same date a year ago.

Exports and processing were quite large during October and November. But the weekly export rate has now fallen below that of a year ago. The amount processed in December was also less than in December last year.

Since the price of soybeans is always subject to substantial change, Hieronymus believes that those who hold beans would find a loan or purchase agreement cheap insurance. If the government is to avoid taking over any soybeans next May 31, both export and processing will have to rise from current rates. Holding soybeans for a price rise at this time is very risky, he concludes.

University of Illinois tests show that lambs can make satisfactory gains with only one to one and a half linear inches of feeder space per head. Previous recommendations called for three to four inches.

Research shows that overfat brood sows farrow and raise smaller litters than sows that are not so fat. Hand-feeding sows will cut feed costs and also let the producer know when his sows are getting too fat.

PLAN JUNIOR FARMER DAY HERE SATURDAY

Plan Regional Swine Program In Pittsfield

URBANA — Illinois hog producers can bring themselves up to date on new developments in swine research by attending the annual University of Illinois Swine Day March 3.

Farmers who cannot drive to Urbana for this meeting can attend one of seven Area Swine Days, points out Harry G. Russell, livestock extension specialist.

Here are the dates and locations of the area meetings: March 8, Mt. Vernon; March 9, Hillsboro; March 10, Pittsfield; March 11, Macomb; March 15, Cambridge; March 16, Milledgeville; March 17, DeKalb.

The Urbana program on March 3 begins at 8 a.m. with tours of the university swine farm, located on South First street in Champaign. Visiting hog producers can see facilities and research programs in progress.

The formal program begins at 10:30 a.m. in the University Auditorium.

Programs at the area meetings will begin at 9:30 or 10 a.m. All sessions will adjourn at 3 p.m.

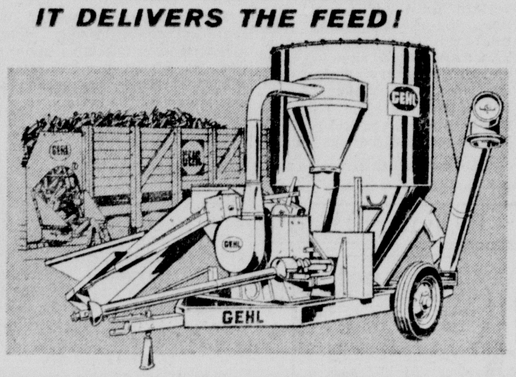

Morning programs at the area meetings will be basically the same as the Urbana program.

Of Vital Importance

The forthcoming school district tax rate election presents a real challenge to the voters and taxpayers of the area.

Simply stated, the challenge is to provide the funds necessary to maintain and improve our school system.

Technically stated, the proposition is whether the Board of Education shall be authorized to levy up to $1.80 per $100 of assessed valuation for educational purposes.

Back in 1947 the voters of the district authorized a maximum levy of $1.40 for the educational fund, so the present proposal of the Board calls for a forty cent increase. If approved, this would mean an increase in tax bills of $4.00 per thousand dollars of valuation.

In the time remaining before the election, scheduled for Saturday, February 20, 1960, the Board of Education and its representatives will endeavor to discuss the pressing financial needs of the district and to explain the reasons for seeking increased tax revenues.

Every citizen should give thoughtful consideration to the facts presented, both the pros and the cons of the issue, remembering always the fundamental truth that the maintenance of a fine school system is of vital importance to the community.

From Here To June—

Evidently there will be a good deal of difference between President Eisenhower's June 10 visit to the Soviet Union and Russian Premier Khrushchev's 1959 trip to America. The President does not plan a big sightseeing sweep but expects to concentrate on conferences with Kremlin leaders.

Those meetings will be of supreme interest to the entire world. They will begin barely two weeks after the mid-May summit conference in Paris. Their fruitfulness obviously will be closely related to the success or failure of the Paris parleys.

A feeling exists in Washington diplomatic quarters that Khrushchev will be under some pressure to permit at least some progress at the summit. To do otherwise would be automatically to cast a heavy pall over the President's June visit.

In spite of this reasoning, diplomats here are not strongly hopeful of good results at Paris, in Moscow, or in any subsequent session in 1960.

Khrushchev, who for a long time after his Camp David meeting with Mr. Eisenhower used the soft pedal, has lately begun to build up new pressures on the shaky Berlin issue.

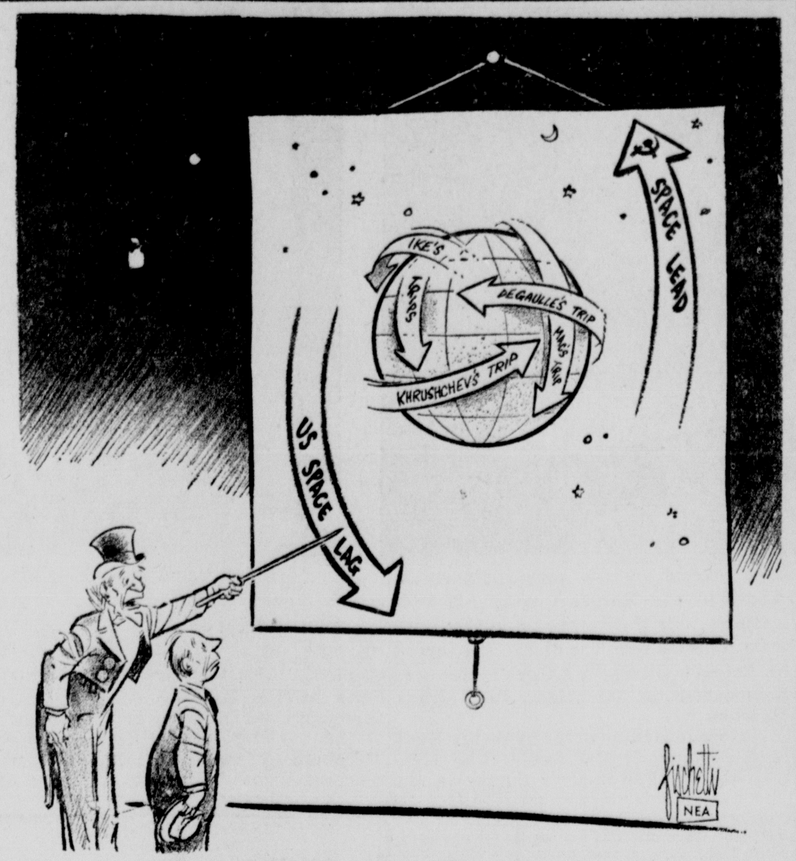

He charges the West with stalling, and threatens anew to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. The effect of this would be not only to block German unification on any terms satisfactory to the West, but to give Russia and East Germany (which surrounds Berlin) phony arguments for denying us access of West Berlin.

Undoubtedly Khrushchev wants all the bargaining advantages he can muster at Paris, and he is not about to let the West forget his old terms.

Yet if he has any genuine thought that some kind of accommodation may emerge from the summit and the President's visit, he would do well to set a more hopeful tone by indicating that his terms will not be clung to with unyielding tenacity.

It takes two to tango. Khrushchev's idea of the diplomatic dance seems to be a solo virtuoso performance, with his partners just waving graceful fans to set him off.

"----And This Is Our Trip"

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't worry. It won't happen.

Still, it's nice to think that in the 1960 campaign Democrats and Republicans might operate on a high, nonpartisan plane, relying on logic, sweet reasonableness and the laws of evidence to present their case.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, got into the subject Thursday. He doesn't admit being a presidential candidate although many observers feel this is more a matter of tactics than modesty.

He said in Chicago that both major political parties must rise above partisanship when America's very heartland is within range of "instantaneous and devastating enemy attack."

But about the same time, former President Truman, who never suffered from a political impediment in his speech, was telling reporters here:

"I've always liked Ike but I don't think he made a good president." Then, after stating confidently the next president would be a Democrat, he asked: "What more do you want for the welfare of the country?"

Only last week President Eisenhower got irritated when a reporter raised a question: Whether there was political partisanship when Democrats and Republicans talked about the defense program, since the former criticize and the latter defend.

Said Eisenhower: "I don't take it kindly—the implied accusation that I am dealing with the whole matter of defense on a partisan basis. I don't have to be partisan."

While Eisenhower could remain nonpartisan on matters of defense —although some question can be raised whether all the members of his administration are—the Republicans in Congress weren't being carried away by the idea of political nobility.

On the contrary. A few days after Eisenhower spoke out, Republicans in the House—where all seats are up for grabs next November—began a series of attacks on the ability of the Democratic party to meet the challenge of the 1960s.

Their leader, Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, even went so far as to pride himself on the "togetherness" of the Republicans while casting doubt on the ability of the Democrats to face the issues.

Of all the men in both parties the two who can least afford to show either nonpartisanship or togetherness are Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Kentucky's Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republicans.

The whole purpose of their job is to make their own side look good and the other awful. It was in this spirit that Butler recently gave an opinion on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate.

Butler said Nixon "is a smart, shrewd, devious political operator." On the subject of the United States and where it stands after seven years of the Eisenhower administration, Butler said:

"We are a second-rate nation, second to Russia militarily."

And Morton's response, while predictable, could hardly be called nonpartisan: "I am getting sick and tired of all these implications about the vice president being devious.

"I think it is a disservice to go around talking about the United States being a second-rate power."

Since Democrats and Republicans so far have hardly climbed into the 1960 ring, still have their bathrobes on and haven't had a chance to warm up, the few preliminaries just recorded seem to foreshadow a lively evening.

Happy Times

Slowly, Bad Arm and All, Al Cooked His Way Back

BY MARIE DAERR

When Al W. had a stroke which stiffened one arm, four years ago, his doctor gave him a "prescription" that a man less wise than Al might have resented.

"You're the only one who can lick this situation, Al," the doctor said. "You've got to keep yourself active.

"How about a hobby? What do you like to do?"

Al W., who had been in show business and, more recently, a salesman, remembered a period when, as a young man, he'd worked in the cafeteria of a munitions plant and then as third cook in a hotel. He'd enjoyed it, too.

"I like to cook," he told the doctor.

"Sounds fine," said the doctor. "But stay away from electric mixers. Use your muscles."

Now 69, Al has turned his therapy into a project that has brought him not only better health but a modest income—and scores of new friends.

"At first, I cooked and baked just for my wife and myself, our relatives and neighbors," reported Al. "I was always giving somebody a loaf of bread or a lemon pie.

"Then people began asking me if I wouldn't sell them something. Pretty soon I was turning out hot lunches for the clerks in a big grocery down the street. And I was supplying working women with cookies, cakes and other baked goods."

Around Thanksgiving, four years ago, Al remembered a fruit cake recipe his grandmother used with outstanding success. He made a few cakes and asked folks to sample. The response was music to Al's ears.

This year, Al turned out 200 fruit cakes. He bakes his cakes in 25-pound batches. In return for the hot lunches, the grocery sells him ingredients at wholesale prices and lets him store his cakes in its refrigerators. Al starts baking in August.

"I keep my profit small," said Al. "Many of my cakes are sold at bazaars and lodge affairs. Most are sold in my home town, but some go hundreds of miles away.

"I can't keep up with the orders."

Al's arm is much improved. More important, his spirits couldn't be better.

"A friend of mine had a stroke about the same time I did," said Al. "He wouldn't try to move out of his chair.

"Just sat. He's dead now. Every day I thank God that my doctor did some plain talking to me."

Q—My son died in 1952. He was unmarried and a World War II veteran. After my husband's death I depended on my son for support. I am 83. Can I collect any Social Security from my son's death—Mrs. J. R.

A—Your dependency should have been established within two years of your son's death. Perhaps you can qualify for a pension through your son's service connection. I suggest you get in touch with the nearest branch of the Veterans Administration.

Q—I haven't worked since I had a stroke, two years ago. I had made Social Security payments for 4½ years. The Social Security office told me I would need five years' work to be eligible for benefits. I thought this was changed under the new law. Please advise me.—L.R.

A—You need 20 quarters, or five years' work, to be eligible for payments.

Feasting Miners Say Farewell to Great John L.—Russians See Future for Pentagon as Art School

BY JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "I don't know the value of after-dinner addresses," said retiring United Mine Workers president John L. Lewis at the banquet UMW threw in his honor. "I have attended many such addresses. Today I don't remember what was said at any of them.

"But I do know that none of them ever moved a nation. So if you'll forgive me, I will not call the roll on the economic struggles of this nation to improve our lot."

That the miners' lot has been improved, the banquet showed there was no doubt. The 500 guests dined on the biggest filet mignons you ever saw in your life, with all the trimmin's.

"I'm paying for this," said UMW secretary-treasurer John Owens, who was toastmaster of the affair. "And I don't want any of you to put this on your expense accounts."

WHEN introducing House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) at a recent party, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) commented on the many years his 78-year-old bachelor colleague had been in politics.

"Sam Rayburn served in the Texas legislature with my father before I was born," Johnson declared.

Rayburn immediately responded, "You could have just as well left that out of your speech. It's not likely to help me with old maids and widows."

ONE OF THE capital's most unforgettable hosts is Hyde Murray, a lawyer for the House Agricultural Committee. He is one of the Capitol Hill staffers who helped arrange this year's annual congressional secretaries' party.

To pay for the $700 worth of food and booze, each guest had to shell out two bucks to Hyde at the door. After the party had been under way for an hour and a half, the lawyer learned that all refreshments had been gobbled up at least 30 minutes earlier.

Hyde spent the rest of the evening tracking down guests who hadn't got anything to eat or drink so he could return their money.

LATEST example of Russian humor is a radio show called "Journey Into the Future" which was broadcast from Moscow. The story concerned a group of Soviet radio announcers who visited the U.S. after the world powers had scrapped all their weapons.

The first person whom they met was a beggar who had been an armaments manufacturer. They asked him what happened to Gen. Lauris Norstad, Supreme Allied Commander, Europe.

The beggar explained that Norstad was working at the Pentagon as an artist's model for 120 Chinese painters. The Pentagon, he explained, had been turned into an international art studio.

"I met Norstad a short while ago and he is quite happy," the beggar explained. "He gets two dollars an hour if he is modeling in clothes. Otherwise he gets three dollars. He is quite well off."

ONE THING that amazes friends about Secretary of the Air Force Dudley Sharp is that he starts each workday at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Sharp says that he always gets sleepy soon after dinner and turns in early. The result is that he is wide awake before dawn.

So he takes advantage of the peace and quite to plan his day's schedule and get a lot of routine business out of the way.

LATEST writer to describe the rise of Cuban Boss Fidel Castro is Scripps-Howard Reporter Andrew Tully. He has the Carribbean revolution called "A Race of Rebels."

Andy says that he tried to make his account as objective as possible. But he explains that he just couldn't help making the book's ending critical of the new government.

Andy says, "I believe that the comments are fair. But in order for me to return to Cuba without getting arrested, I'll probably have to go before Castro gets to the last chapter."

Duckling With Apricots Is Food for Conversation

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a party idea worthy of a fine French chef. Yet it is easy to prepare and is not expensive. For a small dinner, use one duck. For larger groups, serve two at least.

To serve four to six people, take a 3½-to 5-pound duckling out of its protective packaging, wipe it with a damp cloth, and rub the inside with salt. There's no need to thaw before cooking if your duckling comes frozen.

Preheat your oven to 325 degrees F. while you make the stuffing as follows: (This will be enough for one 5-pound bird.)

Stuffing: Three cups toasted bread cubes, two-thirds cup finely chopped dried apricots, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ⅛ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, ⅛ teaspoon thyme, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, ⅛ teaspoon cloves, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 beaten egg.

Toss together the bread, apricots and seasonings. Then combine the egg and butter, and stir the two mixtures together lightly.

When your oven has reached 325 degrees F., place the duckling on a rack in a shallow pan, breast-side up. DO NOT ADD WATER AND DO NOT COVER, but roast this way for 1½ to 2 hours if you like it moderately done, or for 2 to 2½ hours if you like it well done.

To give the duckling an elegant shine, brush with this glaze about 30 minutes before it is finished:

Serve duckling surrounded with clusters of whole cooked apricots and watercress or parsley.

Monday's Dinner: Roast duckling with apricot stuffing, pureed sweet potatoes, Brussels sprouts, rye rolls, butter or margarine, compote of apple, grapefruit and grapes, sugar cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

COMEDY IN WORKS

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway impresario Nicholas J. Matsoukas is going to classical sources for aid in his production of the new musical comedy, "All's Fair." With book, lyrics and music by Hans Holzer, htis is an adaptation of the classical Lysistrata legend.

Matsoukas has commissioned Andreas Nomikos of the Athens Royal Theater to design the settings and costumes.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The Future Lies Ahead" was the pretentious title of Friday night's Mort Sahl special, but in some ways it was a look backward.

The show was taped some months ago and reportedly tinkered with until considered safe for mass viewing. The result: Sahl, a topical humorist in the great tradition of Will Rogers and Bob Hope, was limited to a single monologue about a date with a kookie dame.

He was funny in his nervous, brainy way, but he never got a chance to warm up. Perhaps, as many professionals claim, Sahl is too far out for the general TV audience. At least he should be given a chance at what he does best.

As further evidence of corporative timidity, the show was opened and closed by wheel horse Eddie Cantor. The entertainer made a speech patting the sponsor on the back for introducing new talent to the nation. Such a practice of a sponsor sponsoring encomiums for itself can be as suspect as the artificial applause and laughter this show featured.

But enough of carping. What was the show like? Better than average Ed Sullivan. Some of the new talent was indeed fresh and interesting, if fleetingly glimpsed.

The standout was Frankie Vaughan, a big star in England but just getting known here. He has a facile voice and a mobile delivery. In other words, he moves. He sells the song and himself quite well.

A harmonious trio, Jonie, Johnny and Hal, showed some real promise. So did Norman and Dean, better than most of the hundreds of comedy teams trying to follow Martin and Lewis.

RARE WOLF SIGHTED

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — The first sighting of a gray wolf in Wyoming in more than 20 years was reported this winter.

Martin Crowe, Casper, and A. E. Baugh, Venice, Calif., reported sighting the wolf north of Jackson about 50 feet from where three elk had been chased into a clearing.

The last known gray wolf was reported in Wyoming in 1936.

SAN JUAN FESTIVAL

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Eight former Broadway hits are being presented during the eight-week San Juan Drama Festival. Boris Karloff, playing the lead role in "Arsenic and Old Lace," opened the festival. He played the part on Broadway 1,400 times.

Other stars who will appear during the festival are Edward Everett Horton, Joan Bennett, Donald Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Brien, Fay Bainter and Betty Furness.

Sea Island cotton, the "aristocrat of cotton fibers," is grown almost exclusively in the British West Indies and Puerto Rico, and in very small quantities.

matter of FACT

Long before man had harnessed electricity and adapted it to shock treatments to treat certain forms of mental illness, the electric catfish was used for just this purpose. There are records showing that eleventh-century Mohammedan doctors used electric catfish to treat epilepsy. They insulated themselves and pressed the fish against their patient.

They Won't Leave Nest; Parents' Job Is to Push 'Em

One thing parents should never forget is that the day comes when they have to push their kids out of the family nest and say, "You're on your own. Good luck and God bless you."

A mother of a 19-year-old boy writes: "Our son has been out of high school for a year and a half and we can't seem to get him to go to college, though he has a good mind and we can afford to send him.

"He doesn't even have a job, though all of his friends are either in school or working. My husband is getting tired of giving him money to keep up his car, have dates, and so on. But I'm not sure what we should do. We don't want to nag him until he leaves home. So what's left?"

Just put the facts on the line. Tell him that you want very much for him to get a college education, but that you can't force him to.

Then point out that he has a choice. He can either go on and finish his education or accept the fact that his school days are over and that he is now responsible for making his own way in the world.

Tell him that there'll be no more spending money coming from mama and papa and that he will not only have to get a job to stay in cigarette and gasoline money, but that you expect him to pay for his board and room at home.

It is no favor to a young man to encourage him to lie around home, letting papa support him when he should be either training himself for a career or earning his keep.

As long as you make the nest safe and cozy and comfortable why should your son decide to exert himself?

If you don't give him a push toward ambition and independence the next thing you know he'll be bringing home a bride and you'll have a couple to support. So you had better get tough in a hurry, both for your son's sake and for your own.

Day Unit Of Home Bureau Meets Friday

BLUFFS — The Bluffs Home Bureau Day Unit met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oscar Merriman. Mrs. Ila Tash, unit chairman, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Merriman and Mrs. George Krusa gave the major lesson, "Chicken in the Menu." They stuffed a chicken with rice dressing and demonstrated how to truss poultry to conserve the juices. The chicken was oven roasted.

They also demonstrated broiling chicken wings and bacon wrapped chicken livers using a barbeque sauce on the pieces. They then prepared half a Rock Cornish hen for braising and the other half for cooking in foil. All were cooked during the meeting and served with hot rolls and coffee at the close of the afternoon.

Twelve members and three guests, Mrs. Emma Waters, Mrs. Paul Vannier and Mrs. Norris Merriman and children answered roll call with "Something I Would Like to Accomplish in 1960."

During the business session the February meeting was changed to the 23rd because of a conflict. The Home Bureau Play Day will be March 23; the place is to be announced later. "Winter Wonderland," the song of the month, was sung by the group.

Mrs. George Danhaus presented the minor lesson on "Decorative Stitches." This was very interesting with the members participating in making several of the stitches. She had several samples of work that showed various combination of stitches and colors.

Evening Unit

The Evening Unit of the Bluffs Home Bureau met Monday evening with Mrs. Fritz Stegeman, Jr. The major lesson "Chicken and Turkey in the Menu" was presented by Mrs. Paul Vannier.

Mrs. Vannier prepared chicken stuffed with walnut bread dressing, demonstrating the proper trussing to retain the juices. She prepared broiled chicken wings and chicken livers wrapped in bacon brushed with barbecue sauce.

WAVERLY FARMER WINS BERMUDA TRIP

David Workman, young Waverly farmer, and his mother, Mrs. Russell Workman, will spend a week in Bermuda next month. He was one of the 20 winners of a national contest based on knowledge of the efficiency of modern farm equipment.

The award was made last week by Gerald Shumaker of the Shumaker Implement Co. of Waverly, local sponsor in the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. Fall Purchase Contest. Shown in the photo, from left, are Roy Pitcher, Peoria, branch sales manager for Allis-Chalmers; Paul Nelsen, Jacksonville, blockman; Workman and Shumaker.

The trip will be made by air and all the winning families will meet for a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York before returning to their homes.

Following a discussion was held of proper choices of all types of poultry and suggestions and use of new varieties on the market, such as the Rock Cornish roasting chicken used in the demonstration. At the close of the evening the prepared dishes were served with cabbage salad, hot biscuits and coffee.

Mrs. Stegeman gave the minor lesson on decorative stitches, showing the use of the six basic embroidery stitches in making some very lovely designs.

During the business session it was announced that Mrs. Earl Lovekamp and Mrs. Gerald Schmitz would present a fifteen minute program at 1:15 the following day on radio station WLDS. The organization voted to help pay for the vegetables to be used at the Scott County 4-H Leader banquet on Monday, Jan. 25. Roll call was answered by what I would like to accomplish in 1960.

Guests were Mrs. Donald Korty, Mrs. Glenn Sievers and daughter, Ruth, and Miss Linda Berry.

Accepts Pastorate

The Rev. James F. Hawley of Tripp, S. D., has accepted the pastorate of the Trinity Lutheran Church at Neelyville. Present plans are for coming to the local charge early in February. He has been pastor of the Emmanus Lutheran Church since completing his ministerial studies at Concordia.

Rev. Marvin Matzke, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church northwest of Chapin, has been serving the congregation during the absence of a resident pastor, with the assistance of the students and professors of Concordia Seminary of Springfield.

It has been almost a year since the Rev. John Deterding, pastor of the church for 43 years, resigned. He passed away about a month later. Since that time numerous efforts have been made by the congregation to secure a successor. The entire community extends a cordial welcome to the new pastor.

Personals

Mrs. Cora Carter returned to her home in Bluffs Wednesday from Passavant Hospital where she has been a patient for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Pond left this week for a winter vacation in the south.

Present Plaques For Attractive Food Posters

Individual plaques and ribbons made of leather were presented last week to the winners in the "Food Comes First" poster contest sponsored last fall by Illinois Agricultural association and the Morgan County Farm Bureau.

The awards were made by the Farm Bureau Women's committee represented by Mrs. LeRoy Sweet of Franklin, president; Mrs. Boyce Moore, rural route 3, Jacksonville, and Mrs. Mearl Kern, Alexander.

Other winners in the 9-12 age group were Ellen Baptist, North Jacksonville; Linda Shanahan, Our Saviour's; Dennis Wegehoft, Salem Lutheran; Sherryl Freeman, North Jacksonville; Linda Shanhan, Our Saviour's; John D. Zeller, Our Saviour's.

Virginia Johnson of Franklin received a plaque for her poster, which was judged best in the 5-8 year old division. Other winners in this class were Deborah Reed, Mary Lou Robinson, Cathy Beck and Patricia Sowers, all of Franklin.

Over 90 posters were entered in the contest.

Sorghum Silage Satisfactory For Ewes

URBANA — Recent University of Illinois tests show that sorghum silage makes a satisfactory substitute for corn silage in rations for wintering bred ewes.

Ewes fed sorghum silage performed just as well as ewes receiving corn silage, reports U. S. Garrigus, who heads up the College of Agriculture's sheep division.

Garrigus explains that 104 head of bred ewes participated in the feeding trials. Researchers placed them at random into four drylots. Those in each lot received either corn or grain sorghum silage.

Ewes on the latter ration received 7½ pounds of silage. The silage was supplemented with ½ pound of shelled corn and 1/4 pound of a mixture of 80 percent soybean oil meal, 10 percent powdered limestone and 10 percent salt.

Ewes on the corn ration received 8 pounds of silage, plus the soybean oil meal, limestone and salt.

Five weeks before lambing, all ewes received an additional ½ pound of shelled corn. After lambing was well under way, researchers added another ½ pound of corn to the rations.

Circleville Ag Club Meets At Ashland Hall

ASHLAND—The Circleville 4-H Ag club met Monday evening in the American Legion hall for its monthly meeting. During the business meeting, it was discussed as to whether a skating party or a dance.

Talks were given by Randy Thornley on "4-H Activities;" Jim Deppe on "Where To Buy A Baby Beef;" Cynthia Evans on "What Makes a Good 4-H Club;" Weldon DeGroot on "Ten Ways to Improve a Farm;" and Roni Gardner on "How To Feed A Calf." A demonstration on "First Aid" was given by Sylvia Deppe and Janice Thornley. A piano solo was played by Andrea Jokisch.

Refreshments were served by Barbara and Eleanor, Thornley and Cynthia Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lathom and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aggertt accompanied Bruno W. Bierman to Jerseyville on Sunday. Mr. Bierman, along with Harold Landenmier from the state office of Public instruction, sponsored an educational program over radio station WJBM.

Mr. Lathom and Mr. Aggertt were interviewed in regard to serving as school board members and the need for better schools and more interest of our students to become teachers.

Home Bureau Of Meredosia Has Regular Meeting

MEREDOSIA—Wednesday afternoon the Progressive Unit of Home Bureau held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Alvin Unland, opening with the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Charles Wegehoft began the progarm by reading an article, "Changing Times," and followed it with a talk and pictures about a number of interesting things.

Miss Hazel Graves, Morgan-Scott home adviser, presented the major lesson, "The Price of Food." A general discussion of the subject formed part of the lesson.

"January and Febraury," the song of the month, was sung with piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Paul Sieving. During the intermission Mrs. Henry Schroeder conducted a contest and later gave each member a pencil.

To illustrate the selected subject, "Decorative Stitches," Mrs. Charles Smith had prepared several samples to show. She told how to make different embroidery stitches. She also had some books of stitches to pass around.

Mrs. Oscar Nortrup, unit chairman, presided over the business session. Fourteen members and one guest answered roll call with "Something I Would Like to Accomplish in 1960." The vice-chairman reported that the unit has seventeen members and one associate member. Reports of several committee chairmen were heard. Mrs. Marvin Schlieker read the highlights of the county board meeting.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 16, a change from the regular meeting date, at the home of Mrs. Smith, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Members are to bring a sack lunch. Mrs. Aldo Hierman will demonstrate baking and broiling chickens, the major lesson. The selected subject will be given by Mrs. Albert Telling.

Mrs. Minnie Steinberg conducted a second contest. Miss Graves described her trip to Alaska last December to visit her brother.

MRS. BEALMER ENTERTAINS STRAWN WOMEN

Mrs. Charles Bealmer entertained the Strawns Crossing Woman's Club at Hamilton's Cafe on Jan. 19. Mrs. Ethel Strawn, president, opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and a card was sent to Mrs. Tilman Stout. Mrs. Albert Standish presented the program using as her subject, "The Strange Ideas Young People Have About Our Next President."

Roll call was answered with current events. The hostess served refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at Hamilton's Cafe, Feb. 2. Mrs. Albert Standish will be hostess and Mrs. J. E. Rawlings will have the program.

To Attend IAA School In Peoria

Three young Jacksonville farmers will attend the fourth annual Young People Training conference sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural association. It will be held Sunday through Thursday at the Jefferson hotel in Peoria.

Those selected by the local Farm Bureau board to attend the school are James Ranson of Franklin, Wayne Tomhave of Jacksonville and Jerry Walker of Murrayville.

The school is divided into ten courses of study. Each student may enroll in any four courses he desires.

The aim of the school is to help in the development of future rural leaders.

When you weld, cut, solder or use any type of flame or heat, make sure there are no combustibles in the area. Sparks from cutting equipment can travel 30 feet or more.

As I See It

by E. W. BROWN

Somebody somewhere named the 12 best-dressed women in the world again. An English princess made it. If anybody can afford that kind of wardrobe, a princess can. She showed up at a foxhunt, though, in a leopard-skin scarf, sheep-skin jacket, plaid skirt, black stockings and moleskin boots. That's a pretty racy ensemble. But the judges have problems, too. Imagine the line of all the women in the world standing side by side for the judging. Or isn't that how they do it? That poor Bessarabian with gold coins in her ears and a fresh layer of sour butter on her hair figures she has the title cinched. And that Parisian model, poured into some modern version of the Iron Maiden, with a dress that looks a little like an upsidedown tulip, thinks she, too, is pretty stylish. Not us. We think that princess with the black stockings and the leopard skin scarf won it hands down. Congratulations.

Winter may have been slow in coming but we've had a real taste of it this week. If you're driving a worry wagon maybe you'd better have a look at some of the fine late models now on our lot. They are dependable and ready to go.

Most women go for the simpler things in life . . . men. It's a simple thing, too, to overlook the minor repairs necessary on the family car. But neglected minor defects now only lead to major repairs later. Our service department is equipped to handle any make or model automobile promptly and expertly, and our reputation during 38 years in business is your assurance that all service will be performed at the lowest possible cost to you. BIRTHDAY PARADE

Debra Lynn Wright

Debra Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright of 1611 Elmwood, makes her first appearance in the Birthday Parade today in honor of her first Birthday January 17.

Roger Dennis Chute

Five candles flickered on Roger's Birthday cake, January 19th, until he blew them out. Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Chute of 703 W. Lafayette, and has a little brother Robert Lynn.

Stanley Alan and Gail Lynn Crow

Stanley, who was five years old January 22, marches by next with his little sister Gail who was three Oct. 22. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crow of Waverly.

Kimberly Sue and Larry Dixon

Pamela Eloise Six

Mr. and Mrs. William Six' daughter Pamela makes her first appearance in the Birthday Parade today honoring her first Birthday which will be January 26. Their home is in Winchester.

Dorothy and Donald Spicer

Dorothy and Donald Spicer of 406 S. East are the first twins to march for some time. They will observe the 7 year-old Twin Birthday January 26.

Archie, Donald and Donna Whewell

Archie, who was five Aug. 5, with Donald and Donna who were one Oct. 27 missed getting in the Birthday Parade at that time so they have asked to march along to give a special Happy Birthday wish to the other marchers. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Whewell of Versailles and their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stuart of Roodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Enke of Bluffs.

Your Birthday

To march in the Birthday Parade, just send your name, address, age and birthdate to the Jacksonville Junior Journal Courier two weeks before your birthday. Send a snapshot if you have one; the photo may be called for as soon as it has appeared in the paper.

If you have a party, tell us about that later.

Free World's Largest Centrifuge

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

The main housing for the centrifuge is a cylinder-shape reinforced steel and concrete building 130 feet in diameter. The 180 ton, 4000 horsepower motor which swings the centrifuge's 50-foot steel arm is mounted in the center of this building.

On the outside end of this arm is an oblate spheroidal (flattened ball shape) gondola (cab) mounted in two gimbal (swivel) supports.

These gimbals can be turned by means of electric-hydraulic motors mounted on the counter weight which balances the gondola for the opposite end of the arm. This allows the position to be held continuously throughout the varieties of centrifugal force accelerations which result when the arm is set in motion.

Centrifugal force is the force that makes a spinning object tend to move in a straight line. This is the force that keeps the water in the bottom of a bucket when you whirl it around in a circle.

Of course, when you stop the centrifugal force is gone—so better try this outdoors! As you have probably guessed, the centrifuge gets its name from centrifugal force.

The gondola of the Navy centrifuge is of a sandwich construction with spun aluminum as the inner and outer layers. This cab is designed to carry a load of 600 pounds and can be decompressed (have air pumped out of it) to a pressure like that 60,000 feet above the earth.

The air condition system can also provide any temperature between 44 degrees Fahrenheit and 100 degrees Fahrenheit. This makes it possible for Naval flight surgeons to study the effects of g force in a variety of conditions.

Close study of subjects during centrifuge tests is done by means of television, movie and high speed X-ray cameras. Other electrical devices are also used to measure the subject's heart beat, the physiological instrumentation.

The gimbal and control and test equipment circuits are linked to the control and study sections by slip rings on rotor shaft that moves the centrifuge arm.

The whole room that holds the centrifuge is carefully shielded to protect the delicate physiological instrumentation from magnetic and electrical interference. All walls, floor and ceiling of the room are sheathed with 1/16th-inch-thick copper.

Radio For Boys

By Joseph A. Smith

Power Supplies

You would do well to reread (in "How To Become A Radio Amateur") "Diodes and Power Supplies" and "The Filter".

We have three common types of power supplies.

(1) HALF-WAVE rectifier type such as is used in A.C.-D.C. radios where the tube or selenium rectifier conducts only on the positive half of the A.C. cycle. This results in a lower ripple frequency in the output necessitating more filter capacitance in the filter to smooth this ripple out.

(2) FULL-WAVE rectifier types which employ two plates that conduct first one on the first half of the A.C. cycle and the other that conducts on the second half of this A.C. cycle. Since its output ripple frequency is 120 cycles per second (rather than 60 C.P.S. as with the Half-Wave rectifier) less filter capacitance is required to filter out this pulsating-D.C. component from the output of the full-wave rectifier. Most modern receivers and transmitters use power supplies of this type.

(3) BRIDGE RECTIFIERS — These are effective voltage doublers with an output voltage equal to about twice the voltage appearing on the secondary of the high voltage transformer's secondary winding. However, only one-half the normal current can be drawn from such a supply. For example: If the usual full-wave power supply is capable of, say, 350 volts of B-plus at up to 150 mills of current, the Bridge type supply will give up to 700 volts (depending on load on it) at up to 75 mills.

You should learn by memory all schmetics as published in the License Study Manual for the General Ticket (and Conditional). You will have to draw several of them on the written portion of the exam.

An example of a most reliable and useful 350 volt dual voltage power supply is shown in the A.R.R.L. "Economy Power Supply." This supply was adapted at this TH for use with a small home-brewed "Little Powerhouse" rig which used a 6V6GT (as oscillator or grounded grid buffer-doubler when VFO driven by an external home-brewed VFO) plus a 6146 final amplifier (tetrode clamper tube biased).

Its overall performance has been quite satisfactory for such a small rig. From it you can draw both 350 volts for the oscillator or buffer as well as approximately 650 volts for the 6146.

However, the conventional power supply of the full-wave type might simply furnish 350 volts of unregulated voltage at up to let's say 120 mills of maximum available current. Let's take such a supply apart piece by piece. (Several such supplies may be seen in the A.R.R.L. Handbook.)

The 117 volts A.C. line voltage comes in through the A.C. plug to the primary winding of the power transformer; to do this, current flows through the protective fuse, the primary of the power transformer, the switch (when closed) and back to the A.C. line. If two capacitors are used to bypass this A.C. line, it's done for the purpose of bypassing hum and lines noises to ground.

The 117 volt imput voltage (A.C.) is stepped up within the transformer windings to around 700 volts to center-tap or 350 volts either side of center-tap. This same imput voltage (117 volts A.C.) is stepped down for the rectifier and other filaments.

To STEP UP the secondary winding must have more turns in its winding of wire than is present in the primary imput winding. STEPPING DOWN is, of course, just the opposite.

The two 16 Ufd (or similar value) electrolytic filter condensers and the smoothing choke comprise the filter section. A suitable bleeder resistor might consist of a 25 K/10 watt wire wound resistor which would be across the output.

The purpose of the filter section is, of course, to filter out the pulsating D.C. component of the rectifier output and to smooth it out (through the choke) to pure D.C. voltage as it appears across the bleeder. Our friend the bleeder in turn acts as a small fixed load on the supply to aid regulation and bleeds the charge off the filter capacitors after the supply is shut off as a safety measure.

Basil is the Greek name for royal, or kingly.

Game To Play In The House

By Joseph A. Smith

Puttatoe

There will be bad winter days when you won't be able to get out and go. But don't despair, there are still plenty of things to do.

If you don't feel like working on a construction project, then perhaps a game will appeal to you.

If things annoy you when they don't always go as you would wish them to, then this game ISN'T for you!

Head for the pantry and round a pear, apple (less stem), or potato. Next look for a large piece of square cardboard, say 1½ or 2 feet square.

Now, with a crayon or colored pencil draw three concentric circles (one inside the other) on this cardboard. Number the innermost circle say 15 points, the middle circle area 10 points, and the outer circle area 5 points.

Place the cardboard on the floor at one end of the room, borrow a small cane, and go to the opposite side of the room. Now try to PUTT that potato, etc., into the center circle of the cardboard from a distance of say six feet or so.

Easy, you say? Boy, are you in for a surprise!

Try for say 100 points if more than one is playing. Each person gets five tries each turn.

The Great Show

By Emma Mae Leonhard

On January 2, four of us set out for our annual visit to the Chautauqua Wildlife Refuge to begin our 1960 annual bird list. It was cloudy and mild, as you may recall; and we feared that we would be driven back by January showers before we could explore as long as we wished.

Of course our main reason for driving so far was to see the Bald Eagle. Our experiences with the expanse of water, both lake and river, had taught us to expect this majestic bird. After driving as far as we dared, we set out on our long trek for our coveted bird.

As soon as we came to the large body of water bordered by the high, rocky road, we realized that our search might not be so easy as in previous winters. For the first time we saw no ice, just a great extent of open water.

There would be no Eagles sitting at the edge of the ice, eating fish, either dead or alive, but we still had hopes to sight one or two soaring in their favorite spots.

On we hiked over loose, rough rocks and muddy ruts, looking into the sky when we dared. We saw hundreds of ducks on both sides of the levy-like road and many Ring-billed and Herring Gulls, but no Eagles for a long time.

Then one lone, large, black bird with a white head and tail appeared seemingly out of nowhere; it was our bird for the day, we supposed. It accommodated us by flying very near to us and then was gone.

Naturally we were encouraged and hiked on, hoping to see more. People, it seems, are never satisfied. We hiked on at least four miles. It was noon, and we were hungry.

The hungriest boy found a good log and sat down to enjoy his sandwich which he had carried in his pocket. The other members of the party followed his example.

Curtain Rises

The hungry hikers ate silently as they gazed out over the lake. Then the curtain for the show of the day went up; the sun broke through the heavy, gray clouds and lighted the water stage. Soon, unannounced, a great flock of white and dark birds drifted in, a great mass of them, low over the water. Carelessly we thought of Gulls, of ducks.

Then we caught faint, distant, familiar sounds, a symphony of musically discordant sounds like the distant baying of hounds. This wide rank of dark birds dotted with white ones were Blue and Snow Geese, at least a thousand of them.

They moved on farther from us, like a great drop-curtain flecked with tiny, white, moving shapes. The flock lengthened, seeming to leave the quiet lake far behind, turned upward at an angle of about 60 degrees, and floated down, down until they dropped to the water and came to rest.

Thinking that the show was over, we resumed our hike. However, upon our return as the sun hung low in the sky, we heard that same falsetto chorus.

This time, higher in the sky, several irregular V-shaped clouds of Blue Geese dotted with the snow-flake-like Snow Geese drifted into the west, borrowing some of the rosy tints from the sunset sky. And the curtain closed on a great show in January.

Did You Know This About Color?

BY GERALD LAWLESS

We see different colors because light of varying colors has different wave lengths just as higher and lower sounds each have their own wave length.

This color can be seen because an article absorbs all light waves except those of the color it reflects. Body color or pigmentation (e.g. most paints; green or fall-colored leaves) is the term given to this type of color.

The other main sources of color included are varied. These sources, however, all share one fact. They are produced by the drabbest of substances.

Multicolored opal, which actually contains no pigment at all. Its many hues are caused by tiny cracks which break up white light into its various colors.

Sometimes light, in striking a thin, transparent film over solid background has some of its rays, as they reflect from the two surfaces, canceled and others strengthened (e.g. oil slick; many butterfly's wings). The distance between the two surfaces determines, to a large degree, the color which is reflected.

Color may come from a substance as energy given off during an atomic change (e.g. the effect of ultraviolet light on fluorescent rocks; gas-filled tubes emitting colored light while under electrical excitation).

Changing of white light into a many-colored pattern by spaced ridges (e.g. those on a phonograph record) by the processes of reinforcement and cancellation of the light wave lengths.

The creation of a spectrum by a glass prism.

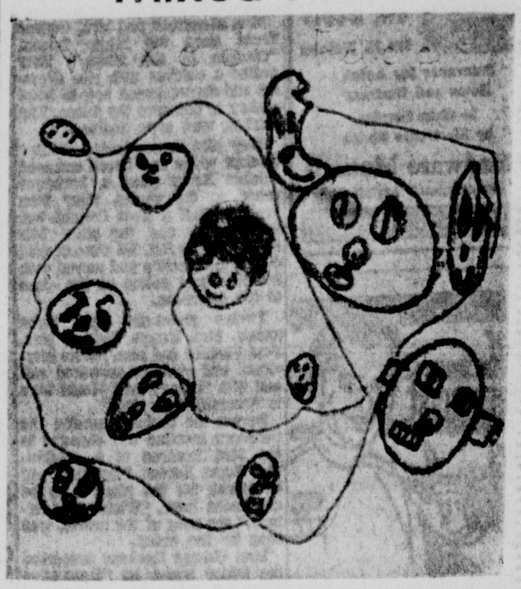

The scattering of the sun's light by the atmosphere and by its particles such as dust (e.g. giving the world its endless color combinations and hues that are found in sunsets).

You can have fun with color with a bevel-edged mirror and, next summer, with the hose spray in the sunshine.

The winner of the art contest, held during National Art Week for all interested high school sophomores and juniors in the city, was Alanna Heiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Heiss, 283 Sandusky street. Miss Heiss is shown above right with her painting. On the left is Mrs. LeRoy Jackson, Jr., art chairman for the Jacksonville Junior Woman's Club.

Miss Heiss will attend Robert Allerton Park Summer School of Art for one week. The school is sponsored in cooperation with the University of Illinois and Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. High school age boys and girls are given the opportunity to participate in technical and cultural studies in the arts.

Miss Beverly Cannon was runner-up and alternate for the award. Honorable mention was given to entries submitted by Carolyn Bunting, Alice Seestrom, Georgia Thompson, Bill Quinlan and Mike Tobin.

Judges were Pete Foersterling, art instructor at MacMurray College, and Mrs. Fred Omer. All entries were judged on originality, design, imagination, use of color and neatness.

Patricia Janet Carpenter

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Carpenter, Murrayville route one, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Janet, to Edward Earl (Butch) Lindemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lindemann of Alexander.

Patricia is a graduate of Jacksonville High School and employed at Hertzberg New Method Book Bindery and parttime at Jacksonville Foods Super Mart on North Main street.

Edward is a graduate of Franklin High School and works with his father in electrical contracting.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Robert Marsh Smith

Rob Smith And Bride Living In Urbana, Ill.

Since their wedding during the holidays Robert Marsh (Rob) Smith of Jacksonville and his bride, the former Marilyn Louise Deahl of Chicago, are making their home at 1211 West Main street in Urbana.

Marilyn, a graduate of Blackburn College, Carlinville where she received her BA degree as a math major in 1957 will be affiliated with University of Illinois in February. Rob, who received his BA degree from Illinois College in June of 1959 and BS in mechanical engineering the same year from Illinois Institute of Technology, is doing graduate work in management at the University of Illinois.

The former Miss Deahl has been engaged in Armour Research for the past two years.

The ceremony was performed at four o'clock in the afternoon of December 27, at First Presbyterian church in Chicago with the Reverends Leber and Blakely performing the double ring service in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer T. Deahl of Chicago and Rob is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Clarendon Smith, 503 East College avenue.

White chrysanthemums, potted red poinsettias and evergreens decorated the church. Dr. Congrere presided at the organ for traditional selections which included "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." The soloist was Miss Katherine Moore.

The bride's sister, Carol Deahl Ahlert of Evergreen Park, was matron of honor and Miss Dorothy R. Peaslee, Oak Park and Miss Pamela Smith of Jacksonville, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Ronald Burchett of this city was best man and Donald May, also of Jacksonville and David Deahl, Chicago, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were William Gustafson, Chicago, David Hicks, Jacksonville and Glenn Newkirk, Maywood, Ill.

Lace And Net Gown

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white lace and net over crisp taffeta. The long sleeved lace bodice was fashioned with net yoke over portrait cut decolletage. Sequins and pearls trimmed the lace medallions appliqued on the yoke and finishing the high neckline. The full skirt, extended over hoops, featured a wide lace panel front and back.

The bride's blusher veil of illusion, hand finished, was caught to a lace headdress studded with sequins and pearls. She carried a bride's bouquet of white orchids and amazon lilies.

The attendants were gowned alike in emerald green satin and crystalette. Made on princess lines the dresses were conventional length with full skirts. Their veiled satin headdresses and satin shell pumps were in a matching shade of green. Each carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mrs. Dealh chose for Marilyn's wedding a gold brocade dress with sand colored sequin hat and matching velvet gloves. Mrs. Smith wore cocoa brown lace on satin, satin slippers and champagne accessories. Both mothers wore yellow into green cymbidium orchid corsages.

Buffet-Reception Follows

Following the ceremony a reception was held in John Knox Hall at the church where a wedding buffet was served guests.

Among the special guests were Mrs. H. A. Langdon of Manchester, paternal grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Lena Daly, St. Joseph, Mo., aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Millar of Lombard, Illinois. Mrs. Millar is a cousin of the bridegroom. From Jacksonville, Ronald Burchett, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grojean, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Davidsmeyer, Don May, and David Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Savage, Mr. and Mrs. John Rider and Miss Daphne Schwab.

Murrayville Club Luncheon At Wades

Mrs. William R. Wade, Sr., entertained members of the Murrayville Woman's club at 12:30 luncheon at her home in Jacksonville Wednesday, Jan. 20th. Guests enjoyed chicken salad, Waldorf salad, relishes and hot rolls and for dessert orange mincemeat Bavarian pie with coffee, nutmeats and candies.

Following the sumptuous luncheon the meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag led by the hostess. The president, Mrs. Walter Hanback, presided over the meeting. The music chairman, Mrs. M. J. Benscoter, led in singing Auld Lang Syne. Roll was answered with a 'resolution worth keeping' by 14 members and one guest, Mrs. Stella Lawson of Jacksonville.

The secretary, Mrs. Wade, read minutes and various communications with the club voting to endorse the 13 Federated projects and a special gift to Morgan County Tuberculosis Sanitarium to provide chairs. The latter was taken up at the instigation of the county president, Mrs. Norman Marshall, a member of the club.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. T. G. Beadles. Mrs. James Symons, program chairman, presented the civil defense chairman Mrs. Fred Simpson, who quoted from Thomas S. Gates, Jr., head of the national defense program. Mrs. Symons closed this portion of the program with a poem.

Mrs. Henry Simmons was in charge of Club Carrousell, Legand of Flowers. The 12 months of the year were noted according to their respective flower. Each member read of the flower for the dozen months. The sequence was both educational and impressive.

The next meeting will be Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Martin in Murrayville.

Couple Married 35 Years Marks Date

CARROLLTON—Mr. and Mrs George Darr, Sr., who were married 35 years Wednesday, Jan. 20, were guests of honor Sunday at a family dinner given at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans Other guests were Mr and Mrs George E. Darr and children of Carrollton and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stayton of Alton.

Mr. Darr, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marion Darr and Miss Florence Bruns, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Bruns were married Jan. 20, 1925 at the rectory of the local Presbyterian church by the late Rev. E. P. Lieck. Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Carrollton, sister of the groom was the bridesmaid and Charles Allen of Bushnell was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Darr have made their home on a farm all of their married life and have lived for the past 32 years on the farm in Woodville township where they now reside. They are both active members of the Mt. Gilead Baptist church and Mrs. Darr is a member of the Mt. Gilead Community club.

They are the parents of three children, Mrs. Donald Evans and George E. Darr Carrollton and Mrs. Jerry Stayton of Alton. They also have five grandchildren.

Pittsfield Girl Engaged

PITTSFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Claus are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Kaye, to Myron William Casteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Casteel of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Kaye is a senior in Pittsfield high school and is employed by the General Telephone Company.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Evelyn Kitchens Heads Caritas Lodge

Many guests were present for the public installation of new officers Monday evening, Jan. 11, of Caritas Rebekah Lodge 625 held at the IOOF Temple. The hall was attractively decorated in white with potted ferns and the lodge colors, pink and green.

New Officers

Past N.G. Pin

The Past Noble Grand jewel was presented Glennis Dickman as she was escorted to her station, by Florence Wood. Soloist Nan Milburn sang, "I Love You Truly."

The Noble Grand Elect, Evelyn Kitchens was escorted to her station and received pink roses from the Lodge presented by her granddaughter, Linda Kitchens and personal gifts from her grandsons, Michael and Stephen Kitchens. Mrs. Milburn then sang "I Shall Not Pass this Way Again."

Eighteen Escorts

Deputy officers and elective officers were escorted through an arch made by 18 escorts each holding long stem pink roses entwined with green. All wore pastel formal wear.

Mrs. Margaret Deegan, wearing a beige gown, presented the Bible for elective officers obligations. The installed Noble Grand Elect then thanked her committees. The District Deputy presented her a personal gift and she welcomed and presented her relatives and guests present. Mrs. Milburn then sang, "That's How I Need You."

The installing chairman issued thanks to her committees and introduced the escorts. Mrs. Milburn then sang "Give this Day."

Caritas Rebekahs Install New Officers

Members and guests were entertained at a reception following the installation. Refreshments of cake, coffee, mints and nutmeats were served from a handsome lace covered table centered with pink roses in a bronze container and appointed with silver urn service. On the refreshment committee were Glennis Dickman, Anna Bernice Smith, Florence Woods, Helen Sikes, Henry Bolton, Raymond Reeve, S. C. Sikes, Nick Koste and Russell Fairfield.

Harold Edwards of Ashland To Be Bridegoom

ASHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Fisher of Fithian, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to Harold V. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Edwards, of Ashland.

A graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Mr. Edwards is a science teacher at John Greer High school in Hoopeston.

Mrs. Hartman Speaks Before Household Club

The vice president, Mrs. John Taylor, conducted the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Tilman Stout.

Mrs. Emmett Evans and Mrs. Lester Reed were introduced as guests. Mrs. H. A. Hammitt, program chairman, presented Mrs Robert Hartman who gave a most interesting and informative paper on Awareness of the Phony Price Tag. Mrs. Hartman said that with rising costs everyone should pay special attention to the phony price tag. A bargain is a bargain only if you really want an article, can use same and afford the cost of the purchase. People should learn to read ads and know facts about merchandise, Mrs. Hartman stated.

Chinaware Topic Before Tuesday Club

Tuesday club met at the home of Mrs. Willard Cody, 805 West Douglas avenue, the afternoon of Jan. 19.

Mrs. Ralph Woods, president, was in charge of the business session. Mrs. Cody announced the program for the afternoon with Mrs. Bryce Wall in charge. Mrs. Wall presented Russel Vernor from Duncan and Vernor Jewelers, who gave an interesting talk on "Chinaware."

Mr. Vernor told of his visit to the Pickard plant in Antioch, Ill., the only china manufacturing company west of Syracuse, N.Y., until those on the west coast.

He displayed several beautiful plates in various patterns and pointed out charcteristics of each. Mr. Vernor then showed a colored film on figurines and Toby jugs, made by the Royal Doulton Co. This showed the many steps necessary in producing pieces that are perfect in every detail.

Mr. Vernor graciously answered questions regarding certain china patterns and details in the manufacture of chinaware.

Miss Zelma Hackman was a guest. Mrs. M. R. Range of Wheaton, Ill., an associate member, was present for the meeting.

Refreshments were served from a lovely tea table where Mrs. Range poured. The next meeting of the club will be held Feb. 16 with Mrs. Vernon Scholfield, 404 Westgate.

CWF Groups Have Joint Potluck

The Bonham, Rossman, and Stone Groups of Christian Women's Fellowship held a joint potluck dinner and meeting at 6:30 p.m. January 20 in the social rooms of Central Christian Church.

Following the dinner Mrs. Gladys Rust opened the meeting with devotions and song.

Mrs. Navalee Eyre presented the program with a talk on "Need of Leadership" using as her theme Jesus' requirements of leadership.

The meeting was then divided into the respective groups for short business meetings.

Fewer Medical Students 1910 Editorial Worry

By CECIL TENDICK

Fifty years ago newspaper editors throughout the nation were getting worked up about medical education. Enrollment in the 168 medical colleges in America was dropping seriously, and some of the weaker schools were forced out of existence by lack of students.

"Where are the doctors of the future to come from," asked the editorial writers.

The Jacksonville Journal took a calm outlook at the problem. The editors flatly declared that there were too many doctors in the country— either for their own good or the good of the community. There were also too many schools of medicine, they said, pointing out that the United States had 168 schools, such as they were, as compared with only 172 in the rest of the world.

"We cannot share the worries of our colleagues," the Journal said. "The automobile is here to stay, and good roads are sure to follow. It will take only a few minutes, in the near future, for the doctor to see his patient, or the patient to consult his physician. We don't need more doctors, we need better doctors."

Thick, Everywhere

Morgan county had 80 doctors. There were 52 in Jacksonville; Waverly had 5; Franklin, 4; Murrayville, 4; Chapin, 3; Meredosia, 3; Woodson, 2. Alexander, Prentice, Sinclair, Concord, Lynnville, Nortonville and Literberry had one each.

The 1959 directory issued by the American Medical association lists 42 doctors in Morgan county.

In 1913 Pike county had 62 doctors. There were 10 in Pittsfield. Milton had 4; New Salem, 1, Barry, 7; Pleasant Hill, 4; Summer Hill, 2; Kinderhook, 3; Fishhook, 1; Nebo 3; El Dara, 1; Perry, 2; Griggsville, 6; Baylis, 4; New Hartford, 1; Pearl, 3; Chambersburg 1; Rockport, 3; New Canton, 3; Detroit, 1. This was one doctor for each 13 square miles; one for every 462 people in the county.

The 1959 directory lists 13 physicians in Pike county.

Cass county had 26 doctors in 1913: Beardstown, 9; Virginia, 6; Arenzville, 3; Ashland, 4; Chandlerville, 4. Now it has nine.

There were 15 physicians in Scott county: Winchester, 7; Manchester, 2; Bluffs, 2; Alsey, 1; Merritt, 1; Exeter, 1, and Glasgow, 1. Six were listed in 1959. Since then one has died and another has retired.

In 1913 there were 41 doctors in Greene county: White Hall and Carrollton had 10 each, Roodhouse, 5; Hillview, 1; Wrightsville, 1; Athensville, 1; Greenfield, 4; Patterson, 2; Kane, 3; Eldred, 2, and Rockbridge, 2.

An Actual Surplus

In 1913 the writer's home town had eight doctors. Four of them made so little money that they never owned an automobile. In fact, two of them never got enough money together to buy a horse and rig. Only two of them left estates of any size when they died, but one of the two left fewer of the so-called worldly goods than he inherited from his father. During the influenza epidemic during World War I the latter traveled day and night in a storm buggy. He wore out two drivers and two teams of fine horses that had cost him $650 and $800. He lost 24 patients, and nearly killed his horses and himself. About half of his patients never got around to paying his modest fees.

The doctors didn't charge the poor, and usually weren't paid for the medicines they furnished. In 1913 the town board appropriated $900 for poor relief—this in a township of 44 sections—including $100 for medical assistance. The latter proved to be just a clerical gesture, as the grocer and butcher and clothier were paid before the doctor, every time.

Different Now

Today the home town has the same number of residents, around 1,400, and has two doctors. Both are exceptionally skilled, are extremely hard workers and are making a lot of money. They are doing a first rate job of conserving the health of the community, ever so much better than the eight doctors of 1913.

It appears that the editors of the Journal were right when they declared, 50 years ago, that the country didn't need more doctors, but better doctors.

HIGHER AND HIGHER EDUCATION—College attendance and costs are at an all-time high and destined to zoom even higher during the next decade. (See Newschart above.) Say 11 education experts in a symposium recently published by McGraw-Hill. Some predictions include: college enrollment will be between six and seven million by 1970 (3.6 million today); salaries of full professors must average about $17,000 to compete with other careers ($9,000 now); annual cost of the nation's colleges will near 10 billion dollars, with the bill paid by higher tuitions, more public aid and more efficient administrative operation.

With The Girl Scouts

A well-attended annual Council meeting was held Wednesday of last week, highlighting Girl Scout activities this month. Seven new members were elected to the Board of Directors and five new members were named to serve on the Membership - Nominating committee. Also three delegates were elected to attend the National Council to be held in November, 1960, in St. Louis.

Registered volunteers in Girl Scouting from four counties, Morgan, Cass, Scott and Greene, attended this important meeting.

New board members were elected as follows: Mrs. Charles Vieira, Mrs. Howard Houlette, Greenfield; Mrs. Chester Hemphill, Mrs. Leroy Pond, Bluffs; Mrs. Bud Roth, Carrollton; Mrs. Leroy Martin and Mrs. George McNamara. These board members were appointed to positions on the Board by the Council President, Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, respectively, as follows: Chairman, Employed Personnel, Chairman, Camp Committee; Chairman, Finance Committee, Neighborhood Chairman, Scott County; Neighborhood Chairman, Greene County; Member-at-large; and Chairman, Public Relations Committee.

Membership-Nominating

A Membership-Nominating Committee was elected as follows: Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mrs. George Losch, Mrs. Carroll Rexroat, Mrs. Catherine Bacon and Mrs. Louis Dean, all of Jacksonville.

Delegates and alternates were elected to the National Convention to be held in St. Louis in November, 1960, as follows: Delegates, Mrs. Howard Choate, Mrs. Ralph Sullivan, Mrs. Leroy Martin; alternates, Mrs. Jack Wise, Mrs. William Gross, Mrs. Robert Hartman, Jacksonville.

The meeting opened with informal gathering for coffee and samplings of the new, fresh Girl Scout cookies which will be sold by the Scouts this March.

Business Meeting

At 1:30 the president, Mrs. Sullivan, called the meeting to order and minutes of the fall Council meeting held in Winchester were read and approved. A detailed financial report was then presented. Mrs. Sullivan called on the cookie chairman, Mrs. Sam Pack, to tell the group about the coming cookie sale, and then Mrs. Sullivan spoke to the group regarding accomplishments and plans for the future. The slate was presented by Mrs. Howard Choate, in the absence of the chairman of the Membership-Nominating Committee, Mrs. Jack Wise. Tellers were appointed and a written ballot took place, the results of which appear above.

Mrs. Eddy Speaks

Mrs. Elmer Lukeman, a member of the program committee, then presented Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, who gave an inspiring talk on the theme "You Can Count on Her to be Prepared." Mrs. Eddy quoted the first minister of education in Turkey who said, "who teaches me one thing, I am his slave for life," and Mrs. Eddy suggested that Scout leaders look back on their own lives and the persons who had influenced them — teachers, friends, etc. Scout leaders, she said, could be of great influence on young people, and that this was a great opportunity offered them.

She stated that it was not easy to lead young people, that the demands were many but that the compensations were many too. It is a challenge to be able to help young people develop their own capacities in an age when so much is done for them. There is a satisfaction in watching young people develop during the years about which Harry Emerson Fosdick said, "Be careful lest the flowering time be lost."

Mrs. Eddy stated that many women hesitate to carry responsibility for leading troops, because, perhaps, of lack of knowledge and experience, but that there were many resources to assist a volunteer—our community and the council office.

Scouting Attributes

Two attributes of Scouting impressed the speaker, the achievement program, the rewards and goals which provide stimulus and character building, and the integration of its beliefs, its inclusiveness.

Mrs. Eddy concluded her talk by words of encouragement to the leaders that if each does her best and approaches the work with a calm mind, she can carry gifts to the Scouts and can, in turn, receive gifts from them, for they have much to give.

Several new troops are in the process of being organized in the Council area and the executive director has been holding mothers' meetings in schools in the four-county area.

Training Session

Basic training for new leaders has been expanded to include a two-day training session and the first one of these will be held Feb. 2 and 4 at the Scout office. This will be for both Brownie and Intermediate Scout leaders. Members of the training committee of the Board of Directors met Monday at the office to make plans for the event.

Film Workshop

The second film workshop, entitled "Weaving and Man's Dress" will be presented Tuesday morning, Jan. 26, at 9:30 o'clock at the Scout office. The Hands of Man, Adventuring the Hand Arts is the title of the series of workshops being presented. They are excellent presentations by expert instructors and give many helpful hints to leaders working with young girls in these hand arts. Mimeographed instructions are available for additional help in guiding troops in creative crafts. Because of the difficulty in setting up the sound projector, these workshops are all being held at our central location.

New Committee

The new membership-nominating committee will meet Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, at 7:30 o'clock in the Scout office. This meeting will be held to organize the committee and set up plans for the coming year.

An unusual service project was undertaken by members of Intermediate Troop No. 63 last Sunday, when they went to the Christian Home at 2:15 p.m. to participate in the church service held at the home. The girls sang two hymns for the service. They were accompanied by the leader, Mrs. Howard Choate, and her assistant, Mrs. Jean Christison. The girls are working as a troop on the good grooming badge.

Investiture Service

Members of Mrs. Marian Clay's Intermediate Troop No. 33 are getting ready for an investiture service next week. February is the troop's birthday month.

Troop organizers or other interested persons who know of any grades which want to organize Girl Scout troops are asked to notify the Scout office as soon as possible so that these girls may be registered as Girl Scout troops before the annual cookie sale begins in the middle of March.

State Adviser On Conservation To Speak At Hardin

HARDIN — Paul Huddleson, watershed redevelopment advisor for the state, will be the principal speaker Monday night at the annual dinner meeting of the Calhoun Soil Conservation District, in the Hardin school cafeteria. The 6:30 dinner will be prepared and served by the women of the Calhoun County Home Bureau.

During the business session, reports of the year's work will be heard, and new directors will be elected to the board. Board officers will be elected at an organization meeting later in the year. H. L. Johnson is now serving as chairman of the board. Ray H. Johnson, Jr. is soil conservation technician for the district.

Monday night's entertainment will include vocal numbers by the girls' sextet of Unit 40 High School. Tickets for the dinner may be obtained at the office of the soil technician in the Farm Bureau Building, or from one of the directors.

January Meeting Of Woman's Club Held At School

MEREDOSIA — Monday night the Meredosia Junior Woman's Club held its January meeting in the high school home economics room, beginning at 8 o'clock. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag, followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. After that the first verse of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung, led by Mrs. Earl Lovekamp, music chairman. Eighteen members were present.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Daryle Tegeder, vice-president, read the minutes of the December meeting. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Robert Duvendack.

A quartet from the Meredosia-Chambersburg school sang and a quartet from the band played. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alhorn showed the slides that they had taken in Germany. The slides were interesting and beautiful and were enjoyed by everyone.

The club is invited to the Bluffs Junior Woman's Club meeting on January 21 in the Civic Building.

The refreshment committee members for February are Mrs. Glen Janes, Mrs. Robert Duvendack and Mrs. Donald Seymour.

The standing committees were announced: program—Mrs. Galen Pool, chairman; Mrs. Herbert Hinners and Mrs. John Alhorn; Budget—Mrs. Leon Smith, chairman; Mrs. Harry Little and Mrs. David Arnold; Music—Mrs. Earl Lovekamp, chairman; and Mrs Wayne Hammitt; Ways and Means—Mrs. Marvin Werries, chairman; Mrs. Donald Seymour, Mrs. Robert Fricke and Mrs. William Hawkshaw.

Press book — Mrs. Ray Staake and Mrs. Herbert Hinners; Membership—Mrs. Glen Janes; Reservations—Mrs. John Miller; Parliamentarian—Mrs. Daryle Tegeder; Historian—Mrs. Gail Staake; Citizenship—Mrs. John Alhorn; Recreation — Mrs. Robert Lansink, chairman; and Mrs. Leland McAllister.

Gifts and flowers—Mrs. Ray Staake, chairman; and Mrs. Tegeder; Auditing—Mrs. Gale Chute and Mrs. David Arnold; Publicity—Mrs. Leon Smith, and Boys' Town chairman—Mrs. Earl Lovekamp.

Refreshments of brownies, cookies and coffee were served by Mrs. Herbert Hinners, Mrs. Leland McAllister and Mrs. Ray Staake.

The next meeting will be February 8 at eight o'clock.

Friendship Circle

Tuesday night the Friendship Circle of St. John's Lutheran ULCW met at the home of Mrs. Alvin Unland, with thirteen members present.

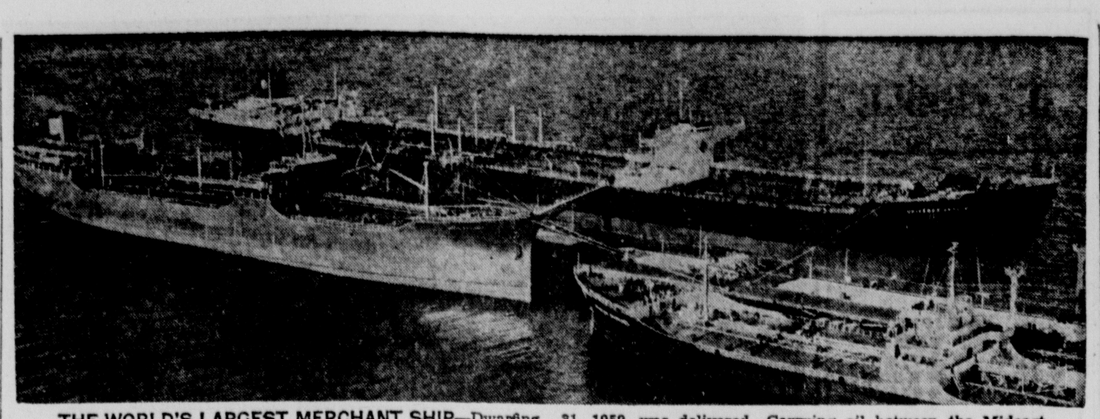

The lesson, "Africa," was given by Mrs. John Miller; Mrs. Eugene McDannold read scripture. The hymn accompanying the lesson was played by Mrs. Howard Edlen.

The president, Mrs. Gilbert Steinberg, conducted the short business session. The February meeting will be at Mrs. Steinberg's home, with Mrs. Ernest Koch as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Duane Beauchamp and Mrs. Unland served ice cream and cake roll, coffee, candy and mints.

Visitors

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coulter of East Peoria called at the home of Mrs. Bertha Rice while they were in this area attending meetings in Rushville and Clayton. Mr. Coulter was the Methodist minister in Meredosia several years ago.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST MERCHANT SHIP—Dwarfing two other tankers in a Kuwait port (tonnage of the one at left is 27,008, the one at right, 38,649) is the world's largest merchant ship—the tanker Universe Apollo. The keel for the 106,416-deadweight-ton ship was laid June 30, 1958, in Japan. Less than five months later, she was launched, and on Jan. 31, 1959, was delivered. Carrying oil between the Mideast and Japan, the ship is 949 feet, 9 inches long. Her breadth is 135 feet (16 feet wider than the Queen Elizabeth). Her draft of 48 feet when loaded compares with 37 feet for the aircraft carrier USS Forrestal. She will do 16 knots loaded and has an around-the-equator cruising range of 27,000 miles.

Pleasant Plains State Bank Has Annual Meeting

PLEASANT PLAINS—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pleasant Plains State Bank was held at its banking house on Thusday, Jan. 14 Directors elected were Scott B. Irwin, Harold F. Zude, Walter R. Lohman, Harry C. Tomlin and R. W. Kettelkamp.

New officers are Scott B. Irwin, president; Walter R. Lohman, vice president; Harold F. Zude, cashier; Roland G. Long, assistant cashier; and Jessie M. Turner, assistant cashier.

Roland G. Long was elected assistant cashier to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles E. Hurst.

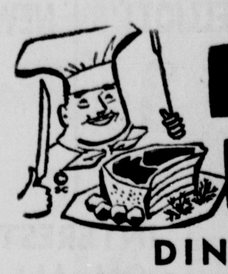

After graduating from the New Berlin high school, Mr. Long attended Western Illinois State College, Macomb, Ill., where he received his B. LAND OR SEA—A new motorboat bursts from the deep and plows over a 30-foot stretch of dry land at Cypress Gardens, Fla., before dunking itself again without damage. Called a Buehler Turbocraft, the boat has neither propeller nor rudder, but pumps water to gain jet thrust. It is designed to go full tilt in three inches of water. Runs on any old thing.

Michael T. Gottlieb, my old teammate on the Four Aces, retired from bridge shortly after we won the first World's championship in 1935. He returned to competition in the 1959 Phoenix sectional and while his bidding is somewhat old fashioned his dummy play will do until someone comes along with ability to see through the backs of the cards.

His three no-trump contract was perfectly normal and while other declarers ducked the first diamond Mike wanted all the tricks if possible. He won in dummy and led a club. East played the ten. Mike went up with the ace and promptly finessed against West's queen. A heart finesse came next and when that succeeded also Mike was ready for operation squeeze.

He cashed his high diamond, took another club finesse and discarded a spade on dummy's fourth club.

On the fifth club lead East was squeezed out of a spade in order to hang on to all his hearts. Mike discarded the heart deuce, took another heart finesse and cashed the ace of hearts.

This put the squeeze on West also. He had to throw a spade in order to hang on to a diamond and three spade tricks completed the grand slam.

300 At Reception For Calhoun Couple

HARDIN, Ill. —More than 300 guests attended a reception Sunday afternoon in Hardin, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robeen on their 50th wedding anniversary. The all-purpose room of St. Norbert's parochial school was the scene of the reception which was planned by the couple's children.

The room was decorated with streamers of yellow paper and gold foil, and floral arrangements in appropriate colors The refreshment table was placed at one end of the room, and a gift table at the opposite end. Ronald Cory of Jerseyville was responsible for the decorations.

Assisting with the serving were children and other relatives, and close friends of Mr. and Mrs Robeen. Punch and coffee were poured by Mrs. Curtis Robeen and Mrs. Vincent Robeen, and cake was served by Mrs. Lawrence Poeling and Mrs. Mary Robeen, assisted by Mrs. Al Buchanan and Mrs. Russell Godar. Mark Robeen was in charge of the guest book, and the gifts were cared for by Mrs. Louis Robeen and Mrs. Carl Fiedler.

Mr. and Mrs. Robeen were married in St. Mary's church in Brussels on Jan. 18, 1910, and their attendants at the ceremony, Mrs. Gertrude Jones, sister of the groom, and Joseph Arnold, brother of the bride, were present for Sunday's celebration. Mrs. Robeen was the former Margaret Arnold, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Arnold, and Mr. Robeen is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Robeen.

The couple has nine children, 43 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. The children are Robert of Golden Eagle, Louis and Curtiss of Michael, Vincent and Mark of Hardin, Mrs. Carl Haynog Kampsville, Mrs. Lawrence Poeling of Portage De Sioux and Mrs. Carl Fiedler of Godfrey.

semble memory books. The centerpieces were yellow and white floral arrangements. Josephine Muckelston, Vera Kinnet and Edith Archer were in charge of decorations.

The dining room committee consisted of Nona Read, Francis Johnston, Violet Grogan, Wilford Powell, Bob Shearl and Bill Buchanan.

Refreshments, consisting of a fruit cocktail pudding and coffee, were prepared by Lucille and Paul DeFrates, Ted and Del Suhre and Trilby Hicks.

The two centerpieces were presented to the first Worthy High Priestess, Fern Haigh, and to Lucille Hageman, the Jr. Past Worthy High Priestess, who in turn sent them to sojourners who are ill at this time.

Next meeting will be on Feb. 19 and will be Brothers' Night. The meeting will not be formal.

Shrine Celebrates 39th Anniversary

On Friday, January 18th, at the Masonic Temple, the White Shrine of Jerusalem celebrated its 39th anniversary by holding a Past Officers and Anniversary Night.

Past officers of the order filled most of the stations with Lucille Hageman, Jr. Past Worthy High Priestess of Waverly, serving as Guest Worthy High Priestess and Leroy Wurtsbaugh, Jr. Past Watchman of Shepherds of this city, serving as Watchman of Shepherds for the evening.

Brief History

Malta Shrine No. 51, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem was instituted in 1921 by Sojourner Clara Coe Hannon, Supreme Worthy Scribe by the authority of the Supreme Shrine, and was assisted by the officers of Nazarine Shrine of Beardstown.

Malta Shrine was granted its charter on May 10, 1921. Miss Fern Haigh was chosen as first Worthy High Priestess and Mr. William Spillman as Watchman of Shepherds. Since that time new officers have been elected and appointed each year; the present presiding officers being Shirley Stallings, WHP, and Ernest V. Pires, WOS.

Guest Officers

Experiences Recalled

Sojourner Shirley Stallings, WHP, called on the past officers in the room to relate at least one of the experiences occurring during their year as presiding officers. Many good times were recalled and all were reminded again of the good friendships made and held during service in the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

It has been suggested that each past officer write a brief history of his year including anecdotes, trips, and other good times and all be compiled into a booklet.

Sojourners Lucille Hageman and Leroy Wurtsbaugh gave interesting talks from their places of honor, and Ernest V. Pires congratulated all past officers on their stories and thanked all officers, guests and sideliners for coming.

Pro-tem officers and regular officers filling stations for the evening were: Clyde Landreth, King; Thomas Johnston, 3rd W.M.; Paul DeFrates, W. Guard; Nan Milburn, Soloist; Della Jackson, Escort to Banner; Edith Archer, Escort to Banner; Ella Ashby, Escort to Chr. F. ; Lena Melton, Bible Bearer; Mildred Cruse and Corrine Lashmet, Escorts to Bible; Tamar Burch, Queen's Attendant and Wilford Powell, K.G.

Dining Room

After the meeting the officers, guests and members all adjourned to the dining room where the yellow and white decorations followed the anniversary theme. The place card favors were made in the shape of past officers' pins made from yellow cardboard and white pipecleaners.

Ashland Church Setting Up 1960 Work Program

ASHLAND — The Church of Christ is making plans for an annual program for work among the members.

The program consists of the following committees: evangelism, worship, education, finance, membership, fellowship, benevolence, men's work, women's work, property and publicity.

There are four goals to be worked for in the year's work as follows: 15% attendance increase, conservation, evangelism and fellowship.

The worship committee met Monday night in the church to talk over plans. Fifteen were in attendance, and the meeting was opened with prayer by L. D. Lewis. Francis Marion is chairman of the worship committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yancy and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Allen left Sunday morning for a two weeks vacation in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cosner left Sunday noon for Fort Myers, Fla., for a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Jones and Mrs. Grace Kendall, who were former Ashland residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nortrup of Champaign spent last weekend here at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nall.

Rev. and Mrs. George Eilers of Springfield, who purchased the D. E. Wilson home in the west end of this city, have moved into their home. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are now in Florida for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dodge of Macomb were weekend guests at the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Dodge, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie T. Brownell of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sheehan and Mrs. Lloyd J. Stocks of Springfield were Sunday dinner guests of the Misses Elma and Rosella Jones.

One of the major rooms in Boston University's Faculty Club has a giant, old-fashioned black stove dominating the scene. The room was the kitchen when the club opened in 1902. The stove remained behind when a modern kitchen was installed.

Gil Hodges of the Los Angeles Dodgers ranks 11th in the all-time major league home run totals with 345. He is fourth on the active list.

Discussion Held At Meeting Of Lutheran PTL

The Salem Lutheran Parent Teachers League held its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday evening, Jan. 20. The meeting began at 7:30 p.m. with the hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God."

President Don Fiedler introduced the program chairman, Kohl Perbix. Mr. Perbix led a panel discussion on the theme "Lead Them To Live in Christ." Members of the panel were Mrs. Robert Day and Mrs. French Flynn. The audience was also invited to join in the discussion.

The panel brought out the fact that parent education is very vital to the education of their children and that parents, too, are teachers. The discussion included such questions as, How will our theme lead them to live in Christ, help our children to learn respect, tolerance, good citizenship and a Christian set of values?

Mr. Fiedler then presided over the business meeting which followed. Mrs. George Greenler reported a total profit of $447.06 on the Christmas card sale. Roy Lovekamp reported that tuberculosis tests were available for the school children. A motion was made and seconded that the tests be given at the school.

Mr. Lovekamp also requested that if any of the parents had books at home which are not in use the school would appreciate them for the library. It was announced that the school children would participate in the P.T.R. services beginning Jan. 24. The business meeting was concluded with the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Royal Neighbors Install Officers At Patterson

PATTERSON — Twenty-four members were present Thursday evening when the Royal Neighbor Camp met in regular session in the school auditorium. Mrs. Grace Brown, retiring oracle, presided during the opening of the Camp and the business session. Reports were read by Recorder Nona Owdom.

The installation of the new officers was held. Assistant ceremonial marshal, Bea Taylor, escorted Mrs. Marilyn Ford, installing officer, and Bertha Nicholson, ceremonial marshal to the altar, and presented them to the oracle. Mrs. Helen Bal nserved as installing chancellor and Mrs. Ruth Koontz, guest from the Hillview Camp, was the installing musician.

The following slate of officers was installed to serve for the coming year: oracle, Mary Nagle; past oracle, Grace Brown; vice oracle, Hazel Strowmatt; chancellor, Mildred Wilkinson; recorder, Nona Owdom; receiver, Iva Prindle; marshal, Lida Dawdy; assistant marshal, Bertha Nicholson; inner sentinel, Floy Jenkerson; outer sentinel, Audrey Surbeck.

Present Gifts

After the installation, gifts were presented to the installing officers, and each responded with a word of thanks. The new oracle, Mary Nagle, asked for the cooperation of the new officers in the coming months, and hoped for good attendance. The password drill was then held and the new annual password was given. Closing of the camp and coin collection was then held and the group adjourned to the tables where refreshments of orange cake, coffee and nuts were served by Mrs. Iva Prindle, and Mrs. Mary Lou Burton. Games, with prizes for the winners, followed. Several members received birthday and anniversary gifts from their secret pals. Mrs. Grace Little was awarded the door prize, given by Mrs. Bea Taylor.

Committee for the social hour for the February meeting will be Mrs. Floy Jenkerson and Mrs. Virginia Fitch.

18 Bids Submitted For New Calhoun School

HARDIN, Ill.—Bids for the construction of the new Unit 40 High School at Hardin were opened Tuesday night at a special meeting of the board of education in the auditorium of the high school. Present in addition to the board members and school administrative officers, were architects John Benya and Robert Evans and their associates, contractors, and interested residents of the school unit.

Eighteen bids were received in the four specified categories, general, electrical, plumbing and heating. The board has 30 days in which to accept or reject any or all bids.

A meeting of the board has been called for Saturday night by the president, Paul B. Hanks.

Mr. and Mrs. David McDonald and family visited in Hardin last weekend with his father, Charles McDonald, and other relatives. Charles McDonald was a Sunday dinner guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schneider and family of Grafton.

At this time also, the women will make final plans for the county Auxiliary meeting which will take place in Hardin on Thursday, Jan. 28. A special guest at that meeting will be Mrs. Wesley Ittner of Pittsfield, 20th district director of the organization.

Carrollton Working Hard For New School

CARROLLTON — Another citizens meeting relative to the proposed building program of the Carrollton Community Unit School District will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 27 in the auditorium of the Carrollton grade school at which time a painting of the proposed new addition to the Carrollton grade school will be on display.

Representatives of any organized group in the unit and anyone who desires more information about the coming bond issue of $260,000 to be voted on January 30 are invited to attend.

Following the meeting in which the plan will be explained it will be possible for those interested to make a tour of the old part of the present school building from the basement to the attic.

Show Proposed Sketches

The pictures show elimination of the original school building built in 1889.

The proposed new building is a one story structure with 12 class rooms, office, rest rooms, storage and nurse's room. A new heating plant is also included.

The main entrance is on the east where the new addition would join the present east wing.

Plan New Playground

It is hoped to conduct classes in the older original section of the present school until the new addition is completed. The original portion will then be removed and the ground area will be made into additional playground space.

Built in 1888

The original part of the building was erected after the fire of 1888 destroyed the previous school building. It was occupied from 1890, seventy years ago this past Wednesday. On a tour of inspection January 20, 1960 comments were made about the excellent carpentry of that day as many of the large wooden joists in the attic are still fitted together perfectly with long wooden pins.

This building has served its intended purpose well over the past years. However the amount of wood present in the building, the three story construction, the many flues from room to room and the condition of the heating plant combine to make the building unsafe from the standpoint of fire.

To this can be added the recommended changes in school design and use of building space, the high cost of maintenance of a building of this design where roughly only 50% of the area is used for classrooms.

$260,000 Bond

The special election on the $260,000 bond issue to provide a safer school designed to meet the education needs of the future will be held January 30, 1960 and the polls will be open from 12 noon.

Mrs. Kaufman, Mr. Curtis Show Ways Of Testing

Mrs. Dorothy Kaufmann and Mr. Jack Curtis demonstrated some interesting approaches to intelligence testing of exceptional children at the January meeting of the Jacksonville Chapter of CEC at the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School. Wayne Kester of New Berlin, a student at the Illinois School for the Deaf, was Mrs. Kaufmann's subject, and Steven Lee Seeley of Flora assisted Mr. Curtis in showing methods used with visually handicapped children.

Miss Deliah Newell presided at the business meeting which was chiefly concerned with preparations for the third International Fair to be held at Jonathan Turner Junior High School, March 5. Less Brinegar and William Walsh, Fair Chairmen, asked for special attention to the collection of articles for the Skansen sales booth and to the full page advertisement to appear in the Jacksonville Journal Courier.

Miss Rose McGuire, Mrs. Betty Dietrich and Mrs. Betty Aldridge, members of the Social Committee, acted as hostesses at the social hour which followed the meeting.

Rockets Triumph; Jacks And Blueboys Suffer Defeats

Rockets Hand Tigers 1st Loop Defeat, 66-46

The Routt Rockets handed ISD its first PMSC Conference loss of the season Friday night as they defeated the Tigers by a 66-46 score. The Tigers now have an 11-4 record overall and the Rockets now stand at a 15-3 record overall and a 4-1 conference record.

Even scoring and fast breaking paid off for the Rockets as they started off in the first quarter with deadly accuracy and dropped in 6 points before the Tigers could get their footing. After the Tigers broke the ice the first quarter went about even with the score at the end of the first stanza reading 16-11 for the Rockets.

In the second quarter the Tigers came off the boards better but were still forced to shoot from the outside as the Rocket defense held tight. The Rockets still worked the ball well under the boards and the fast break clicked to keep them ahead as they widened the gap to 12 points at the half with the score reading 39-27 for the Rocket men.

With the opening of the second half the Tigers dominated the boards for the first few minutes of the third quarter but could not drop the ball through. The Routt five poured in 13 tallies for the quarter while the Tigers could only manage 6 and the space continued to widen between the scores as the Rockets led with 54-33 at the end of the third quarter.

As the final quarter opened the Tigers put forth their best efforts in an attempt to overtake the Rockets and outscored the hosts by 1 point but could not overtake the lead, and the game went to the host Rockets by a 66-46 score.

High man of the game was Edwards of the Tigers who had 19 points on 8 field shots and 3 charity tosses. Edwards got 7 of his 19 in the first quarter and 8 in the final quarter. Big gun for the Rockets was Curtis with 15 tallies.

In the preliminary game the victory went to the Tigers with a 50-48 win in double overtime. Jackson made the winning goal in the final seconds of play on a layup to hand the Rockets the loss. Sullivan was high man with 23 points for the Rockets in the preliminary game.

McDonald Grabs Top Scoring Spot

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim McDonald of West Virginia Wesleyan pumped in 146 points in four games last week to take over the lead in the small-college basketball scoring competition, the latest N.C.A.A. Service Bureau statistics disclosed Friday.

McDonald wrested the top position from George Duncan of Wayne State University, who slumped to fifth. McDonald has scored 413 points in 13 games for a 31.8 average. He is followed by Kelly Coleman of Kentucky Wesleyan with 31.3, Don Perrelli of Southern Connecticut State 30.5, Ron Altenberg of Cornell College 28.9 and Duncan, who also has a 28.9 mark but has played in five less games than Altenberg.

Pete Gulden of Washington and Jefferson continues to set the pace in field goal marksmanship. He has hit on 51 of 75 attempts for a .680 slate. P. M. Sanders of Evansville is the leader in free throw accuracy with .944 on 34 conversions in 36 tries. Zelmo Beaty of Prairie View has hauled down .239 of all rebounds in his games to lead in that category.

Mississippi College is the team offense leader with an average of 113.4 points a game. Wittenberg has displayed the best defense with an average yield of 45.8 points for 12 outings.

Michigan State's first varsity fencing team was developed in 1927 under the coaching of Yussef Waffa, an agricultural student from Egypt.

Tigers Have Had Success On Mound With Little Men

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Through the years the Detroit Tigers have had good fortune on the mound with "little" fellows. Tommy Bridges, the great right-hander stood only 5-foot-10. Earl Whitehill was 5-10. Frank Larry and Paul Foytack, at 5-11, are comparatively small as pitchers go.

Now comes another 5-11 hurler aiming for a regular Tiger berth. He is Wyman Carey, a 23-year-old left-hander. The Bradley University grad weighs only 155 pounds but he was the strong man of Birmingham's pitching staff last season.

Carey started the 1959 season at Charleston (W. Va.) and did not join the Barons until May. He won 10 of his first 13 decisions but then bogged down a bit finishing with a 14-11 record.

Other Tiger pitching hopefuls include Gerry Davie, 4 - 8 at Charleston, Joe Grzenda (3-8 at Charleston, Al Pehanick (8-6 at Toronto) and Phil Regan (10-5 at Birmingham).

The Tigers have other youngsters of considerable promise in infielders Steve Boros and Frank Kostro, outfielders George Thomas and Emerit Lindbeck.

Los Angeles Appears Ticketed For NBA Berth

By GEORGE ESPER

A source close to the league's meetings, which are closed, said "Los Angeles will be granted a franchise in the NBA, possibly next season, but definitely in the 1961-62 season."

The source said such a move was brought up informally in the current meetings. League officials said there had been no formal discussion of a West Coast franchise.

The source explained that the NBA would have to act soon since there have been reports of West Coast interests forming their own league if not allowed into the NBA.

Before wrapping up its last session Friday, the owners called on Max Winters, who heads the new Chicago franchise which goes into operation next season, to discuss drafting of players.

Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis already have agreed to relinquish their first draft choices to Chicago.

The league Friday also adopted a new rule that a team's first draft choice cannot be traded without first having a six weeks' tryout and approval of four neutral members of the Board of Governors.

TED'S NECK ACTING UP

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, veteran Boston Red Sox slugger, said Friday "if my neck isn't any better or doesn't improve I won't play ball this season."

He came to Boston to consult Red Sox trainer Jack Fadden about his condition and also to see Bucky Harris, Boston general manager.

The 41-year-old outfielder, whose always-lofty batting average slipped to .254 last season when he suffered a pinched neck nerve, conceded "I've had a little trouble in the neck. I'm sick of it. And I suppose everyone else is."

FRIDAY NIGHT BOX SCORES

MIDWESTERN TOURNEY FINALS

Pittsfield 70 Mt. Sterling 68

BEARDSTOWN — The Pittsfield Indians edged out the Brown County Mt. Sterling five Friday night to take high honors in the Midwestern Tourney with a scoreboard reading of a close 70-68. Four of the Pittsfield squad reached double figures as Curtis made 18, Cantwell 16, Saxbury 14, and Gieger 10.

Although the losing Hornets outshot the Indians from the floor, the charity line was the deciding factor with the Pittsfield five hitting 18 to the Hornets 12.

Beardstown took third place by defeating the Rushville Rockets by a 63-23 score.

Paced by Gary Puck, the Tigers of Beardstown took the lead early in the first quarter and held onto it for the rest of the game. The only other man to hit double figures for the Tigers was Sherrill with 12 tallies. For the 4th place team Demoss led with 10 tallies.

LORAS DROPS FOOTBALL

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—Loras College announced Friday it was dropping football because of increased costs and decreasing gate receipts.

Loras, a Catholic college, has fielded a football team for 53 years, but has won only 13 games in the past six years against 54 losses.

Wildcats Cop Second Straight Tourney Title

WINCHESTER — Guard Eddie Dolen sank eight straight charity tosses in the final two minutes of play to give Winchester a 56-49 verdict over Triopia and the first place trophy in the 38th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament Friday night.

It marked the second straight year that Winchester has annexed its own tourney title and the Wildcats were never behind in repeating as champions again Friday.

Coach Glenn Ambler's Trojans got hot in the third stanza and cut the lead to six tallies but the winners led by ten after three periods, 44-34.

With three minutes remaining in the game, second-seeded Triopia fell behind by five points but watched center Tom Flynn draw his fifth foul. Dolen then decided the championship at the charity line.

The victory was Winchester's 16th in 18 starts while the loss was the second against 11 wins for Triopia.

CLINCH FIRST PLACE

MANILA (AP)—The host Philippines team defeated Nationalist China 96-83 Friday night and clinched first place in the opening round of the Asian Basketball Conference tournament. The triumph was the sixth straight for the unbeaten Philippines while the losers finished with a 5-1 record.

Jared Nourse and Cary Weisiger of Duke finished in a dead heat for the Atlantic Coast Conference cross country crown. The run was held on Duke's golf course.

Yale began the 1959-60 swimming season with a record of 182 straight dual meet victories. The Elis last season won all 13 dual meets.

American League batting champion Harvey Kuenn of Detroit hit .397 in 16 games against the Boston Red Sox last season.

Cardinals Pass Halfway Mark In Pact Business

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The St. Louis Cardinals passed the halfway mark in contract business with receipt Friday of contracts from pitchers Ernie Broglio, Jeoff Long, Mel Nelson and George Stetter.

Broglio got off to a bad start last year, losing his first five games for the Redbirds, and then wound up for the season with a 7-12 mark. He is 24.

Long and Stetter both are 18-year-old first-year men. Nelson, 23, 9-9 at Tulsa last year and 2-0 at Omaha.

The contracts brought to 21 the number of Cardinals who have come to terms. The club still has 20 to sign.

RIDE AND READ

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Five mornings a week a Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train en route to New York stops here and picks up two young women who have an unusual pastime—they publish the train's own newspaper.

The two — Cathy Woolston, 23, and Susan Wilson, 24 — publish the "Secaucus Stopover," which is read by several hundred commuters.

The 2-year-old paper started as an April fool's joke and has been going regularly since.

CHOOSE BOBSLED SITE

CORTINZ D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — Lake Placid in upstate New York was chosen Friday as the site of next year's world bobsled championships. The date will be fixed later.

The decision was taken by the World Congress of the International Bobsled Federation, which met in connection with this year's championships which began here Saturday.

Principia Trips Blueboys, 72-67

ELSAH, Ill. — Illinois College blew two layups in the closing 30 seconds of play trailing by one point and Principia shaded the Blueboys in a Prairie College Conference test Friday night, 72-67.

Coach Bill Merris lost the services of his two big boys, Terry Ransom and Bill Schildman, midway through the second half and this hurt the IC cause. Illinois College never saw the lead although it managed to knot the score, 50-50, during the second half.

The loss was the seventh for IC in 10 starts. Principia gained its fourth win against nine setbacks.

Larry Scott led the IC scoring with 16 points followed by Bill Schildman's 14 markers. Twelve of Bill's points came in the first half.

Bradley Topples Notre Dame, 86-65

CHICAGO (AP) — Bradley's Braves, the nation's No. 2 team, demoralized Notre Dame with a full court press after trailing 25-20 and routed the Irish, 86 to 65, Friday night.

Bradley, which last Saturday up-ended Cincinnati, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press national poll, met brisk resistance from Notre Dame at the outset.

The score was tied six times and Notre Dame was in front by six points, 31-25, before Bradley's full court press went into action. Then, the Braves made the Irish commit error after error and scored 18 points against one for the Irish before the half ended with Bradley ahead 48-39.

Bradley zipped to a 22-point lead, 67-45, early in the second half to make in a runaway.

West Bows To East, 125-115

By NOAH HALPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hot streaks by four different players gave the East All-Stars a 125-115 victory Friday night over the West in the National Basketball Assn. annual classic.

The East went into a lead it never was to lose early in a 33-point second quarter on the tremendous jump shooting of Boston's Bill Sharman and the rebounding of Philadelphia rookie sensation Wilt Chamberlain.

Each time the West threatened after that, the East got lifts from Richie Guerin of New York, Tom Gola of Philadelphia and Chamberlain who easily won the game's Most Valuable Player award.

The 7-foot-1 center was a rebound marvel and continually thrilled the crowd of 10,421 by dunking zone shots and four times blocking opposing players' shots.

Outstanding for the West was Cincinnati's Jack Twyman with 27 points, two more than West teammate Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis. Chamberlain led the East's scorers with 23 points.

Trolling Is Speeded Up

MIAMI, Fla.—(NEA) — Trolling usually is done at speeds of from five to 10 miles an hour.

In the Gulf Stream off the coast of Florida they're now doing it at speeds up to 30 miles an hour—and with great success.

These aquatic hot rodders' craft are medium size, open outboards, which seldom exceed 17 feet in length.

Using light casting tackle and ocean spinning rigs, and trolling plastic popping plugs, they drive the boats along the weed lines far offshore. Action depends entirely upon the surface feeding activities of game fish.

TREPS RETURN

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — (NEA)—Maryland, missing since 1944, is the lone newcomer on the 1960 Penn State grid schedule.

Crimsons Look Better In Loss To Eisenhower

Jacksonville High probably played its best game of the season for three quarters but then fell down in the final period and Eisenhower administered JHS' 11th straight defeat Friday night before a slim gathering at the Bowl, 63-46.

The Crimsons made fewer mistakes and as a result of their efforts they were able to stay in the game for three quarters but the Panthers of Decatur came on to register 19 points in the final canto while holding Jacksonville to nine markers.

Pacing the winners to victory number eight in 12 starts was center Jerry Nixon, who was a tower of strength under the boards and in the scoring column with 24 points.

Coach John Chapman's five never saw the lead after Eubanks connected 50 seconds following the opening tip-off. The Jacks came within one point of the lead four times in the first half but lacked that extra thrust to go ahead.

The Panthers went ahead by six in the waning minutes of the second stanza but Jacksonville controlled the defensive boards and threatened to overtake the margin with 1:36 remaining, 24-22, but Nixon and Eubanks helped Eisenhower into a 31-24 halftime spread.

The Crimsons also had a big chance in the third period when the Panthers collected only three points in 3:58 of play but JHS began to make spotty mistakes and Eisenhower led by seven after three quarters, 44-37.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

© 1959 by Clarence Budington Kelland © 1959 by The Curtis Publishing Company Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: A medicine show has arrived in Syracuse, compounding the sensational developments recently. Among the latter was the discovery of the Cardiff Giant, the arrival of beautiful, mysterious and rich Madam Cissie Janeway, and the murdered body of an unknown man found in the Applegate barn.

Maybe unusual good fortune was ours on our first adventure among these folks. Moored to the spikes was an 80-foot canal boat embellished by a wide red stripe around its belly. Its name was Lizzie Ann, and lounging near its stern were two people—an enormous, broad-shouldered man with a spreading, golden beard, and a tiny, neat figure of a woman in calico, with cameo-like features and the reddest hair I ever have seen.

I had no desire to go onto their boat, but the decision was taken from me. The little woman removed the pipe from her mouth and squinted at us and said, in as soft and musical a voice as ever came to my ears, "Good day to you, moppet."

"Good day, ma'am," Lossie said politely, and I snatched off my cap.

"P'lite," said the big man to the little woman.

"As all git aut," said the woman. . . "You like ginger cookies, you two?"

"Very much indeed," Lossie answered.

"Then come aboard," the woman said. "Zacharias, you fetch up a plate of them gingers and couple glasses of milk. What's your name, moppet?"

"Lossie Fox."

"Orrin Applegate.

The yellow-haired giant returned with a plate piled high with ginger cookies and two mugs of milk.

"Mine was named Lizzie Ann," the woman said. "She took sick 'n died."

"Boat's named fur her," Zacharias explained.

"I calc'late," said the woman to Lossie, "I'll call ye Lizzie Ann. It kind of comforts me to purtend fur a spell."

"That will be nice," Lossie said through a mouthful of cooky. "And what may we call you, ma'am?"

"I'd be gratified if you'd call me maw," the woman said. "But the name they call me by length and breadth of the canawl is Zach Wheelright's woman."

We went home, but it did not seem advisable to tell our parents about where we had been or what we had talked about.

We heard, I'm afraid, much talk that was not fit for Lossie's ears—or for mine, for that matter. But it didn't seem wicked to us because, probably, it wasn't spoken with wicked intent by the canawlers, but was just the way they talked.

We went out to get my lunch and strolled down toward the basin and there, just pulling in, was the Lizzie Ann. I hurried home and around to the side of Lossie's house and whistled our urgent whistle. She stuck her head out of her bedroom window, and I beckoned and said, "They're tied up in the basin."

"Be right down," she said, and we hurried down and along the towpath to the basin and jumped aboard the Lizzie Ann. Zach and his woman were just sitting down to eat, and the driver was there. When they saw us, Zach let out a great whoop, and in a twinkling there were two more places and we were eating as finely cooked a mea, as ever passed my lips.

"If you're going to be in till morning," Lossie said, "you ought to go up and see the medicine show. It's free."

"Medicine show!" Zach said ruminatively. "The's medicine shows 'n' medicine shows. This one got a tooth puller?"

"Quickest you ever saw," Lossie said.

"And maybe——" Zach said more slowly, looking at me under his bushy brows in a shrewd, sly manner. "And maybe a gent that stands off and throws knives at his woman, and her standin' against a board?"

"No, Mr. Wheelright," Lossie said, "there's no knife thrower."

"If they was sich a one," Zach said ponderously, "I'd advise ye emphatic to stay away from there like the' was smallpox."

"That's right, Lissie Ann," said Zach's woman. "Him that Zach refers to has got rattlesnake pizen in his veins instid of blood. My man don't back off from nobody along the canawl from Troy to Buffalo, but he gives ground to that livin' skeleton, and don't take no shame fur it."

"Wide shoulders and skinny arms and legs and a head like a death's head?" asked Lossie.

"That's the spittin' image of him," Zach said. "And the funny thing! His woman that he throwed knives at was sweet 'n' perty as a princess in one of them fairy stories."

Late in the afternoon, Lossie and I shook hands all around and went home to supper, because there would have had to be explanations if we absented ourselves.

"Do you suppose," I asked, "that Mr Wheelright's knife thrower and Madam Janeway's Oscar are one and the same?"

"Well, now, Orrin," she said, and became patronizing, as she did when she wanted to irritate me, "I should just hazard a guess that, as Madam's attorney-at-law and counselor in chancery, you would stay away from wanting the answer to that question."

I sometimes have an uncomfortable feeling that Lossie is far shrewder than I, though she is younger and a girl to boot.

Greenfield OES Honors Former Matrons, Patrons

GREENFIELD— Eastern Star chapter No. 424, held its regular meeting Tuesday night and honored the past worthy matrons and patrons.

A short program in their honor was presented by Worthy Matron Thelma Parks and officers of the chapter. Past Worthy Matron Dorothy Converse was honored guest.

Those attending were past matrons, Doll S. Duncan, Jessie Wilhite, Mildred Bauer, Evelyn Roth, Rosetta Twitchell.

Past patrons Jesse B. Parks, Amol Greer, Kenneth Parks, Martin Roth and J. Russell Shields.

Gifts were presented to each. Mary Hill was chairman of the hostess committee.

Several letters were read from those unable to attend. Mrs. Mae Griswold was appointed general chairman of the serving of a turkey banquet at the Masonic Award dinner, honoring William Franklin Parks, who will be presented a 50 year Jewel, by Grand Master Paul R. Stephens of Rushville Friday night, Feb. 12.

Semester exams were held in the Greenfield schools Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Extra curricular activities were held to a minimum.

Plans are being made for a local "Music Festival" this spring. Representatives of neighboring schools have been meeting with the local group to complete arrangements for the event. Time and place of the festival will be announced later.

A group of Greenfield Junior-Senior high students has been selected to participate in the annual All-State Music Activity at the University of Illinois in Urbana in February.

Selected from the local schools are, Carolyn Sample, Junior high, who will play the saxophone; Nancy Elmore, senior high band, cornet; and Judy Hutchison, Marilyn Jouett, Gary Bettis and Roger Arras, in the choral group. Ben Strode is vocal music director and Jerome Ruble, instrumental director.

Mrs. Harland D. Edwards was hostess at a meeting of the Tau Upsilon Club Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Margareta Owens has returned from Boyd Memorial hospital and is being cared for at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Glenn C. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Spencer have been visiting at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Waltrip and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Waltrip and families in Jacksonville.

Miss Eunice Foster of Chicago has returned home after being called here owing to the death of Mrs. O. J. Bott. Mrs. Oakley B. Rives, aunt of Mrs. Bott, has returned to her home in Chicago after visiting here with her brother, Fred L. Bauer and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bauer and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowman. Dale B. Haven, sister of Mrs. Bott has returned to his home in Bowling Green, Ohio.

The fire company was called to the home of Fred Becker Monday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in a mattress.

The monthly family night meeting of the Union community, north of Greenfield, was held Friday night in the Union Hall. A potluck supper was served preceding the meeting.

William Powell a retired farmer residing just south of this city was taken ill suddenly Wednesday at 10 p.m. and was taken by Shields ambulance to the Boyd hospital in Carrollton.

Mrs. Ellen Gaffney of Rockbridge has been presented with a certificate of Appointment as acting postmaster of the Rockbridge postoffice on Jan. 13. The presentation was made by Palmer G. Boyle, Field Service Officer of Decatur.

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"You had your nerve, Herman Quigley, having that safe driving award made out in your name!"

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"I know I'm getting the chorus mixed up, but who said this was Carnegie Hall?"

AWD AUXILIARY ENTERTAINS VETS AT STATE HOSPITAL

The American War Dads and Auxiliary held a monthly party for veterans in ward five, Veterans Diagnostic Building, Jacksonville State Hospital last week. Cookies and coffee were served.

Mrs. Opal Bends, hospital chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Bertha Haxel, Mrs. Virginia Vasconcellos, Mrs. Nelle Wandell of the Auxiliary and Bill Graubner of the Dads; Mrs. Marge Marsha and Mrs. Frances Barger were staff visitors.

The regular meeting of the Dads and Auxiliary will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 26, at the American Legion Home. The Auxiliary members are reminded prizes are in order.

State Bank Has Annual Meeting At Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE — Directors and officers of the State Bank of Jerseyville were re-eletced at the annual meeting of the stockholders held Wednesday morning at the bank, and a very successful year was reported at the meeting.

Paul Fleming who has been president of the bank since 1954 was renamed to this post. Other officers re-elected were: R. Leo Smith and Leslie K. Jacoby, vice presidents; J. Maurice Burns, cashier; Fred C. Herold, Fred Pratt and Miss Edith Catt, assistant cashiers.

During the business session five directors were re-elected. They are: R. L. Smith, Leslie K. Jacoby, J. M. Burns, and Paul Fleming of Jerseyville; and Judge William Fleming of East St. Louis.

The personnel of the bank's employees remains the same. They include Miss Bertha Wagner and Mrs. Herbert Wiseheart, tellers; Mrs. Charles Henson, Mrs. Jerry Zimmerman, Mrs. Fred McFain and Miss Beatrice Powers, bookkeepers; Miss Verna Rother, clerk; Miss Charlotte Pritchett, secretary and Leonard Riley, custodian.

Xi Lambda To Have Dinner Meeting Feb. 1

Xi Lambda chapter of Beta Phi met at the home of Margaret Fitzpatrick, 922 W. College, on Monday evening, Eva Daniels, president, conducted the business meeting.

The club voted to send a donation to Literacy Village and to have volunteers to help with the Heart Drive on Sun., Feb. 28. Margaret Fitzpatrick reported on the City Council meeting. Xi Lambda will sponsor three Brownie Scouts at Jefferson school.

During the social hour prizes were awarded to Eva Daniels, Ina Stewart and Ruth Ranson. The hostesses served refreshments.

Newcomers Club Holds Regular Meeting Tuesday

A request was made for volunteers to help with canvassing on Heart Sunday, Feb. 28. Plans were also made for having a white elephant auction at the March meeting.

A program of songs and dances was presented by Dianne Sassenberger, Kathy Bradshaw, Cheryl Jane Grant and Glenn Helwig.

by DON SHUMAKER

Maybe you've thought up an idea for a story that would make a good TV series Don't buy a ticket for Hollywood yet, because TV production is one of the biggest gambles in business. Here's how a new series is born. First, a screen writer has to put your idea down on paper, either as a "treatment" — a prose synopsis of a typical episode, or as a "shooting script"—complete with dialogue, camera angles, etc. The writer's fee for the job will range to almost $1,000. And just one story isn't enough . . . you'll need two or three others.

The script is called a "pilot" . . . but a sponsor won't buy a pilot script. The producer you find must first shoot a "pilot" film, or a complete sample program of the show. The average cost for a half-hour pilot is around $50,000. And an hour show naturally, would be higher. "Wagon Train", for instance, costs about $100,000 an episode. And when and if the pilot is done, a sponsor must be found. Possibly one out of 200 will make the grade. Not very good odds on such an investment. What happens to the films that don't make it? In the business they say, "We could make lots of nice guitar picks out of it." And that's show business. And it's our business here at Shumaker's to make available to you the best TV set on the market. That's why we feature RCA Victor . . . its extra picture and sound fidelity assure you of maximum viewing enjoyment. Come in for a demonstration of the new 1960 models on display here. ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
Wednesday, February 3, 1960

at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P. M., Central Standard Time, at the residence of the late Percie B. Evans, on North Walnut Street in the City of Winchester, Scott County, Illinois, sell at public auction all the right, title and interest of Percie B. Evans, now deceased, in and to the following described premises:

The South Half of the following described tract or parcel of land in the West Half of the Northeast Quarter of Section 29 in Township 14, North and Range 12, West of the Third Principal Meridian in the County of Scott and State of Illinois, to-wit: Beginning at a point 20 feet West and 100 feet South of the Northwest corner of Lot A in North Winchester, thence running due South on the East line of Walnut Street 185½ feet, thence due East 105 feet to the West line of a parcel of land known as the Starkey R. Powell homestead, now owned and occupied by Tracy Johnson, thence due North on the West line of said Powell parcel to a point due East of the place of beginning and thence West to the place of beginning, intending hereby to describe the same premises conveyed to Priscilla Jane Holliday by Martha Ebey and husband by warranty deed dated February 20, 1911, and recorded in Book 18 of Deeds, page 345 in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of said county.

TERMS OF SALE
The purchaser or purchasers will pay twenty-five percent (25%) of the purchase price on the day of sale; balance on approval of the sale by the court and delivery of the administrator's deed; subject to the rights of any and all parties in possession; subject to any and all taxes levied against said premises and unpaid, which taxes the purchaser shall pay. Administrator's deed to be delivered to purchaser or purchasers on appoval of the sale by the Court and compliance with the terms of sale. Abstract of title will be furnished and is available for inspection at the office of the attorneys.

At 1:30 P. M. of the same day and at the same place said Administrator will sell at public auction the household goods and personal property of said decedent.

AN OLD FRIEND GETS A NEW NAME

YES, WE'VE CHANGED OUR NAME!
As a farmer you will be interested to know that we changed the name of our local offices to Federal Land Bank Associations on January 1, 1960.
We believe the new name will more closely identify local associations with the Federal Land Bank System.
